Mayor Welcomes Kiwanis Delegates In Convention Here

Seven Hundred Men and Women Registered for Northwestern District Conference; Splendid Work of Kiwanis Clubs Praised By Mayor Anscomb; International President Crossman Attends Proceedings.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Pacific Northwest District of Kiwanis International opened this morning at the Empress Hotel, with nearly 700 delegates and ladies attending. A civic welcome was extended by Mayor Herbert Anscomb, who reviewed the public services given by the Victoria Kiwanis Club.

His Worship touched upon the important achievements attained by the service clubs, citing as examples the provision by Victoria Kiwanians of two wading pools for children at two of the city's parks, the erection of a headquarters building for the Boy Scouts' Association, the annual organization of the sale of tuberculosis stamps and the notable contribution made by the Victoria Kiwanis Club towards the new buildings of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

FREEDOM OF THE CITY

His Worship extended the freedom of the city, to the ladies attending the convention and also described a number of the city's scenic attractions.

G. H. Stevens, president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, briefly extended a club welcome to the delegates, and C. F. Riddell of Seattle, past district governor, replied on behalf of the convention.

The chair was taken by C. F. Walker of Portland, district governor, and the proceedings were preceded by singing of "O Canada" and "The Star Spangled Banner," following the Rotarian remarks the Port Angeles Kiwanis Club presented the drum corps of American Legion Post 29 of Port Angeles, which provided a drum number as a stunt.

INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT

Raymond M. Crossman, president of Kiwanis International, spoke on "Kiwanis Goals for the Year Ahead," illustrating his points with brief humorous stories. Citing the golf learner's instruction to first practice to get direction and secondly to acquire distance, Mr. Crossman said such methods were essential to success by Kiwanis Clubs. He pointed to the methods of Byrd's Antarctic exploration party as also applicable to Kiwanis Clubs, placing stress on particular objectives to be attained.

Mr. Crossman suggested that club officers be given special training in Kiwanis work, the instructors being the district officers. Such training could be given club officers before they assumed office. He also urged that all Kiwanians take an active interest in one or more of the five major Kiwanis objective, declaring too few take a personal interest in the objectives.

Larger memberships in existing clubs were favored by Governor Crossman.

Reeve Crouch Calls Public Meetings to Consider $110,000 Scheme

Replacement of Old Wooden Walks With Asphalt Proposed in Urban Wards

A programme of permanent asphaltic sidewalks, costing $100,000, will this week be presented to the ratepayers of wards two and seven of Saanich by Reeve William Crouch. The existing wooden walks will be torn up and replaced at a cost of $1.35 per lot annually for ten years if the programme is approved by the ratepayers.

Public meetings for discussion of the improvement will be held as follows: Wednesday at Tillicum School, Thursday at St. Mark's Hall, and Friday at Cloverdale School. All meetings will commence at 8 o'clock. Maps will be presented showing the streets to be improved.

The scheme proposes one walk on each street now served by wooden walks, and if public approval becomes evident the necessary by-law will be speeded through preliminary stages to enable a vote to be taken before the Union of B.C. Municipalities' convention takes place in October.

Reeve Crouch has mailed over 2,000 explanatory letters to ratepayers in the two wards, recommending the work be done as a local improvement.

NEW HOSPITAL HEAD

Montreal, Sept. 15.—Having accepted a position as general superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, Dr. A. K. Haywood, who has held a similar post with the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen years, will leave for the west in mid-October.

BROMLEY IS TO TRY AGAIN

Pilot and Navigator Back in Japan After Failure of First Tacoma Jump

Gasoline Feed Break and Unfavorable Weather Turned Machine Back

Canadian Press

Tanabe, Aomori, Japan, Sept. 15—Still defying the series of misfortunes preventing him from flying across the Pacific, Harold L. Bromley this evening told a Rengo news agency reporter he would continue his efforts to span the ocean to Tacoma by airplane.

Bromley said a broken gasoline feed pipe was the decisive factor in causing him to turn back and land here today after having flown several hundred miles eastward in his attempted nonstop dash to Tacoma, but that "adverse elements" contributed to the decision.

ALTERNATED AT CONTROLS

The break, Bromley said, was noticed late Sunday off the Kamchatka Peninsula, when gasoline began spraying him, chafing his face and inflaming his eyes. Bromley said he and his navigator, Harold Gatty, alternated at the controls throughout the night, suffering great discomfort.

Soon after the landing near here at 6 o'clock this morning (1 p.m. Sunday, Victoria time), a physician treated the fliers' eyes, but found no permanent injury.

MUST BE DUG OUT

Tanabe is the nearest railway and telegraph station and the roads to Shirsukari are impassable by automobile. Japanese experts said it would take several days to dig the plane out and refit it for the short flight to Samishiro Beach. It was from the latter place Bromley and Gatty started early Sunday, and the site which he probably will choose if he takes off again.

The fliers estimated they had covered 1,200 miles before turning back, and had traveled a total of 2,400 miles when they landed near here. They said their gasoline supply would have been sufficient to reach Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands.

Seattle Sept. 15.—Valentine Gephart, technical officer of the national contest committee of the National Aeronautic Association in this section, on reading press reports of the outcome of Lieut. Harold Bromley's projected transpacific flight, issued the following statement here yesterday evening:—

"This flight was sanctioned because it was represented to the association Bromley was carrying a navigator who was known to us to be reliable, and because he had represented to us the plane could carry sufficient gasoline to make the trip.

Bennett Ministry Chooses Industries For Higher Tariff

Reports Say Boot and Shoe, Cotton, Automobile and Woolen Manufacturers Included in Numerous Interests to Be Given Increased Duties

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Canadian key industries and minor branches of trade and manufacture will be given higher protective tariff duties in the changes to be announced in the Commons this week, according to well-informed circles here.

The boot and shoe, cotton, automobile and woolen industries are likely to be included in the long list of duty changes which will number about 200. Many of the other textile tariff items will be affected in the upward revision, it is said.

Announcement of the expected changes will be made to-day or Tuesday in all likelihood. When the official statement is made it will come from Premier R. B. Bennet as Minister of Finance.

NO HORIZONTAL PLAN

The original plan for a horizontal increase in the tariff, with a long list of exceptions stipulated, is understood to have been laid aside after consideration. Each industry affected will be dealt with on the merts of the particular case, it is said. In certain instances, an increase of five per cent, in many ten per cent and in certain ones fifteen per cent increase in tariff may be announced. All the changes will be proposed, it is learned, as a result of a survey into the individual industries. With the assistance of cer-

VALUATION FOR DUTIES EXPLAINED

Ryckman Outlines to Commons Proposed Changes in Customs Act

Canadian Press

Resuming his explanation of the proposed changes in the Customs Act in respect to dumping where he left off Friday night, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, told the Commons this afternoon the object of the changes was to set the fair market value of imported good for duty purposes at not less than the wholesaler's or jobber's price in the country of origin.

He had received a telegram, he said, saying that was not going far enough to stop dumping.

The Government, however, he said, was convinced the measure to be introduced would stop dumping so far as it was humanly possible. In some cases that had come to his knowledge, the minister stated, discounts as high as 86 per cent had been allowed Canadian importers of dumped goods. This was done by the manufacturers of standard articles who found trade bad in their own fields but wished to avoid cutting prices in the domestic market.

TO THE TREASURY

"We mean to make these people pay a reasonable sum to the national revenue and at the same time protect our own producers," said Mr. Ryckman.

The present law, the minister explained, gave the Governor-in-Council the right to fix the fair market value of natural products where it appeared goods were being imported into Canada under conditions which prejudicially effected Canadian producers.

The text of the dumping clause resolution is:

"Resolved, that it is expedient to amend the Customs Act in respect to the provisions relating to the fair mar-

Defender's Lead In Race To-day Almost Three Miles Over Lipton's Shamrock

Enterprise Finishes Second of America's Cup Race Series Nine Minutes, Forty-nine Seconds Ahead of Shamrock V; Challenger Yield's Lead to Vanderbilt's Sloop at Start and Is Unable to Overtake It On Any Part of Triangular Course.

By Thomas Morgan
Associated Press Writer

U.S.S. Cane, off America's Cup course, Sept. 15 (By Radio to the Associated Press) — Enterprise, a slim white ghost in billowing robes, to-day proved her superiority for the second time over Sir Lipton's Shamrock V.

First away from the starting line, the defender led at every mark, gradually increasing her margin until at the finish she was almost three miles in the lead.

CROSSED BOW

Enterprise took a lead that in the first fifteen minutes enabled her to cross the bow of the Challenger and on the long beat to windward to the first turning mark ten miles away she stayed in the strategic position to windward, meeting every tack of the Shamrock with a countering move.

The chart of the race showed Enterprise leading by six minutes and fifty seconds at the first turn, by nine minutes and ten seconds at the twenty-mile mark, and by nine minutes and forty-nine seconds at the finish.

It was only on the last leg, a ten-mile reach, that Shamrock held her own with Enterprise, and both sloops were merely running out the race by then, the green hulled Challenger so far behind that its cause was hopeless.

SPINNAKERS DOUSED

Enterprise also pulled in her big wing several hundred yards before the finish.

The race started in a light mist and ended in a dense haze, but for the most of the way there was a bright sun shining and a ten-knot breeze blowing.

The spectator fleet was much smaller than that which witnessed Saturday's race, when Enterprise slipped through the fog to beat Shamrock across the finish line by almost three minutes, but there were enough out to-day to keep the patrol boats busy.

GREAT SPECTACLE

The naval armada made a beautiful spectacle as it stretched out on either side of the two racing craft, or sped ahead to group around the turns and at the finish line.

Whatever the weather, it seems Enterprise is a better boat. With the wind or against it, on a reach or on a tack, she outsailed Shamrock V. in winds ranging from a faint breeze of not more than four knots to a light wind of ten or eleven.

Quite a controversy has raged among the experts as to which boat was the better sailer in light airs. It was to-day's encounter that should leave no doubt in anyone's mind.

Enterprise sailed much more steadily to-day than Shamrock, and she rode a cross swell during the second leg that was sending spray across the bow of the green hulled Lipton sloop.

To-day's sailing was around a triangular course, ten miles to windward, a reach of ten miles with the wind almost on the beam, and then a ten mile run home with the wind almost dead astern.

The third race will be run to-morrow unless one of the yachts should ask a postponement of a day.

The series is the best four out of seven.

U.S.S. Kane, off America's Cup Course, Sept. 15.—(By Radio to the Associated Press). The second of the series of races for the historic America's Cup got under way at 10.40 a.m. eastern standard time to-day, exactly on schedule (7.40 a.m. Victoria time).

The course signalled was ten miles west-southwest, ten miles southeast by east and a final ten miles north by east.

Premier Says Government Inquires Into Importation of Russian Coal

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Important announcements were made by Premier R. B. Bennett when the House of Commons resumed its sittings this afternoon. He said he promised to make a statement before the House rises on the question of appointing a High Commissioner for Canada in Great Britain and a Canadian Minister to Washington.

Mr. Bennett also announced that the government's attitude respecting importations of Soviet Russian coal would be stated during consideration of measures this session. Inquiries into these importations had already been made. He was replying to a question of E. J. Garland, U.F.A., Bow River.

BEAUHARNOIS PLAN

It was revealed by the Prime Minister that a departmental inquiry is under way in respect to the Beauharnois power project near Montreal. But until the result of the inquiry is received, the government, said Mr. Bennett, had nothing additional to state. This, also, was in answer to a question from Mr. Garland.

TO SPEED BUSINESS

A motion put forward by the Prime Minister, the effect of which would be to deprive members of their Wednesday evening off, was then taken up E. J. Young, Liberal, Weyburn, protested, but the motion carried, and the commoners will sit on Wednesday night as on other nights.

TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT DELAYED

Canadian Press

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sept. 15.—The transatlantic monoplane Columbia remained weather-bound to-day. It will leave for Harbor Grace, Nfld., to-morrow morning if conditions permit.

Capt. Erroll Boyd, Canadian flier, who with Lieut. Harry Connor of the United States, was forced back to Charlottetown by head winds after leaving St. Hubert airport, near Montreal, Saturday, for Harbor Grace, said weather reports he had received cautioned him against taking off to-day.

The two fliers landed in an ordinary field four miles from here Saturday after being in the air ten hours.

Thep hope to fly from Newfoundland to Croydon, England.

EVERETT BANK IS ROBBED BY SIX BANDITS

Gang Reported Headed for Seattle in Auto After Daring $10,000 Hold-up

Canadian Press

Everett, Wash., Sept. 15.—Six men armed with sub-machine guns held up the Citizens' Security Bank here at 12.20 p.m. to-day and escaped after cleaning the cash out of the teller's trays and the vault. Patrons and bank employees were lined up against the wall during the holdup.

Bank officials said after a hurried check that $10,000 had been taken About fifty persons, employees and patrons, were in the bank.

The men drove away in a car bearing license plates numbered 236-281, witnesses said. The car was described as a Ford or a new Studebaker. It was believed headed for Seattle.

One man remained at the wheel and another outside the bank with a gun at his shoulder. The four others entered; and while one held the employees and patrons at bay, three took the money.

AUSTRALIANS DECLARE FOR DISARMAMENT

Preparedness Is Incentive to War, Attorney-General Tells League Assembly

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Geneva, Sept. 15.—Before the Assembly of the League of Nations to-day, Australia rejected the theory that preparedness for war is the best guarantee of peace."

Preparedness is often an incentive to war," declared Hon. Frank Brennan, Attorney-General of the Commonwealth. "Australia is prepared only for peace and our policy is one of defence alone.

His country had gladly subscribed to the Kellogg anti-war pact, said Mr. Brennan, to give practical proof of its earnestness.

"We have drawn our pen through the schedule of military expenditures with unprecedented firmness," e xclaimed the Australian delegate. We have reversed the policy which existed in Australia twenty-five years ago of compelling the young to learn the art of war.

"Security, it is said, must precede disarmament, but it is also true there can be no real security so long as the present scale of armaments continues."

TARIFF QUESTION

Geneva, Sept. 15.—Frank Brennan, chief delegate of Australia to the Assembly of the League of Nations here, told that body Australia was solidly committed to a policy of "ultimate complete disarmament and outlawry of war."

EIGHTEEN RELIABILITY TOUR PLANES CROSS THE PRAIRIES

Brandon, Man., Sept. 15.—Eighteen contesting planes in the Ford Reliability Tour started to move westward from here at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Headed west, after an overnight stop in Winnipeg, Captain Frank Hawks, famed transcontinental flier and his squadron of Reliability Tour planes, took off from Stevenson Field here shortly before 10 a.m. to-day.

The first stop was scheduled for Brandon, Man., 154 miles to the west, and from there the eighteen contestants planned to wing their way to Regina.

Ten thousand fans looked on yesterday as the eighteen planes competing in the 4,700-mile air tour roared out of grey southern skies and landed on Stevenson Field. Without mishap, the sky armada had completed the jump from Duluth, Minn., to Winnipeg, just before a rainstorm broke.

Piloting his Travelair "Mystery Ship," Capt. Frank Hawks arrived in the van of the aerial tourists at 2.45 o'clock. By the time the Waco biplanes manned by Pilot John Livingston and Pilot Arthur Davis, swooped down on the field, the transcontinental air-record was installed on the judge's stand. Capt. Hawks is official referee of the tour, which started Friday from Detroit, Mich.

From Regina the planes are to fly to Calgary and Edmonton. They are scheduled then to hop south to the United States.

ELEVEN PERSONS KILLED BY AUTOS

Toronto, Sept. 15.—Sixteen persons lost their lives in Ontario and Quebec over the week-end in automobile accidents and drownings. A freak electrical storm swept over part of southern Ontario, leaving in its wake a trail of wreckage. Lighting destroyed buildings and levelled trees.

In Quebec seven of the fatalities were caused by auto crashes. In Ontario traffic accidents resulted in the loss of four lives and drownings claimed two.

Bennett Informs U.S. Government St. Lawrence Negotiations Will Be Taken Up After Imperial Conference

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The United States government has been informed Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, intends taking up the St. Lawrence waterway question immediately on his return from the Imperial Conference in London in November. He would then communicate further. This is the effect of the Canadian reply to a United States note dated September 2.

Both documents were tabled in the House of Commons by Mr. Bennett this afternoon. The United States Minister to Canada, and Canada's reply, carries Mr. Bennett's signature.

BRIEF NOTES

The two notes were very brief. On behalf of his government, Mr. MacNider informed Mr. Bennett President Hoover had instructed him to inquire whether Canada was now ready to

BROMLEYS WERE SAD WHEN NEWS OF FAILURE CAME

Parents of Harold Glad to Know of His Safety But Sorry He Failed

"Will Hope for Best Next Time," Says Mother; Little Sleep Saturday

There was considerable disappointment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bromley yesterday evening when word came that their son, Harold, had been forced to return to Japan after being in the air over twenty-four hours on his effort to span the Pacific.

Although they were glad to know that Harold and his navigator, Harold Gatty, were safe they were sorry that their son had again encountered misfortune.

"The boys will be terribly disappointed," said Mrs. Bromley. "Harold has tried so hard and has had so many disappointments that we feel very badly over it."

The Bromleys wert greatly relieved when informed early yesterday evening by The Times that the fliers were safe For ten hours they had been without word although they sat close to the radio. One report came through that the big monoplane City of Tacoma was 2,000 miles from Tokio and going strong, and another reported it had

GERMANS ARE SURPRISED BY POLLS RESULT

Fascists in New Reichstag Will Total 107; Socialists Top List With 143

Parliament's Course Will Be Decided by Great Coalitions

Canadian Press

Berlin, Sept. 15.—A startled Germany to-day swept its littered streets free of political handbills and set to studying what to do with a Reichstag in which Adolph Hitler's Fascist Party suddenly had been multiplied by nine to a representation of 107 members.

Press and politicians, still somewhat stunned by the sensational and unexpected gains, which more than doubled even the wildest predictions of the Hitlerites themselves, were forced to turn their attention immediately to the problem of finding a parliamentary majority with which the government could be carried on in the face of radical opposition from both left and right.

34,000,000 VOTED

Germany saw more than 34,000,000 of her inhabitants go to the polls yesterday in the most interesting and surprising balloting of the five elections under the republic.

Chancellor Bruening witnessed the diminution of his Centrist movement and the ascendancy to the top of the list, with not less than 143 delegates, of the Socialist Party in the next Reichstag. Together with this a wholly unexpected increase in Communist strength was manifested, the result being the election of seventy-six members under that banner.

TWO COALITIONS

The forthcoming German parliament will be one in which two huge coalitions must decide Germany's course.

According to corrected official figures the Reichstag seats will be distributed as follows:

Communists, 76.
Centrists, 68.
German Nationals, 41.
People's Party, 29
Economic Party, 23.
State Party, 20.
Bavarian Parties, 19.
Farmers' League, 18.
Christian Socialists, 14.
Peasants' Party, 6.
Hanoverians, 3.
Landbund, 3.
Conservatives, 5.

Berlin, Sept. 15.—Dr. Joseph Wirth, Minister of the Interior in the Cabinet of Chancellor Bruening, commented on the results of the general election in Germany yesterday as follows:

"Radicalism won a battle. The government remains on the battlefield, ruling by will of the people."

Chancellor Bruening, who had not at mid-afternoon commented on the election outcome, visited President Hindenburg to discuss the political situation.

TAKEN PHILOSOPHICALLY

Paris, Sept. 15.—The result of yesterday's general election in Germany came as something of a shock to French official circles because while changes in the respective positions of parties were expected, success of the extreme Nationalists went beyond expectations.

The result is taken philosophically, however, and there is a tendency to count on divisions between different Nationalist groups to make possible a continuation of a coalition such as governed Germany under the preceding Reichstag. The opinion expressed in official circles to-day was the German Nationalists could not form a government without co-operation of the Socialists.

As to the final consequences, observers remarked the election had not turned entirely on questions of national or international policies, but had been influenced, as was the French election in 1924, by discontent of the taxpayers. Consequently, it is thought impossible to form final judgment until the Reichstag meets, and mutual concessions are made to obtain a government majority.

encountered fog. Then came the long silence.

The Bromleys, while quite confident that Harold would bring his plane safely through, were unable to sleep very much on Saturday night as they thought of their boy far out on the Pacific flying through the inky darkness with only the little lights on his instrument board to guide him.

Last night, however, after they knew the boys were safe and the disappointment had passed, they slept much better.

Now they are awaiting further developments. Mrs. Bromley said she still felt that her son would be successful in making the trip and "I will hope for the best next time."

REDUCTION IN WAR DEBT IS DISCUSSED

New York Times Says British Representatives Sounded Out Sentiment

Rumored U.S. Officials Not Favorably Disposed Toward the Plan

Canadian Press

New York, Sept. 15.—The New York Herald-Tribune, in a dispatch from its Washington Bureau, says in part:

"Sir Warren Fisher, permanent secretary of the British Treasury, and Thomas Jones, secretary to Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, have been in Washington for several days, it was learned to-day conferring with State Department officials. They were accompanied by A. B. Houghton of New York, former United States Ambassador to Great Britain.

"Although announcements here stated the purpose of the visit was to view historic United States mansions, private cable advices from London disclosed their principal mission in this country was to sound out sentiment on the question of a reduction in the war debt.

VISITED NEW YORK

"It was disclosed here that Mr. Jones and Sir Warren had passed several weeks in New York as the house guests of Mr. Houghton before coming to Washington the middle of last week. According to normally reliable quarters here, they discussed the subject of debt reduction with the principal New York bankers before sounding out official sentiment on the same subject.

"The principal conferences in Washington were held with William H. Castle Jr., Assistant Secretary of State. Mr. Castle is well acquainted with conditions in Europe. While no official announcement was forthcoming from the State Department, it was understood the British visitors received no encouragement. Whether Treasury officials were interviewed could not be ascertained.

WORLD SITUATION

"Sir Warren and Mr. Jones, it was said, put the proposal of debt reduction on the basis of the world economic situation. They pointed out, according to reliable information, that existing conditions were due partly to the burden the European Governments were carrying in attempting to repay the debts they incurred in the United States during the war. Removal of part of that burden, they held, would have an instantaneous favorable effect in all markets.

ELECTION PROSPECTS

"Another factor is known to be the political situation in Great Britain. It is not known whether it was mentioned, but the MacDonald Government will face another election soon. The Labor Government believes it could not go before the British electorate with a better argument than that it had succeeded, where other governments had failed, in having the United States reduce war debt. Mr. MacDonald's promise to bring about an agreement for reduction of naval armaments was an important factor in his elevation to power in the last election."

HENRY GEORGE REPORT GIVEN

Alexander Hamilton Tells Local Members of San Francisco Convention

Members of the Henry George Society of Victoria to-day listened to a report from Alexander Hamilton of Pender Island on the recent fifth annual congress of the Henry George Society of North America held in San Francisco early this month. Mr. Hamilton represented British Columbia at this meeting, and he gave a most comprehensive report to local society at a luncheon in Spencer's private dining-room. W. A. Jameson was in the chair.

Mr. Hamilton spoke at the recent convention on "The Single Tax Movement in British Columbia." There were about sixty delegates present from eastern states and several from Canada, although, Mr. Hamilton said he would have liked to seen more from the Dominion.

The Henry George Societies should strive for more publicity, Mr. Hamilton said. The aims and objects should be placed before readers of daily newspapers throughout the continent. When once a person studies the single tax movement, he is bound to become interested and want to continue it, the speaker said. He spoke of unemployment, and told the luncheon guests how the single tax movement would help the situation. While personally he disliked publicity, Mr. Hamilton said it was necessary for the good of the society that the objectives be understood by everyone.

During the four days of the convention a bronze plaque was unveiled in San Francisco on the site where Henry George wrote his famous book, "Progress and Poverty." Professor Mobius moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Hamilton for his instructive talk, and was seconded by Alderman E. S. Woodward.

James Dick, Young Miner, Killed by Gunshot Wound in Abdomen

D. H. Dowling, Held for Manslaughter, Released on Bail

Cumberland, Sept. 15.—On the opening day of the hunting season, James Dick, twenty-five, a miner employed by the Canadian Collieries, was fatally shot through the abdomen.

D. H. Dowling, foreman of the K.M.P. pole camp near Royston, was held on a charge of manslaughter following the shooting accident in the woods, but was released on $3,000 bail.

In company with a man named Williams, young Dick left on a hunting trip early on Saturday.

The hunters separated and Dick is said to have followed an old logging road within the Bloedel, Stewart and Foley timber limits.

He was discovered by other hunters about 9 o'clock with a gunshot wound in the abdomen. It is believed that Dick was mistaken for a deer.

He was alive when discovered, but died at 6.30 p.m. in the Cumberland Hospital.

Nanaimo, Sept. 15.—Alexander Lestos of Extension, while hunting deer yesterday, fell over a twenty-foot cliff at Copper King Mountain, Cameron Lake, and sustained serious injuries to his back. His hunting companions made an improvised stretcher and carried him to the highway, where he was put in an automobile and rushed to Ladysmith Hospital.

His companions carried him for eighteen hours through the bush.

BROMLEY TO FLY AGAIN

"But we will not sanction further attempts until satisfactory evidence is presented to us of the reason for his turning back and abandoning this flight, as press reports indicate.

SAFEGUARDS

"The idea of sanctioning these flights" Gephart explained "is to see that no regulations of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale are violated, and that only qualified pilots, carrying both an Federation Aeronautique Internationale pilot's certificate and an annual sporting license enter into such contests or record flights, the object of this being to prevent unqualified pilots with non-airworthy equipment from making such attempts and to insure any records that are made being recognized by all countries that are parties to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale treaty."

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 15.—Backers of Harold Bromley's proposed Japan-to-Tacoma flight were amazed to-day by the statement made by Valentine Gehart. "In view of the fact that absolutely no information has come from Bromley direct it seems Mr. Gehart's statement is premature to say the least," said Guy Kelly, legal adviser of the flight committee.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—The Dollar radio station to-day received a message from the liner President Taft saying Harold Bromley would again attempt to fly to the United States from Japan as soon as sufficient supplies and gasoline could be sent to Aomori.

The station here had not ascertained where the President Taft, an hour out of Yokohama, received the message. It assumed, however, the ship had been in communication with the Bromley plane.

The message also said the plane had been slightly damaged in landing, but neither Bramley nor Harold Gatty, his flying companion, had been seriously injured when they were forced to land at Cape Shiriya after taking off from Sanishiro beach for Tacoma, Wash.

RETURNED TO JAPAN

Tokio, Sept. 15.—Still pursued by the ill-luck which has followed him for a year, Harold Bromley, aviator, accompanied by his co-pilot and nagivator, Harold L. Gatty, brought his big monoplane, the City of Tacoma, to earth near the village of Shirsukari, on Cape Shirtya, Aomora perfecture, at 6 a.m. to-day (1 p.m. Sunday, Victoria time.)

Thus ended Bromley's fourth attempt to span the Pacific in an airplane without a stop. The flight ended within a few miles of Samishiro Beach, near Sambongi, where at 5.06 a.m. Sunday (12.06 p.m. Saturday, Victoria time). The big monoplane, heavy with 1,020 gallons of gasoline, roared down a ramp and swooped gracefully along a sandy runaway until it nosed into the air and disappeared into the rising sun. The plane was in the air 24 hours and 52 minutes, and during much of that time the fate of its two occupants was cloaked in a silence deepened by fog and adverse weather conditions. Although the plane carried a wireless set, there was an almost total absence of reports while it was in the air. Rumors and conflicting reports were many, but not until news of the landing was flashed to Tokio was the fliers' safety definitely established.

DISTANCE FLOWN

According to Bromley's position reports intercepted by ships at sea, the City of Tacoma apparently had flown 300 miles beyond Cape Lopatka, nearly half way to the westermost Aleutians, before turning back. This would have carried the fliers over approximately 3,400 miles while they were in the air.

COMPLICATIONS SEEN

Their return is involving official complications because Shirsukari is near the Ominato naval base, and is within the forty-mile zone over which flying is forbidden.

Furthermore, although Bromley had a permit to fly from Japan, he lacked permission to land on the islands. The fliers and the plane must be examined in order to satisfy authorities the regulations have not been violated.

The United States Embassy immediately dispatched an interpreter to Shirsukari to assist the aviators in negotiations with the Japanese authorities.

Although reports from the village near which they landed were meagre, it was learned neither aviator was injured.

FOG AND HEAD WIND

It was presumed the fliers were forced to turn back because of adverse weather conditions. Previous to the take-off yesterday the two airmen were promised excellent weather along almost the entire route they chose to follow. Soon after the City of Tacoma had left the sandy runway of Samishiro Beach, however, it was learned the plane encountered heavy fog and head winds, in addition to rain over the Burile Island chain northeast of Japan.

Then silence, heightened by the mass of conflicting reports, clasped the plane and its occupants.

The first intimation the plane was returning to Japan was given by the radio operator of the Dollar liner President Taft, which docked at Yokohama at 7 a.m. to-day (2 p.m. Sunday, Victoria time). He said he had intercepted a message indicating the plane had passed Cape Lopatka, the southernmost point of Kamchatka Peninsula, late Sunday afternoon. The operator said he later had intercepted a message stating Bromley and Gatty were over the middle of the Kurile Island chain, heading back to Japan.

TO-DAY'S BASEBALL

Brooklyn, Sept. 15.—The Brooklyn Robins advanced to a full game lead over the idle St. Louis Cardinals in the national pennant race to-day, defeating the Cincinnati Reds 13 to 5 for their eleventh straight victory. Both Lucas and Moss were driven from the mount in the first inning, but Clark turned in a brilliant pitching performance for the remaining eight innings while the Reds had to call on Benton, Frey and May.

ARGUMENT ON NEW EUROPE UNION PLAN

Jugoslavs Oppose Handing Over of Proposal to League Commission

Geneva, Sept. 15.—The battle flag of a European federation campaign of determined proportions was hoisted to-day by Foreign Minister Marinkovitch of Jugoslavia in the League of Nations Assembly when he combated the proposal of delegates to commit French Foreign Minister Briand's "United States of Europe" plan to cold storage by the political commission route.

M. Marinkovitch put up a stubborn opposition to what he believed meant an indefinite hold-up in the fruition of the Briand plan in the hands of the sixth or political commission of the Assembly, and urged a special committee of the nations involved be appointed to study and elaborate the programme.

This procedure was known to be the one favored by M. Briand and in conflict with the ideas of some of the governments that had expressed themselves in cautious acceptance of the principle involved.

but caution in creation of new clubs was advisable. "Kiwanis International, after all, is just you and me. What we make of it will only be done by subtracting a part of ourselves for contribution to the whole, he said, stressing the democratic method of organization of Kiwanis International.

Other addresses given this morning included presentation by W. J. Costello of Cle Elum of a successful plan for divisional conferences; J. A. Buchanan of Astoria discussed attendances at meetings, and remarked that poor averages were attributable to the lack of enthusiasm by executive officers of the respective clubs.

Clinton S. Harley of University Kiwanis Club, Seattle, discussed the value of inter-club relationships and the spiritual strength attained at club meetings.

A. H. Syverson of Spokane spoke on the major objectives of Kiwanis, pointing out that, for maintenance of its motto, "We Build," International Kiwanis must stand or fall by its activities in public service. Consistent activity for objectives would ensure enthusiasm among members and be a potent factor in promoting a high attendance percentage.

George Erb of Lewiston, Idaho, spoke briefly upon the individual responsibility of Kiwanians, asserting that it was impossible to get the mass influence of the club at work in its community unless the individual members are trained to activity in service work and imbued with consciousness as to their personal duty to their community.

District Governor Walker preceded his annual report with compliments to the Victoria Kiwanis Club and Kiwanian H. M. Diggon upon the excellence of the arrangements made for the convention. Much progress had been made during his year of office, the district having built and chartered ten new clubs, and also chartered three clubs built in 1929. This established the northwest district in the lead of all the twenty-nine districts in Kiwanis International.

Discussing the coming year the district governor pointed out that actions were more important than things, and that things left to themselves fell. Everything in nature moved in a cycle and establishment of perfect rhythm should be sought by all the clubs. The source of all action was found in heat, and some clubs lack action because they had not warmed up. Members left alone to engender grievances also develop heat which, like oily rags left in a corner, might prove disastrous. Sunshine was equivalent to light, and brightness in the clubs would be productive of beneficial action for the communities served by the clubs.

Harold C. Jones of Portland, district secretary, reported on the work of the year, with a gain of nearly 350 members in the northwestern district. More inter-club meetings had been held and attendance percentages had improved.

Ships from the upper bays

YOU could go down to the unloading of ships as they come white-sailing in . . and find nothing to compare with the variety of merchandise unloaded for you at the port of the advertising page.

You could lift this article and that . . but not even such close scrutiny could tell you so much about a product as is told you through the advertisements you read.

You could take the fine merchandise home, distribute it and use it in its proper places—in your pantry, draped at your windows, laid down on your floors and trampled on for years . . . but your tests would not be half so rigid as the tests already made for you of the wares that are advertised.

World variety—world scrutiny of merits inside and out—world tests that take the wares and determine them in the form you see them to-day—these make advertised products the best you can buy. The most economical—because dependable in service. The lowest priced for quality—because distributed to the world!

The white-sailed schooners, the sloops, the lighters—these from the upper bays of quality and perfection—have all unloaded here. Turn the pages for their offerings.

Read the advertisements . . . they tell you of the best that comes in; with cargoes for every use

PARTNERS IN A GREAT ENTERPRISE

Agriculture

"AGRICULTURE has been the pioneer and developing partner. Without it there would have been no Western Canada and no Eastern Canada. Agriculture is one of the real foundations of our national prosperity and development."

—SENATOR W. A. BUCHANAN, at the 1929 Convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, on "Canada's Economic Partnership."

Agriculture has been a vital factor in the Dominion's progress. It has made possible the dominant position of Canada—wherein her foreign trade per head is higher than any other country in the world. Wheat and wheat flour are her greatest single commodity of export trade, constituting more than one-third of her total exports for 1928.

The Bank of Toronto has played its part in the development of Agriculture. Its resources of capital and experience, always at the disposal of legitimate enterprises, have been available to farmers and farming interests for three-quarters of a century. Loans and credits, and friendly co-operation have been given to the Canadian farmer. Today, in a firmly entrenched financial position, and with an enviable record of service behind it, The Bank of Toronto is of increasing importance to agriculture and to all other ventures of integrity and vision.

Nanaimo

At the regular monthly meeting of the I.O.D.E. Malaspina Chapter it was decided to complete the furnishings of the children's ward of the Nanaimo Hospital. It was also decided to donate two yearly subscriptions to rural schools and a sum of money to the Queen Alexandra Solarium Egg Fund. A dance will be held in September and arrangements will be made for the drawing of an electric sewing machine during the fall months. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. R. C. Ingham.

The new addition to the Lawn Bowling Club was officially opened Tuesday evening. The addition has been added for the use of the lady members of the club. The room has been fitted up in kitchen style, and has been finished with commodious cupboards. Mrs. Joseph Dixon, president, performed the opening ceremony.

A successful tea was held at the home of Mrs. E. Dickinson Monday afternoon in aid of the local Boy Scout fund. A good sum was realized, which will be used in the building of the new quarters at Comox Road Park. The hostess, Mrs. E. Dickinson, was assisted by Mrs. Dawe, president of the auxiliary, in receiving the guests. During the afternoon an excellent musical programme was rendered by the following artists: Mesdames Dean and Reynolds, Master E. McClennon and Miss Margaret Hill of Vancouver. Others who assisted were Mesdames Nicol, Largue and Hollingworth, and the Misses Dickinson and Foster.

The funeral of the late ex-Alderman John Sharp was held Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, the Rev. W. R. Welch officiating.

New Bishop Goes To Gravelbourg

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Mgr. J. M. Rodrigue Villeneuve, Bishop of Gravelbourg, Sask., who was elevated to the episcopacy here Tuesday, left Ottawa yesterday evening for Gravelbourg, where he will be inducted into his new charge. Archbishop Forbes of Ottawa and many prominent Roman Catholic clergy accompanied the bishop, who traveled aboard a special car.

Bishop Villeneuve had a busy week-end prior to his departure. Saturday noon he was received at the Papal Legation and was the guest of Mgr. Andrea Cassulo, Apostolic Delegate to Canada, at luncheon.

LEADERS OF CHURCH MEET IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Nearly 10,000 people attended the "mass meeting of witness" which signalized the opening of the annual meeting of the chief boards of the Church of England in Canada here. Members of the House of Bishops, headed by Most Rev. S. P. Matheson, Archbishop of Rupertsland and retiring Primate of All Canada, together with prominent laymen of the church from all parts of Canada are attending the sessions.

The chief address at the mass meeting was delivered by Rt. Rev. P. Lindel Tsen, Assistant Bishop of Honan, China.

Although Archbishop Matheson's resignation will take effect next Saturday, on his seventy-eighth birthday, present indications are that his successor will not be named until the meeting next year of the General Synod.

The board meetings will continue until next Saturday.

On Wednesday evening another great public gathering will be held. It will be presided over by Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Archbishop of New Westminster and Metropolitan of British Columbia.

INSANE WOMAN WOUNDS HER SON

Maxville, Ont., Sept. 15.—Suddenly mentally deranged, Mrs. Charles Montgomery, forty-five-year-old wife of a prosperous farmer living near here, set fire to her husband's barn and seriously wounded her twenty-two-year-old son Charles with a butcher knife yesterday. The son was taken to a Cornwall hospital, where his condition is critical. Police took Mrs. Montgomery to the Ontario Hospital for the Insane at Brockville.

Not Guilty Verdict In Bronfman Case

Regina, Sas., Sept. 15.—It took a Court of King's Bench jury, sitting in the case in which Harry Bronfman was charged with "tampering with witnesses," fifty-eight minutes late Saturday afternoon to find the millionaire Montreal distiller "Not guilty."

While the jury was considering the case it was recalled for further instructions from the bench.

On being asked if they had reached a verdict, the jury foreman announced it was unanimously "not guilty." On the request of F. B. Bagshaw, K.C., prosecution counsel, that a poll of the jury be taken, every member of that body, when questioned by the clerk of the court, stated the verdict he had arrived at was "not guilty."

Bronfman was then discharged and the court adjourned.

CHURCH UNION MOVE IS GIVEN NEW SUPPORT

Archbishop de Pencier Comments on Progress Made at Lambeth Conference

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The most striking feature of the Lambeth Conference was the progress made toward the reunion of Christendom, said Archbishop A. U. de Pencier, Metropolitan of British Columbia, on his arrival here to attend the annual meeting of the chief boards of the Church of England in Canada.

"Great progress has been made," he said, "despite the fact that Rome closed the door. Union must now be accomplished among the Protestant churches and the Greek Orthodox Church of the East, which numbers millions of followers.

"For the first time since the second or third century a delegation was present at the conference this year from the Greek Orthodox Church and a commission is being named to promote closer co-operation and unity between our Anglican communion and theirs."

BIRTH CONTROL

Archbishop de Pencier said the remarks of the Lambeth Conference in respect to birth control had been too liberally interpreted.

"There has been a great deal of talk on the observations the Lambeth Conference made on birth control," he declared. "I venture to say few people have actually read those observations or else there would not have been such a storm. Every age has its peculiar problems. I can remember when it was considered a sin for a woman to take morphine during childbirth. The church must give leadership. The conference comment on birth control was by no means a wide open recognition, but very restricted indeed in its recognition of the practice."

BOY LOSES LIFE

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 15.—Duck shooting claimed its first victim, even before the season officially opened, when, on Saturday, Nick Olexyn, aged ten, of Wakaw, Sask., was killed by a charge from a shotgun in the hands of his six-year-old brother, Wasyl. Another brother aged five, was also injured, but his condition is not critical. Nick had declared his intention of going duck shooting and the accident occurred when the younger brother took down the gun and was examining it.

TO STEP UP FORD PLANT

The Ford Atlanta plant will step up production schedules next week, it was announced in the Dow Jones New York Summary today. The statement said 150 more men would be hired and the output would be increased by twenty-five cars a day.

OUR KIWANIAN VISITORS

VICTORIA HEARTILY WELCOMES TO-day between 700 and 800 Kiwanians from clubs in British Columbia and the adjoining states. They are attending the thirteenth annual convention of the Pacific Northwest District, Kiwanis International, and Mr. Raymond M. Crossman, the international president, has arrived in the city to be present at the organization's sessions. The Times hopes that the deliberations of the delegates will be profitable and that the visitors will thoroughly enjoy their stay here.

Kiwanis is one of the largest service club organizations on this continent. In the comparatively few years of its existence it has built up a membership of something like 100,000, an achievement of which it may well be proud. Like other bodies of its kind, Kiwanis is doing a fine work in the promotion of good citizenship, while its international character is a factor at all times for the preservation of friendly feelings between the two countries which furnish its present membership. As the service club movement grows—Rotary is now world-embracing—friendship between the peoples of all nations will be of a more intimate nature. There can not be too many agencies working for such ideals as those for which Kiwanis stands.

AFTER FIFTY YEARS

ON THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF the inception of the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is pertinent to recall the article which Henry Labouchere wrote for his London "Truth" on September 1, 1881, forty-nine years ago, which, as a prophesy unfulfilled, is probably unparalleled in the history of journalism. Here are a few extracts from it:

The Canadian Pacific Railroad Company has begun, I see, to launch its bonds. A group of Montreal and New York bankers have undertaken to float ten million dollars worth of the company's land grant bonds, and the Bank of Montreal, with its usual courage, has taken one-fourth of the entire loan. This announcement looks as if the Canadians were going to raise the necessary capital on the other side of the water, but I have a shrewd suspicion that they have no real intention of doing anything of the kind. The New Yorkers are keen enough gamblers, and reckless enough at times I admit, and yet it is impossible to believe that they are such fools as to put their money into this mad project. I would as soon credit them with a willingness to subscribe hard cash in support of a scheme for the utilization of icebergs. The Canadian Pacific Railway will run, if it is ever finished, through a country frost bound for seven or eight months in the year, and will connect with the western part of the Dominion a province which embraces about as forbidding a country as any on the face of the earth. British Columbia, they say, has forced on the execution of this part of the contract under which they became incorporated with the Dominion, and believe that prosperity will come to them when the line is made. This is a delusion on their part. British Columbia is a barren, cold, mountain country that is not worth keeping. It would never have been inhabited at all, unless by trappers of the Hudson's Bay Company, had the "gold fever" not taken a party of mining adventurers there, and ever since that fever died down, the place has been going from bad to worse. Fifty railroads would not galvanize it into prosperity.

Nevertheless, the Canadian government has fairly launched into this project and I have no doubt the English public will soon be asked to further it with their cash. The parade of selling bonds in New York and Montreal is the new way of doing business that "Syndicates," bankers and loan contractors have adopted in order that it may seem that they have faith in the schemes they father. I doubt if ten millions of dollars of ready cash could be found in all of Canada for this or any other work of utility at a pinch, but the Canadians are not such idiots as to part with one dollar of their own if they can borrow their neighbors'. The Canadians spend money and we provide it. That has been the arrangement hitherto, and it has worked out splendidly—for the Canadians—too well for them to try any other scheme with the Canadian Pacific, which they must know is never likely to pay a single red cent of interest on the money that may be sunk in it. A friend of mine told me—and he knew what he was talking about—that he did not believe the much touted Manitoba settlement would hold out many years. The people who have gone there cannot stand the coldness of the winters. Men and cattle are frozen to death in numbers that would rather startle the intending settler if he knew; and those who are not killed outright are often maimed for life by frost-bites. Its street nuisances kill people with malaria, or drive them mad with plagues of insects; and to keep themselves alive during the long winter they have to imitate the habits of the Eskimo. Those who want to know what it is like should read the not-yet-forgotten books of Colonel Butler. His "Great Lone Land" is the land of which the Canadian Pacific Railway has yet five and twenty million acres to sell and it is through a death-dealing region of this kind that the new railway is to run.

As for the country as a whole it is poor and it is crushed with debt. The supreme government owes about thirty-five million pounds altogether, and every province has its separate debt, as also has almost every collection of shanties calling itself a "city." The province and the city of Quebec are both notoriously bankrupt, and the latter was obliged to go to Paris with its last loan, probably because nobody would lend it here. Last year the country had the benefit of a good crop and a good market here, so that it did a little better, but generally it has hard work to make both ends meet, and often couldn't. Nearly every year it comes for a new loan or two, and once it is fairly committed to making this new railway I see nothing before it but bankruptcy.

DOWN TO CASES

WITH A REGULARITY WHICH ONE would suppose would penetrate, British businessmen tour this country and go back home to warn British exporters that they must change their methods if they hope to increase their sales in Canada. The latest to talk plainly to his fellow manufacturers is Mr. Percy Linden, the head of an old-established London firm, who gives a few practical hints after a personal study of Canadian conditions—and a successful trip.

First of all, Mr. Linden says the British exporter must learn to talk the language of the Canadian businessman, and stop quoting in £ s. d. when his prospect is thinking in terms of dollars and cents. He then mentions the common mistake of British salesmen in Canada quoting their goods f.o.b. London, "crating, carriage and duty extra," expecting the buyer to work out these costs for himself. "The Canadian refuses point blank to do so," says Mr. Linden, "and, frankly, I don't blame him. It's part of our job as salesmen to do this for him, and to tell him what our goods will cost laid down in the Canadian city concerned." Further observations follow:

It should be our policy to send to Canada only our responsible officials, the heads of firms, if possible. The Canadian business man likes to feel he is talking to a principal, one who does not have to "go by the book," and who can tell him immediately whether or not alterations in his goods to meet Canadian requirements are possible, and at what price. He resents his time being wasted by representatives who have to refer all knotty problems to headquarters.

It is much easier to reach the "key" man in Canada than is the case in this country. You are not forced to run the gauntlet of clerks and office boys which is such an irritating feature of commercial life here. If you want to see the President, you will see the President, or his responsible deputy, without any fuss or bother, and he will tell you at once whether or not your goods suit him, and if not why not.

Mr. Linden concludes by saying he landed in Montreal "without knowing a soul." He was taken in hand by industrialists and given as many introductions as he could possibly use in the time at his disposal. He was "treated like a brother; that's the way they have in Canada."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A CHOICE FOR CANADA
The New Zealand News (London)

New Zealand has a very direct interest in the policy of the new Canadian government. It has been proposed to increase the duty on New Zealand butter entering Canada, and the proposal is naturally viewed with disapproval by the people of New Zealand. Canada sends to New Zealand far more goods than she receives. Her share of the motor imports of New Zealand last year was no less than 46 per cent, while Britain's share was less than 18 per cent.

Mr. W. Goodfellow, managing director of Amalgamated Dairies Ltd., has summed the situation up as follows:

"The gradual loss of the Canadian butter market to New Zealand is a serious matter, and tends to emphasize the fact that our Dominion has only one worthwhile permanent market, namely, the United Kingdom. The government would be well advised to do its utmost to penalize foreign importations into the Dominion and thus divert an increasing proportion of New Zealand importations to the United Kingdom, as it is only by this means that New Zealand and other parts of the Empire can build up a satisfactory market for primary products."

Canada can make her own choice, but it is quite evident that the New Zealand government will have general support in demanding a fair trade agreement. British motor cars are rapidly being adapted to Dominion requirements, and it will be very little hardship for New Zealand if she has to deprive herself of Canadian cars for a period.

THE POLISH CORRIDOR
The Detroit Free Press

Germany's grievance is not that Poland was given access to the sea; but that it was found necessary at Versailles to cut Germany in two in order to secure for Poland an advantage that could have been obtained by internationalizing the Vistula, as was done with the Rhine. The fact that Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Hungary all are without seacoasts makes it all the more difficult for Germans to see why it should have been thought necessary to detach East Prussia from the rest of the reich in order to give the newly-created Republic of Poland one. The Polish corridor has all of the evil potentialities formerly possessed by Alsace-Lorraine.

The first automobile meet in the history of this Province will take place at the Victoria driving park to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, machines from Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria will participate, and fast driving will be a feature. An effort will be made to establish an entirely new record for the track. A parade will be held on the streets at 5 o'clock.

DREAMS COME TRUE IN NEW ELECTRICITY

Eleven Predictions of Steinmetz Are Recalled and Fulfillments Measured

Dreams do come true—when anyone as discerning as the late Charles Proteus Steinmetz does the dreaming. Fifteen years ago Steinmetz wrote a magazine article, entitled "You Will Think This Is a Dream." In that article he made eleven predictions as to the uses of electricity. Here they are, and with them a concise statement to show how nearly each one has been fulfilled up to the present time.

Prophecy No. 1. "The working day will be reduced to six hours." This has not yet come true, but efficient factory machinery driven by electric motors and using instantaneous electric welding, will make this possible — though the five-day or four-day week may be preferable.

No. 2. Steinmetz predicted international radio broadcasting, for he wrote: "Millions will hear concerts in their homes." He was right. Over 13,000,000 radio sets were sold in seven years. "Great singers abroad will be heard in our homes." They have been.

No. 3. And Steinmetz predicted talking movies, for he wrote, "The motion picture and the talking machine will be perfectly synchronized." Yes, the talkies are being put in our 20,000 theatres rapidly.

No. 4. "Buildings and homes will be heated by electricity, cooled and ventilated by electricity." Steinmetz prophesied right again. Hundreds are heated, thousands are cooled and hundreds of thousands are so ventilated, and nearly 2,000,000 electric refrigerators are in use.

No. 5. "Much of the cooking will be done on the table. Cooking will be regulated by setting a dial to start and stop the electric stove," Steinmetz said. Right again. A million stoves operate that way to-day—set the dial "start at four" and "stop at six," and supper will be ready at 6 o'clock though the house is empty all afternoon. Tens of millions of other electrical devices are used for cooking on the table. They save steps and time.

No. 6. "Our farms will be electrified," said Steinmetz. Right again. Already 600,000 farms have been electrified. This is going ahead rapidly now. More farms were connected to power lines in the last three years than in the preceding forty-three years.

No. 7. "Electricity will get cheaper," Steinmetz prophesied. Right again. Average household rates are now about 25 per cent less than fifteen years ago.

No. 8. "We will use electricity as freely as water," Steinmetz said. That's mighty interesting. Many of us do now, but don't realize it. We leave fans running and light burning for hours, but we don't leave the water running long.

No. 9. "Industries in the cities will use electric power and so lessen smoke and dirt," Steinmetz foretold. Right again. Much of our present smoke comes from the railroads, and now they are tackling that job.

No. 10. "Industrial plants will move closer to the source of materials, and the powerhouses will move closer to the source of power." Right again—and when the power plants transmit the electricity, they don't have to pay to transport the coal.

No. 11. "Single power plants will have a capacity of over 1,000,000 horsepower." This prophecy has almost been fulfilled. The largest power plant now is already four times larger than the biggest plant was when Steinmetz made the prophecy.

Last year the United States used six times as much electricity as when Steinmetz wrote his forecasts. We use as much electricity as all the rest of the world combined. New York state uses as much electricity as any foreign nation except Germany. Here as some of the reasons why:

Those wonderful rotary engines called steam turbines make most of the electricity we use. In power the largest turbine to-day, is nearly six times greater than the largest was fifteen years ago. The steam pressures used are also nearly six times greater. The biggest hydro-electric generators in the world are now being built in Schenectady for Soviet Russia. They are four and a half times as big as the biggest was when Steinmetz made his predictions. Each of these will make more power than any other hydro-electric generators in the world!

There are four and one-half times as many users of electricity now as there were fifteen years ago. Last year the power and light companies produced 100,000,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity—equal to the energy of 78,000,0000 tons of dynamite.

Close to $1,000,000,000 will be spent this year to further improve electric service. This is five times as much as was spent the year before Steinmetz made his predictions. Most of the power-house machinery of ten years ago, has been junked. It was too wasteful; and it was too small.

CHANGES SINCE FIRST LAMP

When Edison built his first lamp, men wore long beards and red flannel underwear. Women wore bustles and pinched their waists with tight corsets. Twenty-five per cent of the babies died within five years—now only eleven per cent die in that period. Women worked in sweatshops and tenements fifty years ago—stitch, stitch, stitch. Millions of workers toiled seven days a week and twelve hours a day. Then poverty was considered permanent and inevitable. Then it was believed that the only way to lower prices was to cut wages. Then panics lasted five and ten years at a stretch and brought absolute financial ruin to millions of families. Then mother baked the bread at home on a wood stove. She boiled the wash in a tin boiler, and then scrub, scrub, scrub on the old washboard. It made her stoop-shouldered.

When Edison built his first powerhouse there were few bathtubs—now we have two for every automobile. Horsecars were the best city transportation then, and in the country, horses, mules and oxen hauled light loads in springless wagons along the muddy roads. Now we hit forty on the concrete.

Then much of the water was pumped by hand and carried into the house and upstairs. The neighborhood gristmill ground the flour and the village blacksmith entertained under the spreading chestnut tree. The output of steel was only thirty-five pounds per capita per year, not enough for the differential of an old model T. The production of petroleum fifty years ago was only fourteen gallons per capita per year—hardly enough now for one day's auto ride. Coal production then was only two tons per capita per year.

Farmers threw away their corn-cobs and cotton seeds. No one thought about by-products fifty years ago. Chemists were considered high-brows. Aluminum at $7 a pound—now it is about 27 cents and anyone can look in the ten-cent store windows, and see aluminum coffee-percolators—a dime for the top, a dime for the middle, and a dime for the bottom.

When Edison built his first lamp there were only 35,000 telephones. Now there are 20,000,000. A million additional telephones are added every eighteen months.

Edison organized his first electric-light company in 1882 with fifty-nine customers. At the end of the year he had lost $6,000. Now there are 25,000,000 customers buying electricity. It took twenty-two years to get the first million customers—now they add 1,000,000 new customers every year.

MAN'S GREATEST TOOL

And why these tremendous changes? Herbert Hoover says: "Electricity is the greatest tool that has ever come into the hands of man, the degree to which we use this tool will largely determine the rate of social and industrial progress."

And Henry Ford says: "The distinctive production methods that have made the United States what it is are the direct result of Mr. Edison's inventions and discoveries, and we are ahead of all other countries simply and solely because we have Mr. Edison."

Each average United States factory worker uses three times as much horsepower as each British factory worker does. Each average American factory worker every year produces nearly three times what each British factory worker does. American wages are almost three times what British wages are.

Small horsepower in England, small output per worker, and low wages; big horsepower in the United States, big output per worker, and high wages. High wages result from big horsepower.

A famous labor leader put it this way: "Wherever you see high wages there you will find power and machinery, and wherever you see no power and machinery, there you will find low wages."

United States — 125 billion k.w. hours.

Germany—Thirty-four billion k.w. hours (about one-quarter as much as the U.S.)

Canada—Eighteen billion k.w. hours (about one-seventh as much as the U.S.)

Great Britain—Sixteen billion k.w. hours (about one-eighth as much as the U.S.)

France—Sixteen billion k.w. hours (about one-eighth as much as the U.S.)

Japan—Twelve billion k.w. hours (about one-tenth as much as the U.S.)

Italy—Ten billion k.w. hours (about one-twelfth as much as the U.S.)

Lord Harmsworth wrote: "The day is visibly approaching when practically all the hard manual work of the United States will be done by electricity, and far more swiftly and cheaply." Labor will become directors of power—not generators of power.

The Chrysler building in New York City, where the express elevators are marked: "First stop forty-fourth floor!" and where the apex of the tower is 1,000 feet from the sidewalk level, was built without hod-carriers. No one would want to work as a hod-carrier on a seventy-story building. The hod-carrier of old has passed. His son to-day does the lifting, with the aid of an electric hoist. He works shorter hours for higher pay than his father did—and he can show a greater output than his father, for he is director of power. He does more with his brain and less with his muscles. It's a "sign of the times."

THREE ARE HELD AS SUSPECTS IN MURDER CASE

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Two men were arrested here and a young woman at Los Angeles yesterday in connection with the murder of John Marcelli, the "Hermit of Visitacion Valley." Local police said one of the men had made a complete confession, implicating the other two.

The men are John Cusack, twenty-two, prizefighter and former taxicab driver, and Phillip Mangerene, twenty-three, former taxicab driver. Mangerene was said to have confessed.

Marcelli, seventy-two-year-old eccentric, lived alone in a small shack in Visitacion Valley. He earned a living through odd jobs and sale of goats' milk and was believed by some to have amassed considerable money which he kept hidden in his home.

Early September 3 an automobile stopped before the hermit's shack. Two men and a woman got out, neighbors found Marcelli's unconscious form an hour later. He had been beaten with a wooden potato masher, a shovel handle and a rolling pin.

INDO-CHINA FIGHT

Saigon, French Indo-China, Sept. 15.—It was learned to-day that a raiding party attacked a native militia detachment in the region of Thanh Chong Thursday, losing about ten men to the defending soldiery. A detachment of the foreign legion was sent to aid the native troops.

SERVICE CLUBS ARE WARNED ON FADING IDEALS

Kiwanis Convention Delegates Attend Divine Service at Cathedral

Dean Quainton Gives Inspiring Address; Magnificent Choral Singing

A capacity congregation attended the special devotional service held yesterday evening at Christ Church Cathedral, to mark the opening of the thirteenth annual convention of the Northwest District of Kiwanis International.

The address was given by Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, M.A., D.D., Dean of Columbia, who prefaced his sermon with an appeal for support for the Sunshine Camp of the Social Service League.

Discussing the difficulties met by service clubs in carrying out their objectives, Dean Quainton warned against a narrow view and declared the clubs must preserve the spirit visualized by Paul when he declared "Though I give all my goods to the poor yet have not love."

The Dean urged humbleness of mind but pointed out that citizens nominated for office because of fitness were able to be truly humble while frankly recognizing their special abilities. Such a recognition was frequently expressed by Christ regarding his own qualifications and gifts, and each man had special gifts, to be used partly for his own benefit and partly for the good of others.

IDEALS DESTROYED

The peril of fading ideals was touched upon. It was known to all persons, school teachers and also to most college graduates. Dean Quainton declared that many public service organizations, founded with high ideals, had lost their light. "The idea creates the institution and the institution tends to destroy he idea," he warned, urging efforts be frequently made to freshen and renew the ideals of the organization.

Touching upon the desire for publicity which he feared animated many good actions, the preacher protested "If your good deeds and mine are not advertised, what does it matter? God knows about it!" and closed with advice that, when things were going wrong, the service clubs should revert to the first principles on which they were founded.

The service occupied ninety minutes, and was chiefly musical. The brief preliminary prayers and scripture reading were followed by a patriotic hymn. Kiwanian L. Jones rendered two tenor solos, and an organ solo preceded the address.

SPLENDID CHORUS

The service continued with a congregational hymn, two more organ numbers, two tenor solos by Kiwanian T. Kelway, and a magnificent rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus by a massed choir of members of the Schubert Ladies' Club, Victoria Ladies' Choir, Arion Club and Victoria Male Voice Choir, under the leadership of Jackson Hanby. It was one of the finest performances of this great work ever heard in Victoria. The choirs occupied the gallery under the great west window.

Preceding the Benediction, Mrs. Arthur Dowell, soprano, sang "Rejoice Greatly." The service concluded with an organ postlude.

Police of South Bend Hunt Youth Suspected of Crime

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 15.—Alice Waltman, seventeen-year-old student at St. Mary's Parochial School, was slain by a prowler as she slept in her home early yesterday.

An eight-year-old brother, Richard, who slept at the girl's side, was not awakened nor were two sisters, Henrietta, twenty, and Evelyn, nineteen, in another bed in the same room.

Mrs. Kate Waltman, Alice's mother, discovered the crime. Hearing a thump on the floor, she rushed upstairs, where she was confronted by the mutilated body of her child.

After a hurried investigation police launched a search for a youth whose name was not revealed.

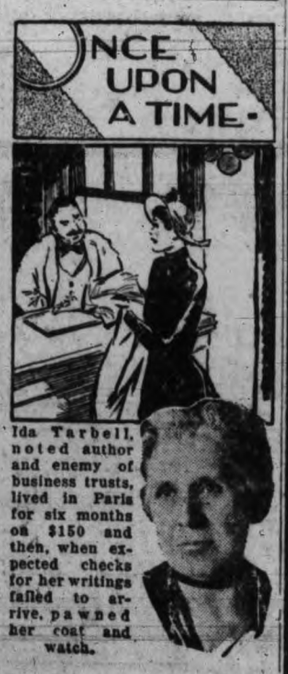
The youth, described as a sort of a "ne'er-do-well," had formed an attachment for the girl, they said, and had embarrassed her with his attentions.

Recently he lost his position in a South Bend shop and told friends he was going to Florida. Officers were informed, however, he was seen here Saturday.

To reach Alice's bed, the slayer climbed a rear porch, crept through a bedroom in which her brothers, Harry, fourteen, and Henry, fifteen, were asleep, stepped into a hall, entered another bedroom and passed to the victim's bed.

Then, after accomplishing his task, the killer left as he had entered. This was demonstrated by finger impressions made in entering and as he left.

Citizens of South Bend, nerves on edge due to the recent kidnapping and fiendish murder of eight-year-old Marvarine Appel, were thrown into a state of intense excitement as word of the slaying gained circulation.



Ida Tarbell, noted author and enemy of business trusts, lived in Paris for six months on $150 and then, when expected checks for her writings failed to arrive, pawned her coat and watch.

SARGON BRINGS FINEST HEALTH IN THIRTY YEARS

A. W. Mountain Praises New Treatment in Remarkable Statement to Public

"I've lived in New Westminster for 23 years and anybody here that knows me, knows I'm in better health now than I ever was before in all that time—and I give the credit to this remarkable Sargon," recently stated A.

A. W. MOUNTAIN

W. Mountain, 1029 Auckland Street.

"For 30 years I've spent the little money I could spare between jobs on different medicines, but my health continued so poor that I'd have to quit one job after another to 'doctor up'—only to breakdown again a little later on. And climate didn't seem to make any difference—I was as bad off in one place as another. Last winter night after night, it seemed like I'd smother and choke to death, with an asthmatic and catarrhal condition. It felt like my back would break with pains when I'd get out of bed mornings, and I was so weak and wornout that I was just about hopeless. Then, I started Sargon and I don't believe there is a man in the world that's any more gratified over his new health than I am.

"My asthmatic and catarrhal condition is gradually easing up; all the smothering, choking sensations are gradually disappearing; I enjoy the finest kind of sleep and get up mornings without an ache or pain in my back, feel rested and refreshed and with all the strength and energy any man needs. I used to cough a lot, but I'm entirely rid of that trouble, and Sargon has done more for me than all the other medicines and treatments put together.

The Sargon man is at the Owl Drug Store, corner of Fort and Douglas Streets where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this celebrated new scientific product.

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from all Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the Bews Drug Company; in Esquimalt from Fulmer's Drug Store; in Oak Bay from Charles Hudson (Advt.)

Cordova Bay

A most delightful evening was given by Mrs. Richards on Friday, September 12, when she entertained about 100 guests in honor of her son Percy and daughter-in-law, who returned to their home in California on Sunday. The guests were entertained royally in McMorran's Pavilion. A fine programme of dance music was provided for the dancers, and the non-dancers enjoyed a bridge drive, six tables being in play. After partaking of refreshments a social time was enjoyed until midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw have returned to their home on Albany Road after spending the summer at their seafront cottage.

Mrs. Richards has returned to her home in Victoria after spending the summer at the bay.

Mr. Magill is a visitor here and is staying at "Romola."

Mr. and Mrs. Varney and family spent Sunday in Vancouver.

The Victoria Motorcycle Club have engaged McMorran's Pavilion for September 19 for their annual social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Perrins and family have left the bay to take up residence at Bamberton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Mercer of Victoria are spending a week here, staying in McMorran's seafront cottage.

Mrs. Rivers has returned from spending a week in Victoria.

Mrs. Little, West Saanich Road, and Mrs. A. Knight are camping at Leechtown.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride have left for a motoring tour to Spokane to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and family have returned to town after living in their summer home for the season.

BREAKFAST ROOM SET SHOULD BE STURDILY BUILT

The idea of a breakfast room set, as many shoppers don't seem to realize, is to have something that is serviceable as well as attractive. It is easy to put a nice coat of paint on, but sturdy construction is a more difficult matter.

Your chairs may be of light fir, and therefore the set was inexpensive; or they may be a strong maple or birch, which are durable. The cheaper chairs usually have a thin seat, with little strength and durability, and with a poor finish.

Some breakfast room sets feature a table which their manufacturers assert will not stain or burn, and upon which a hot plate will have no effect. This table has a bakelite top. A variety of this is a top made of bakelite sprayed on a fabric, such as gingham. Besides giving to the top practically the same qualities claimed for the bakelite product, the sprayed top can be made with some attractive effects.

BARNS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING DESTROYED

Toronto, Sept. 15.—A series of freak storms struck southern Ontario over the week-end and left behind a trail of wrecked buildings, burned to the ground after being struck by lightning. Heavy rains accompanied the electrical disturbance, and although the moisture was of great benefit to late field crops and fall wheat, much of which has been planted, many farmers suffered the loss of their entire season's harvest when their barns burned.

The storm struck with unusual severity near Lindsay, where six barns were struck. John Parkin, Valentia, James Shields of Fowler's Corners, Garnet McMahon and Laverne McKinley all lost their buildings and season's crops.

Telephone and telegraph communications were disrupted and the hydro service badly hampered at Peterboro. A fire department alarm circuit was burned out in four places by the lightning.

ROOT CROPS BENEFIT

Brantford experienced its first real rainstorm since St. Swithin's Day. All outdoor activities ceased as the rain descended in torgents. The moisture came too late for the corn crop, but will aid root fields and buckwheat. No damage was reported.

While farmers gazed anxiously skyward in the Niagara district, rain threatened several times, but the storm clouds finally drifted away, leaving streams dried and pasture lands scorched. The situation is serious, as already the majority of farmers are feeding their livestock winter food, and are driving their stock long distances for water. Outside of peaches, all varieties of fruit have been affected by the dry weather.

SAANICH SCHOOL JUMPING TRIALS

Athletes Qualify for Big Programme at Fair Wednesday

In connection with the North and South Saanich annual sports which will be held Wednesday, the elimination contests for jumping classes and the pole vault took place Saturday afternoon in the Saanichton Agricultural Hall Park. There was good competition between the schools, and the following will compete in the finals.

High jump, boys under 12.—Morris Foxgard and Raymond Porter, McKenzie Avenue School; Gordon Smith and James Gardner, North Saanich School.

High jump, girls under 12—Dorothy Warnock, McKenzie Avenue School, Wilma McIlmoyle, North Saanich School; Eileen Young, Keating School; Joyce Andrews, West Saanich School.

Broad jump, girls under 12.—1, Etta Jones, Cedar Hill School; Wilma McIlmoyle, North Saanich School; Eileen Young, Keating School; Dorothy Warnock, McKenzie Avenue School.

Broad jump, boys under 15.—Raymond Byers, Sidney School; Albert White, Keating School; Ralph Marshall, North Saanich; Daniel Butler, North Saanich.

Broad jump, girls under 15.—Iris Reading and Mary Butler, North Saanich School; Dolly Ward and May White, McKenzie Avenue School.

Pole vault—Harrison Gray, Keating School; Daniel Wilson and Daniel Butler, North Saanich School.

Keen competition is being exhibited between the various schools for the honor of holding the David Spencer Ltd. Cup for schools of over 100 pupils, and the Saanich Board of Trade Cup for schools of under 100 pupils.

The sports will commence at 1 o'clock, and school principals are requested to have their pupils, who are competing, in readiness to avoid any unnecessary delay.

Central Alberta Grain Yield Is Up Seventy Per Cent

Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 15.—Central Alberta is rapidly completing the harvesting of a grain crop that is yielding seventy per cent more than last year, and with wheat of equal quality, according to the fifth and final monthly crop report of The Journal, based upon estimates made by correspondents at a hundred points.

With ninety per cent of the wheat cut and fifteen per cent threshed, the average yield is placed at twenty bushels as against a figure of twelve bushels per acre in the closing estimate of 1929.

Of the barley and oats ninety per cent has been cut. Due to the late harvesting this year, only one-third of the district report threshing got under way during the first week in September, while one half reported a start this week, with work general next week.

Quality of the wheat generally is put at number one and at number two, northern and coarse, also a good grain. Some districts reported grain on lately hailed areas cut by uneven ripening.

Damage during the ripening period has been at a minimum with frost loss of three per cent at twenty points. A score of districts reported hail storms occurring during the last five weeks did damage ranging from ten to twenty per cent on the limited areas affected.

Weather for harvesting has been generally favorable. Only a dozen points reported considerable delay due to rains while most correspondents described it as ideal.

KANSAS CITY POLICE KILL ALLEGED THIEF

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 15.—Police killed one man and seized Liberty bonds and money orders valued at more than $100,000 in a raid early yesterday on what they described as a safeblowers' rendezvous.

Frank Reliser, thirty-seven, the leader, officers said, of a gang whose activities, veiled by a photograph enlargement business, extended from Iowa to Colorado, and Mrs. Meda Graham, thirty-seven, his companion, were arrested.

B. P. Thurman, chief of detectives, said evidence in the home definitely linked the band with robberies in Stillwell, Kansas, and Frederick and Central City, Col.

Reliser, who has served three prison terms, refused to identify the slain man, shot down by detectives when he resisted arrest on his return alone from a dance.

Body Found In Woods Saturday Is Identified

Provincial police have identified the body of a man found in the woods near Goldstream, Saturday as that of J. Cairns, a logger, who had been missing since the first of the year in that district.

The body, reduced to a skeleton, and with the clothes in rags, was found by Louis and Kenneth Clark, 825 Hollywood Crescent, who were hunting about two miles south of Mount Shepherd.

After the body was brought to the city, police were able to establish identification. Cairns was lost on January 1 of this year. A search was conducted in heavy snow but no trace of him was found.

Japanese Ruggers Welcomed Here For Two Games This Week

THE SPORTS MIRROR

ONE QUESTION that gives those associated with sport plenty of worry is the "amateur problem." Time after time it keeps bobbing up to bother some person's state of mind and just when officials and athletes figure they have got the thing subdued it comes right back again. A couple of years ago, Bobby Jones, the Scottish of the golfing world, refused to accept a beautiful new home as a present from some of his admirers, on the grounds that his amateur standing might be impugned.

* * *

Now the other day Helen Wills Moody, the Madam Queen of the tennis courts, announced she positively would accept a $20,000 bequest from a wealthy Californian, whose will expressed the desire that she accept it for having done so much in the advancement of tennis and her home state.

* * *

Which brings us right down smack to the question, "What is an amateur?" And the answer is: "An amateur is a Tom Thumb Golfer who refuses to accept one of those bantam automobiles for having led his neighborhood in a peewee tournament."

* * *

There is just this, it appears, about amateurism. As soon as the amateur reaches the stage where people will pay to see him or her go through the motions of his act, he ceases to become an amateur. Is that too radical? When a player in any sport can command a profitable gate, what is to prevent that player from sharing in the proceeds?

* * *

Otherwise, isn't it true that only rich young men and women can attain the heights of amateur championship? Should the business of being an amateur be confined to those who are independently wealthy?

* * *

Especially in tennis is the hypocrisy of amateurism flaunted. Good tennis players file expense accounts after participating in tournaments. If the player can file such an account, reimbursing him for his pains in playing, what is to prvent his acceptance of any sort of a gift offered to him?

* * *

George Lott announced recently there would be no more Davis Cup tennis for him. He didn't want to rudely awaken in a few more years, he said and find himself a confirmed "tennis bum." In what sort of light does that throw amateurism?

* * *

Mack Garner, salaried at $20,000 a year, is said to be the highest paid jockey in the world. You'll have to admit that he has been doing some pretty tall Garnering.

* * *

A horse named Mr. Sponge won a race the other day. Joe O'Goofty waa just about to say something about the other horses being all washed up when we bounced a waste-basket off his dome.

* * *

Chicago is a city where the people think Babe Ruth is the Hack Wilson of the American League.

* * *

"Urge uniform lights for night baseball," says a head line. O'Goofty wants to know if those guys are going to start carrying around lamps on their caps.

* * *

Charley Root of the Chicago Cubs was hurt and it was announced he would be out for a week. The next day he gave a National League team three hits. Maybe it was only his feelings that were hurt.

* * *

* * *

Here's one to add to your book of similes: As common as a crucial series in the National League.

* * *

The Hairy Ainu, a race inhabiting the Island of Yeza, is noted for its gorilla-like appearance. We can't understand why boxers' managers haven't brought a couple of them over.

* * *

The United States amateur golf tournament will be held at Philadelphia in September. Most followers are wondering who will be runner-up.

* * *

These are dog days, but the boxing fan seems to be in no danger of becoming rabid.

St. Saviour's Football Eleven Wins Exhibition

Seattle, Sept. 15.—The St. Saviour's Soccer Football Club of Vancouver, B.C., triumphed 4 to 0 in an exhibition match here yesterday over a team of Washington all-stars at the civic auditorium field.

Hard Tackling and Husky Forward Work Victoria Reps' Hope

Visitors Greeted at Dock by Mayor Anscomb and Local Union Delegates; Enjoyed Civic Luncheon at Crystal Garden; Phil Willis, Former Local "Rep" Coach, Optimistic Over Showing of Capital Squad; Forwards Expected to Be Deciding Factor in Game.

The Victoria "rep" team's strength against the touring Imperial Japanese, who arrived in town to-day, will lie in the husky forward division and hard tackling tactics, according to the opinion of Phil Willis, last year's "rep" team coach. Yesterday Phil turned out to see the local boys in action at the Willows Park and came away with the impression that they will give the visiting Nippons a good game when they clash at the Royal Athletic Park on Wednesday.

Arriving on the Seattle boat to-day, the visitors were met by Mayor Anscomb and V. L. Denton, H. J. Ketchem, Bob Travis, Campbell Forbes and Fred Cabeldu, representing the Victoria rugby union and the "Rep" team.

Immediately after the welcome, the Japanese were taken to the Crystal Garden for a luncheon tendered by the City Council. Following this function the visitors went to their rooms at the Strathcona Hotel and prepared for a practice.

BANQUET TO-NIGHT

This evening they will be the guests of Taka Hashi at a novel dinner in the Pekin restaurant.

Before the game on Wednesday, a flag will be presented to the Victoria team by the visitors after the players have been introduced to one another.

Having seen the whirlwinds from across the ocean in action in Vancouver, Phil Willis thinks that Victoria has just the right system to give the visitors a tough game. The pack is much the same as that which hammered out wins for the city last year. It should be able to buck the hard shoving of the Nipponese, Phil thinks.

From his opinion and other reports about the Vancouver games, the local coaches have learned that the Mainlanders fell down badly on their tackling. They think that by working heavily on the touring squad the capital squad will be able to wear them down.

Reports that Vancouver's speedy backfield was far too slow for the Japanese has given added apprehension to the three-quarter line of the locale, but at all events the Victorians will be in good shape and will certainly give the boys from the land of the Mikado something to worry about as far as tackling is concerned.

The general impression of those who have seen the games in Vancouver seems to be that the Mainlanders have not been clicking up to their usual form.

VISITORS FAST

From another prominent enthusiast comes word that the Japanese back division has repeatedly flashed form equal to that of the New Zealand All Blacks. Kat, the fast and tricky halfback on the visiting team, is considered a combination of quick thinking and dynamic energy. Victoria is considering putting a man on the field for the express purpose of watching this streak.

Substitution of Ben McMillan for Art Webster has been greeted with mixed feeling here. Both men are of high calibre with Webster showing a slight superiority in ball handling. However, the former flashy inside three has failed to turn out to the practices and his position has been forfeited.

VICTORIA TEAM

Victoria Golf Club Members Defeat Colwood "A" Team for Fifth Year

Score for Two Halves Is 43 to 37; Victoria "B" Team Also Score a Win

For the fifth successive year members of the Victoria Golf Club yesterday captured the Biggerstaff Wilson trophy, defeating Colwood's "A" team by a score of 24½ to 15½ in the second half of the annual match played at the Oak Bay course. In the first half of the match played at Colwood the home team gained a three-point lead but the Victoria team wiped this out yesterday and won the match by a six-point margin, the final score being Victoria 43, Colwood 37.

In the fourballs Victoria scored fourteen points to Colwood's six, while in the singles the Oak Bay players hung up a total of 10½ points to Colwood's 9½.

BEASLEY WINS

Art Beasley, club champion at Oak Bay, engaged in a great match with Harold Lineham, finally winning after a close fight all the way. Norman Wallace, Colwood Club champion, was the victor in his match with Alex. Watson. Beasley and Watson scored a fine victory over Lineham and Wallace in the fourballs.

While the "A" teams were battling at Oak Bay the "B" teams were matching strokes at Colwood. The Oak Bay players scored a victory in this engagement, winning by the overwhelming score of 27 to 10. Oak Bay scored twelve points in the singles as compared to Colwood's seven, and in the fourballs increased their lead by gaining fifteen points against Colwood's three.

Taicoun Winner Of Stake Event At French Track

Longchamps, France, Sept. 15.—Taicoun, belonging to Senator James Hennessey, former Minister of Agriculture, won the Royal Oak Stakes, feature race of the opening day on the Longchamps autumn meeting in dismal, rainy weather, yesterday. Taicoun, a son of Sourbier out of Tahiti and ridden by the American jockey Frank Keogh, won by a length from the even-money favorite, Chateau Bouscaut, which was a length and one-half in front of the second choice, Rieur.

The winner paid seventeen to one. The race, over a course of a mile and seven-eighths, was worth $12,000.

Rochester Wins Third Straight Baseball Title

New York, Sept. 15.—The Rochester Red Wings clinched their third straight International League pennant yesterday by winning the first game of their double header from Montreal, 7 to 6, while Baltimore dropped its first game to Reading, 10 to 5. The victory was Rochester's 103rd of the season while the Orioles after their defeat could only reach a total of 102 victories by winning all their remaining games.

YOUNG SIR TOMS BEAT ABOUT BAY IN SOU'EASTER

"Better go back and pick up your rudder, you dropped it on the last tack."

That is what the young "Sir Tom Liptons" and "Vanderbilts" were shouting to one another as they raced over the waters of Foul Bay yesterday, before a good southeast wind that gave even the square-rigged punts a chance to breeze along.

Fired with enthusiasm by the races between the Shamrock and the Enterprise, Foul Bay youngsters went down to the sea in ships yesterday and beat about the bay in all manner of odd craft, ranging from miniature "yachts," with capacity for two, to a six-foot punt, rigged with a square sail on a bamboo pole that bent like a reed under the strong gusts of wind.

Up and down the bay they swept, sometimes precariously perched on the weather side, sometimes prone in the bottom of their crafts as they raced before the wind.

Here a flatbottomed skiff drifted sideways as rapidly as it went forward. There a trim little boat, with well fashioned sails, cut through the water in true racing form.

Outstanding was the punt, built by a young nine-year-old lad, six feet long with a beam of two and one-half feet and a fourteen-inch draft. Captained by a sandy-haired youngster, with a crew of one, the little craft drew much attention along the waterfront.

Shouting to his crew, a full four feet away, Captain "Frank" issued orders that were heard all over the beach and supplemented his instructions with admonitions to the other lad that he couldn't swim "and had better look out for the wopping big waves that 'er comin' in on the weather bow."

The sea grew higher and several of the less staunch-hearted drew their crafts up on the shore ready for a milder breeze during the week.

There is still a great lure in "a wet sheet and a flowing sail" for the lads of Victoria.

Johnny Doeg Wins U.S. Tennis Title In Thrilling Final

Giant California Youngster Turns Back Frank Shields, Nineteen-year-old New Yorker, 10-8, 1-6, 6-4, 16-14 To Capture Singles Crown; Longest Final in History of Event; Doeg Weary at Finish; Doeg Is Two-fold Champion, Holding Doubles Crown Along With George Lott.

Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 15.—Johnny Doeg, brawny young southpaw from Santa Monica, California, won the United States tennis championship Saturday at the age of twenty-one.

In a hair-raising final match contested amid scenes of highest tension before a capacity crowd of 13,000, this new "California Comet" achieved a stirring victory over the nineteen-year-old Frank Shields of New York, 10-8, 1-6, 6-4, 16-14, to ascend the throne.

Through the thrilling moments of a great thirty-game fourth set, longest ever contested in the final round of this classy tournament, Doeg and Shields fought it out with the issue in doubt until the final stroke. Four times in that memorable set Shields held set point, but was unable to put over the telling stroke. Doeg is a two-fold champion as he and George Lott of Chicago won the National doubles title for the second time two weeks ago.

DOEG ACCLAIMED

The towering Shields rushed to the net with a flashing smile to shake the hand of the new champion, and the 13,000 in the gallery rose in wild acclaim.

The story of that hectic finish was etched on Doeg's handsome face in lines of weariness as he received the big silver cup and became the forty-ninth winner of the proudest tennis title of the United States.

The new champion comes of a tennis family. His mother was Violet Sutton, one of the famous Sutton sisters, who were outstanding figures on the court twenty-five years ago.

Here's Salmon Just Aching To Be Taken Out

When Tom Merriman goes a-fishing, the big ones are so anxious to be caught they swim into the boat. That is one of the latest fish stories, and here is how it goes.

With friends, Tom was out at Brentwood over the week-end looking over the salmon run. One of the party hooked a whale—at least he thought it was.

After a brief fight the monster was brought alongside the boat. In the meantime the fishermen were so excited they had shipped enough water to float their lunches and when Mr. salmon came up for air, he hopped over the gunwale as easily as Lord Burghley takes a hurdle.

At least Tom's party had a twenty-pound salmon to back up the argument.

K. M'CARTER GOLF CHAMP

Wins Championship of Lumbermen's Association at Uplands Saturday

Ken McCarter won the lumbermen's golf championship of Vancouver Island when he turned in a gross score of 93, which, with his handicap of 23, reduced to a net 70, at the Uplands Golf Club on Saturday afternoon. F. W. Hawes finished in second place with a net score of 72.

G. H. Walton and A. Miller shared the honors of the hidden hole competition.

At the annual meeting following the tourney, J. H. Humbird, Chemainus, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year. C. W. Swanson, Nanaimo, was elected secretary, while J. O. Cameron, Victoria; S. M. Saunders and Bruce Farris are the directors.

Yacht Racing Far Too Slow Declares Betty Carstairs

British Girl Speedboat Driver Declares Sport Slow and Unexciting Compared With Motor Boat Racing; Will Go After Straighaway Record Established By Late Sir Henry Segrave; Betty Has Considered Possibility of Building Challenger For America's Cup.

By E. S. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Newport, R.I., Sept. 15.—This racing business among stately, fragile yachts taking up hours of time that might better be spent behind the roaring motors of the world's fastest speed boat is just a lot of yawns and tiresome delays to Marion Betty Carstairs, famous British girl-racer.

Miss Carstairs is a three-time successive challenger for the historic Harmsworth Trophy against Gar Wood in Detroit. Three times defeated with her line of "Estelle" speedsters, she has given up the effort because it is too expensive, and will sail for England Wednesday from New York to bend efforts toward bettering the world straight-away speed boat record of ninety-eight miles an hour set in the dying effort of the late Sir Henry Segrave.

But in the back of Miss Carstairs's mind as she sailed aboard Sir Thomas Lipton's wacht Erin, a guest for the first clash of Shamrock V and Enterprise, was the idea that if the sport might be speeded up a bit she might herself, in seven or eight years, build a challenger for the "old mug." She speaks the yachting language for she once owned a thirty-eight-foot sailor, and to her there is no inference of dizziness in a spinnaker or insult in a gybe.

"You Americans," she said as she paced the deck of the palatial Erin, trim and boyish in a white serge coat and short skirt, bare legged, her boyish haircut crowned by a saucy blue beret, "you're so fightfully good at so many things in sport. You lead in everything you know. I'd have to study yacht racing for years to catch up to you, and I wouldn't try unless I was sure I could win. Then if I did have a boat I'd know what all those gadgets are for about the Enterprise and I'd have as many or more on my boat.

IS TOO SLOW

"Yachting, of course, is frightfully slow and unexciting compared to speed boat racing. If you fall overboard from one of those things you'd be in no danger except of dying from exposure before you were picked up. The last time I went overboard in a speed race I cracked two ribs. I landed hard."

This idea of racing some time for the gold embroidered gold ribbon event of yachting that already has cost Lipton several millions and brought him nothing but defeat was no new idea born in the excitement of the opening day's racing for the America's Cup because there wasn't any. Miss Carstairs said she had had the idea for a long time, but no spare moments to develop it. Once she breaks the straightaway record for motorboats she will feel that it is time to retire from that field.

"Personally," she said, "if I get to traveling above 100 miles an hour in anything, I'll get out and walk."

WENMAN LEADS INCOGS TO WIN OVER ALBIONS

Retires With Forty-seven Runs When Team Advances to Third Round of Knockout

With Reg Wenman and H. Allen batting out forty-seven and forty runs before retiring, the Incogs had a comparatively easy time defeating the Albions by a 106 to 82 score at the University School grounds Saturday. The match placed the winners in the third round of the knockout contest now being held for local cricket teams.

Allen took the majority of wickets for the Incogs, knocking the balls off four thirty runs in twelve overs. Reg. Wenman took three for twenty in three overs.

KID BERG WILL MEET JOE GLICK

English Sensation and Veteran Lightweight Battle at N.Y. To-morrow

Carnera to Meet Philadelphia Ice Man Wednesday; Risko and Babe Hunt Matched

New York, Sept. 15.—The well-known calm follows the storm and boxing's followers who got all steamed up over the McLarnin-Singer battle last week have little to look forward to for the next seven days.

As far as the metropolitan district is concerned, the schedule is a complete blank except for a ten-round struggle between Jack (Kid) Berg, English lightweight sensation, and Joe Glick at the Queensboro stadium Tuesday night.

Other boxing centres have little better to offer. Primo Carnera swings into action against Jack Gross, the Philadelphia ice man, at the Chicago stadium Wednesday night, and Johnny Risko, Cleveland baker boy, takes on Babe Hunt of Poncs City, Okla., at Oklahoma City to-night.

KING TUT MATCHED

One of the closest battles of the week may take place at St. Paul on Friday when My Sullivan, St. Paul welterweight, clashes with King Tut of Minneapolis. Another interesting fray pits Fred Lenhart, Spokane light-heavyweight, against Larry Johnson, hard-hitting Chicago negro, in an eight-round bout at Spokane Tuesday.

St. John's College Opens Rugby Season With Smashing Win

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 15.—Dashing students of St. John's College are off on a mad gallop toward their third Manitoba senior rugby crown. Marshalled by hard-hitting Eddie James, who quit Regina's Roughriders to come back home to Winnipeg, the Saints marked up a 7-3 win over Winnipegs in the grid opener at Carruthers Park Saturday.

Wyer and Demar Lose Marathon To Baltimore Star

Baltimore, Sept. 15.—Clarence Demar, Boston veteran, and Percy Wyer, Canadian champion, were beaten by a Baltimorean, William Agee, in a regulation marathon here Saturday. Agee stepped the distance of more than twenty-six miles in just under three hours three minutes. Wyer was second, and Demar fourth.

Brooklyn Forges Into National Lead

Continue Great Pace By Scoring 8 to 3 Victory Over Cincinnati Yesterday; St. Louis Splits Doubleheader With Boston, Dropping Back Into Second Place; New York Giants Put Themselves Out of Race By Losing Two Games to Pittsburgh; Chicago Cubs Idle; Philadelphia Athletics Gain Firmer Hold.

The events of a busy baseball week-end have brought a new order in the standing on the National League's pennant contenders without bringing much advantage to any of the current big three, Brooklyn, St. Louis and Chicago. This trio, although they are lined up in a new order, are practically on even terms, as they each have lost sixty games and only the difference in the number of victories puts Brooklyn a half game ahead of St. Louis and a full game ahead of Chicago.

New York Giants, however, were practically eliminated from the race, as they lost a double header to the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday and found themselves 5½ games back of first place.

The Giants lost the first clash in the tenth inning, 8 to 6, then went down almost without protest before the pitching of Charley Wood in the seven-inning second game, 7 to 3.

Brooklyn's amazing Robins won their way to the top by scoring their tenth straight victory at the expense of the Cincinnati Reds. The score was 8 to 3. Hollis Thurston failed to uphold the recent tradition of fine Robin pitching when he gave the Reds three runs in the first inning, but Jim Elliott shut them out with six hits in eight 2-3 frames, while powerful hitting against Rixey and Kolp soon put the Robins ahead.

CARDS SPLIT TWO

The Cardinals, who took the lead Saturday, promptly went back to second place yesterday as they divided a double header with the Boston Braves. Effective pitching by Burleigh Grimes, and equally effective hitting, gave the Cards the first game, 9 to 2, but the Braves slammed Sylvester Johnson around to take the second by a 7 to 4 count.

The Cubs and Philadelphia were idle yesterday, but have a double header to-day to make up for it.

The Philadelphia Athletics, already almost certain of winning the American League pennant, made their hold on first place a little safer by bumping Wesley Ferrell and the Cleveland Indians for a 7 to 1 triumph, while Washington was losing a close decision to Chicago.

Chicago's White Sox downed the Senators, 2 to 1, in a ten-inning game and left them 7½ games behind Philadelphia with only a dozen games to play. Four more triumphs for the A's will assure them of nothing worse than a tie for first place.

Charley Ruffing, big New York pitcher, led the Yankees to a 10 to 3 victory over Detroit in the one remaining contest as the Boston-St. Louis double header was rained out.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn, Sept. 15.—The Brooklyn Robins won their tenth straight victory and the Cincinnati Reds suffered their tenth straight defeat here yesterday afternoon when three of Dan Howley's pitchers bowed to the weight of Brooklyn bats. The final score was 8 to 3.

Cincinnati	3	10	2

Batteries—Rixey, Kolp and Sukeforth; Thurston, Elliott and Lopez.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—Boston Braves pushed St. Louis Cardinals from first place yesterday by splitting a double-header with them, while the Robins were winning. St. Louis won first game 9 to 2 and Boston the second 7 to 4 in a game limited to eight innings by the Sunday baseball law.

Grimes made Boston's eleven hits ineffective in the opener, while his mates were bombarding Brandt and Frankhouse. Cantwell pitched steady ball for the Braves in the second game.

ROUGHRIDERS TAKE OPENER

Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 15.—Playing on a sea of mud and through steady downpour of rain, Regina Roughriders won the opening game of the S.R.F.U. schedule when they defeated the Saskatoon Quakers 3 to 0 at Cairn's Field here Saturday afternoon.

There was little to choose between the two lines but the difference in the backfield proved the deciding factor of the game. Sol Bloomfield and Red Currie had the edge on the Quaker kickers and it was their trusty boots that gave the Riders their three single points in the third quarter. The Regina halves were also more adept at handling the slippery ball than the local players who committed numerous fumbles.

Harry Pullen, Torbet and McClocklin bore the brunt of the Quaker attack, while Bloomfield, Grassick and Currie were the mainstays of the Ritchie-coached squad.

COACHES OF VICTORIA'S "REP" RUGGERS

BOB TRAVIS — CAPT. A. J. LEVIEN — FRED CABELDU

When Victoria's "rep" ruggers oppose the touring Japanese fifteen at the Royal Athletic Park on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the first of the two-game series they will be under the watchful eye of Travis, Levien and Cabeldu who have been responsible for putting the local boys through their paces. The officials have worked hard with the Victoria team and believe their boys will make a good showing against the players from the land of the "Rising Sun." Capt. Levien will referee the second game of the series on Saturday. Bob Travis is treasurer of the Victoria Rugby Union while Fred Cabeldu handles the secretary's duties

Huddersfield Pays $40,000 For J. Robson

London, Sept. 15.—The second large transfer fee to be paid in English soccer football within a week was recorded on Saturday when J. Robson, Grimsby Town centre-forward, was acquired by Huddersfield Town for $40,000. The first important transfer concerned Alec Jackson, Huddersfield's Scottish International, who was sold to Chelsea for $42,500. Robson will replace Jackson in the Huddersfield forward line.

KARASICK IS MAT WINNER

Takes Two Out of Three Falls From Paul Wilkins; Brooks-Foresgren Draw

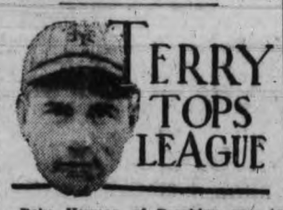
Throwing his opponent to the canvas in the sixth round with a body slam for the deciding fall, Al Karasick, heavyweight wrestler from Astoria, won over Paul Wilkins, Chicago, in the main event of the wrestling card presented at the Tillicum gymnasium on Saturday night. In the five-round semi-wind-up "Rocky" Brooks, Victoria, and Jack Foresgren, Vancouver, wrestled to a draw, each getting one fall.

Karasick and Wilkins put on a good bout with each showing plenty of respect for the other's ability. In the first two rounds Wilkins had the better of the argument, but in the third Karasick uncorked a series of rabbit-punches that gained him the first fall. In the fourth canto Wilkins threw Karasick to the mat with a deadly headlock, and after applying considerable pressure succeeded in making his opponent quit to even up matters.

Matters were fairly even in the fifth but in the sixth Karasick lifted his opponent in the air and threw him to the canvas for the third and deciding fall.

Brooks and Foresgren were very evenly matched, and after each had gained a fall neither was able to secure the third and deciding one.

Two local youngsters, Bernie and Morrie Crump, wrestled to a draw in the opening bout.



TERRY TOPS LEAGUE

Babe Herman of Brooklyn rose to threaten the batting supremacy of Bill Terry in the Big Six and in the National League as the New Yorker fell below the .400 mark.

Terry made only two hits, one of them a homer, in eight trips to the plate, and his average fell off three points to .399. Meanwhile, Herman hit three out of three and raised his mark three points to .395.

Al Simmons also registered a gain, going up one point to .380 with two hits in five tries, while the American League leader failed to add anything to his mark, although he hit two out of four. Chuck Klein was idle, while Babe Ruth hit only once in four attempts and dropped a point.

Morton Football Fans Throw Stones At Visiting Team

Scottish Fans Dislike Their First Defeat at Home This Season at Hands of Cowdenbeath in First Division Match; Out of Ten Matches Saturday Visiting Clubs Won Six and Drew Two; Rangers Win Again; Heavy Grounds Are Real Test to English Teams; Large Attendances at Games.

Glasgow, Scotland, Sept. 15.—Visiting clubs had a great day in Scottish First Division soccer on Saturday, winning six matches and drawing two out of the ten played. Rangers were one of the home teams who won. They beat Leith Athletic, but only after a tense first half, by 4 to 1. Fleming was reintroduced as the leader of the Glasgow team and scored two goals. McPhail also had a couple for the Rangers. Marshall goaled for Leith.

Motherwell went to Aberdeen and won by 4 to 2. Two quick goals by Battles gave Hearts a victory over Clyde, who scored through Borland. East Fife, newly up from the minors, suffered their sixth consecutive defeat when beaten by Airdrie by 5 to 1.

St. Mirren, through the two goals of Reilly and McCrae's tally, easily beat Falkirk, who saved themselves a whitewashing through Kennedy's marker. Hamilton Academicals and Celtic battled to a scoreless draw at Hamilton.

Partick Thistle swamped Hibernian by 3 to 0. Kilmarnock was the other home team to keep their colors flying though they only just scraped home against Ayr United through the goals of Ramsay and Smith. Hart goaled for Ayr.

Morton suffered their first home defeat in a game in which the crowd threw stones at the visitors. They were beaten by Cowdenbeath 2 to 1.

After being two goals down, Queen's Park managed to finish in a 2 to 2 tie with Dundee at Hampden Park.

London, Sept. 15.—Heavy grounds, due to incessant rain lately, gave English soccer football teams their first real test this season on Saturday. However, weather conditions seem to have little effect on the attendances at First Division games. At Upton Park, where Chelsea visited West Ham United, 35,000 were present to see the pensioners badly beaten by 4 to 1.

At Roker Park, where Arsenal won from Sunderland by 4 to 1, though they played without their stars, James and Jones. Newcastle United, when they beat Manchester United in a big scoring match by 7 to 4, won their first away-from-home encounter.

Huddersfield Town did not seem to be worried by the loss of Jackson, because they went to Liverpool and won by 4 to 1. They played Robson, transferred from Grimsby, at centre forward.

Reading suffered their fifth successive defeat when they were beaten at Burnley by the high score of 8 to 1.

Another high scoring match was that between Preston North End and Wolverhampton Wanderers, the former winning by 5 to 4.

ONE-SIDED MATCH

Thames, the "babes" of the southern section of the Third Division, were ruthlessly treated at Coventry, suffering defeat by 7 to 1. Coventry showed distinct superiority throughout, getting off to a fine start through the goals of Phillips in the fourth minute and Ball in the fifth.

Chesterfield gained the leadership of the northern section by a meritorious win at home over Rotherham United by 2 to 1.

Rifle Shooting

Turning in scores of 100, 99 and 98, Lieutenant D. Fyvie, Sergeant J. H. Regan and Sergeant A. E. Ashe, all of the Canadian Scottish, led the marksmen in the first round of the Weller Cup Shoot at Heal's Ranges on Saturday.

Poor light and uncertain wind, made shooting difficult. The first rounds were shot at 300, 500 and 600 yards. Next Saturday, shooting will be done at 300 and 600 yards.

"Dreams Do come true!"

"Boys and Girls, This Offers You a lifetime opportunity"

EARN A TOUR OF EUROPE OR A COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP

For thirty years I have wanted to make this offer. From my own boyhood there remain vivid memories of bitter struggles for the advantages of education and travel. I have looked forward to the time when I might help worthy young people over the same rough spots, and this offer is the realization of that dream. I hope every boy and girl in this land between the ages of 12 and 19 will learn about this plan.

Next summer a happy crowd of boys and girls will receive from The Sparks-Withington Co., either a $750 College Scholarship or a tour of Europe with all expenses paid from the time they leave home until their return. My friends have prevailed upon me to conduct the tour personally. But this is not all. Every boy or girl who works for one of these awards will be paid for whatever success they have, regardless of whether or not they win a Scholarship or Tour.

The work will be interesting and easy. You will not be expected to sell anything. You will be under the personal guidance of a responsible business man in your own community, who will help you succeed.

W. E. Sparks

It costs you nothing to take advantage of this offer. It isn't a game where only a few win and others receive nothing. It is an opportunity for you ALL to work, to produce results, to earn money and to be rewarded in exact proportion to what you accomplish. In addition to the boys and girls from every section of the United States and Canada who win the Grand Awards of a College Scholarship or European Tour—every successful boy and girl will win cash. No effort will go unrepaid.

This offer ends April 15th, 1931. Time is precious, so don't delay. The Sparton dealers listed below will give you full and complete information about this lifetime opportunity that I am offering you. Get in touch with them at once. Simply tell them that you want to know more about the Sparton Scholarship Award. They are expecting you and will furnish everything you need to start at once. Decide to enter right now.

SPEAR SHOT'S WIN FEATURES GET-AWAY DAY

Bowcroft Shows Speed to Capture Handicap; Favorites Have Good Day

Horse racing in British Columbia for the 1930 season was brought to a dramatic finish at the Colwood mile track on Saturday afternoon. The veteran gelding Spear Shot provided the thrill of the afternoon when he came through with a stirring stretch drive in the seventh and final race to capture the two-mile event from Star Falcon by a neck. It was a beautiful finish and one the fans will remember for many a long day. It appeared as if Spear Shot was finishing a sprint instead of a two-mile event, he came through with such a terrific burst of speed.

Get-away day failed to produce any big prices and the afternoon was devoid of any great thrills. There was a good crowd in attendance and betting was the heaviest seen at either of the two local tracks this season. Oak See was the leading rider for the afternoon with two winning mounts.

In the feature event on the card, the Stewards' Handicap, Bowcroft was easily the class over the six furlong sprint, winning by four lengths over Plain Pete, with Simony, the heavily-backed favorite, taking the show money. Racing to the front on the outside, Bowcroft went into the lead on the first turn, and although he was carried wide by Jockey See on the turn into the stretch, won as he pleased. Simony slowed up in the stretch, just managing to hold off the drive of Harry H. Bell.

INVICTUS WINS

Invictus showing the most speed in the drive after being outpaced to the stretch found no trouble in winning the opening race, Maurice Mulcahy, the favorite, after being well back in the field came on fast in the last eighth to take second money. James C., always well up, finished third.

Hill and Hill, with Jockey Cox up, created a mild surprise by winning the second race to pay $14.85, the longest price of the afternoon. Rated in behind the leaders, the winner had the most speed at the finish to beat out Swift Cop by a neck. Rag Bag finished third. Moonchild, the favorite, was never in the running.

Breaking into the lead from the start, Colonel's Daughter won the third race as she pleased. Lady Spain was always in second place and finished there, with Fourteen Sixty third. These three started the race in that position and never altered.

EASY WINNER

Cour de Lion, the public choice, proved far the best of the field in the fifth race. Taking the lead at the first quarter in the race over a mile and seventy yards, the favorite lengthened his lead all the way, crossing the finishing line eight and a half lengths in front of Clarmonde Hope. Wikiup Blossom was third.

Paved Way finishing strongly captured first money in the sixth race over a mile and seventy yards. Dossier was second and Nolda Joe third. The winner after setting the early pace dropped back into second place, Dossier going ahead, but in the final drive Paved Way was the strongest, winning by a length and a half.

A GREAT FINISH

The final race over two miles produced the greatest thrill of the afternoon. On the first mile the horses were well bunched together, with Spear Shot, Star Falcon and Warsina setting the pace in turn. Starting the second mile Spear Shot dropped back and Warsina went ahead with Spear Shot in second place. Just before entering the stretch Star Falcon challenged the leader and went ahead, opening up a three lengths lead over Warsina and about four lengths on Spear Shot. In the last seventy yards Spear Shot, under fine riding by Jockey Marshall, cut loose with a beautiful sprint to pass Star Falcon for a win by a neck. Warsina was third two and a half lengths behind the place horse.

The results follow:

First race, claiming, purse $300, for three-year-olds and up, five furlongs—1, Invictus, $9.95, $4.60, $3.95; 2, Maurice Mulcahy, $3.35, $3.05; 3, James C., $7.95. Time 1.02 4-0.

Second race, claiming, purse $200, for three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—1, Hill and Hill, $14.85, $6.95, $4.50; Swift Cop, $7.80, $4.70; 3, Rag Bag, $3.85. Time 1.16 1-5.

Third race, claiming, purse $200, for three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—1, Colonel's Daughter, $7.90, $3.45, $2.85; 2, Lady Spain, $3.70, $2.95; 3, Fourteen-Sixty, $3.40. Time 1.14 2-5.

Fourth race, the Stewards' Handicap, purse $500, for all ages, six furlongs—1, Bowcroft, $6.60, $3.45, $2.35; 2, Plain Pete, $3.80, $2.95; 3, Simony, $2.50. Time 1.12 3-5.

Fifth race, claiming, purse $250, for four-year-olds and up, mile and seventy yards—1, Coeur de Lion $4.40, $3.80, $3.55; 2, Clarimonde Hope, $5.60, $4.10; 3, Wikiup Blossom, $5.00. Time 1.47 2-5.

Sixth race, claiming, purse $250, for four-year-olds and up, mile and seventy yards—1, Paved Way, $7.20, $3.10, $2.30; 2, Dossier, $3.40, $2.50; 3, Nelda Joe, $2.60. Time 1.48 3-5.

Seventh race, claiming, purse $400, for four-year-olds and up, two miles—1, Spear Shot, $8.00, $3.45, $2.85; 2, Star Falcon, $5.30, $3.25; 3, Warsina, $4.15. Time 3.36 4-5.

Duncan Tennis Players Reach League Finals

Duncan's team in the first section of the Third Division of the Vancouver Island Tennis League joined Langford and the C.P.R. clubs in the play-offs yesterday by defeating the Armdale Tennis Club in the play-off of the first section at Duncan. The score was fourteen matches to ten. A meeting of the committee early this week will decide the date for the first play-off game. One of the three teams will hold a bye and will meet the winner of the first match.

ESQUIMALT GIRL PRETTY BRIDE

Michaelmas daisies and pink dahlias formed the pretty decoration in St. Paul's Church, Esquimalt, on Saturday evening for the marriage of Caroline Annie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tindall, 730 Sea Terrace, and Mr. William Charles (Van) Martin, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Martin, Lampson Street. Rev. F. C. Chapman officiated and Mr. E. Holloway, organist, played the wedding music. The service was fully choral.

Singing "O Father, All Creating," the choir preceded the bride up the aisle as she entered with her father. She was a graceful figure in her French gown of embossed ivory velvet and Chantilly lace. The slim bodice of velvet had long sleeves of lace with deep cuffs formed of strands of velvet, and the full lace skirt just touched the floor all round, a veil of eggshell net arranged in soft folds and caught at the back with a strand of orange blossom, with clusters over each ear. She carried a shower bouquet of red roses, white heather and maidenhair fern.

Miss Margery Tindall was the only bridesmaid, in canary-yellow georgette, cut in long lines, with a shoulder cape, and finished at the natural waistline with a bow of mauve velvet. She wore a picture hat to match and carried a sheaf of yellow chrysanthemums and single mauve asters. Two dainty little flower girls were Shirley Anne Davis cousin of the bride, and Mary Ashe, her godchild, both in frilly georgette frocks, the former in mauve and the latter in peach. They wore hair bandeaux of French flowers and carried Colonial bouquets.

Mr. Herbert Martin supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Arthur Porter and Mr. Benjamin Reading.

Following the service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with flowers in shades of pink, mauve and yellow. The young couple received the felicitations of their many friends in the drawing-room, which was attractive with tall standards of goldenrod, dahlias and gladiolii, and were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Tindall, in a dress of brown crepe de Chine, polka dotted in white, with hat to match, and by Mrs. Martin Sr., wearing navy blue crepe de Chine and hat en suite.

The supper table was centred with the four-tier bride cake, and was decorated with tall yellow candles in branched silver candelabra, and vases of yellow begonias and maidenhair fern.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin left at midnight for Vancouver, en route to Seattle and Portland, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride traveling in a gown of brown crepe de Chine, a muskrat coat and a felt hat to match with a deep, uneven brim, trimmed with touches of orange. On their return they will make their home on Seaview Avenue, Hillside.

Among the numerous gifts received was a silver rose basket from St. Paul's choir, of which the bride was a member, and a silver pyrex dish from the W.A., also an etching of Canterbury Cathedral from the rector, wardens and committee of the church.

Out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. T. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hulsh and Miss Maida Hulsh of Vancouver; Mrs. Stanley Ellis of San Francisco, and Mr. and Miss Sherburn of Shawnigan Lake and Mr. and Mrs. J. Clegg of James Island.

MISS DOCKRILL WED IN EAST

Former Western Girl Bride of John C. Moore of London, Eng.

Many Vancouver Island friends of the bride, who used to be a frequent visitor at Chemainus as the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Palmer, will be interested in the following account of the wedding of Miss Frances Dockrill, which took place in Toronto on Tuesday last:

"A lovely autumn wedding took place in the St. James' cathedral this afternoon, at three o'clock, when Frances Eleanor, youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. W. R. Dockrill, was married to Mr. John C. Moore of London, England, brother of Mr. Napier Moore. Miss Dockrill has been living in London for some time now, and was recently presented at the Court of St. James. His Grace the Archbishop of New Westminster officiated at the ceremony, and was assisted by Canon Plumptre.

The stately old church was beautiful with standards of palms, ferns and autumn flowers, which were stationed on either side of the altar. The guest pews were marked off with ropes of white silk cord. To the strains of the wedding march by Mendelssohn, rendered by Dr. Albert Ham, the lovely bride entered the church on the arm of her cousin, the Hon. E. J. Brundage, of Chicago, formerly attorney-general of Illinois, who gave her in marriage. The service was fully choral.

BRIDE BEAUTIFUL

The bride was beautiful in her Patou model gown of ivory satin and Limerick lace, fashioned simply on long lines, the skirt reaching to the floor. The neck was round, and her sleeves were tight-fitting to the elbow, and then fell in a cascade of the Limerick lace to the wrist. The back of the gown was strapped in satin, and from these at the waistline the graceful train fell away in lustrous lengths. The train was edged with the Limerick lace, and lengths of the lace were arranged on the train in puffed effect. She wore cream satin slippers and a long veil of Limerick lace with a face veil of tulle. The veil was held in place by a coronet of pearls. Her only ornaments were a sapphire and diamond bracelet, the gift of the groom, and a diamond brooch. Her bouquet was a shower of lily of the valley.

The matron of honor was Mrs. C. P. D. Lomax of Toronto, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Talcott of New London, Connecticut, a school friend of the bride when she attended school in Providence, Rhode Island; Miss Muriel (Bunty) Baird of Glasgow; Miss Elsie Levy of Hamilton; while the flower girl was little Miss Caroline Lomax, niece of the bride. The bride's attendants were frocked alike in vivid green chiffon, the skirts reaching to the instep in front and falling very full at the back. The dresses were shirred at the waist and the sleeves were tight to the elbow, and then fell in loose lengths over the wrist. They wore bronze mesh Juliet caps and carried Talisman roses. Their slippers were green moire with bronze straps. The little flower girl was in an ivory satin Kate Greenaway frock with green slippers, a silver mesh Juliet cap and a variegated colonial nosegay.

The best man was Mr. R. B. Best, and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Ketchem, Mr. R. J. Sankey, Mr. Cyril Capreol, and Mr. Carlos Holt, all of Toronto.

RECEPTION IS HELD

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the roof garden of the Royal York Hotel, where some two hundred guests were present. Mrs. Dockrill, mother of the bride, received in black lace with black velvet and felt hat. Mrs. E. J. Palmer, grandmother of the bride, was present, wearing beige lace, with black hat and black wrap. Mrs. Napier Moore, sister-in-law of the bride, assisted, and wore a brown costume with silver lace and brown hat. Following the reception the bride and groom left for their home in London, England. For traveling, the bride was costumed in a Copenhagen blue French broadcloth ensemble with ivory satin blouse. Her coat was trimmed with gray fox and her hat and shoes and purse were of matching blue cloth.

Mr. Joseph Wrigleswortb, one of Victoria's oldest residents, celebrated his ninetieth birthday on Saturday. Born in England, at Grimstone, near York, on September 13, 1840, Mr. Wrigleswórth came via Panama to Victoria in 1862, when Victoria was little more than a village, a few muddy streets and cattle trails. For fifty-seven years Mr. Wrigleswortb has been a member of the Oddfellows and a prominent Forester. He had four sons and two daughters, and his wife was Miss Sarah Allatt, of Victoria, whom he married in 1878. Two sons, Charles and William, and a daughter, Mrs. Rhodes, live in Victoria; Edward in Vancouver, and a daughter also lives in California.

Mrs. John Lafon of Vancouver, who came over to Victoria to meet her son and daughter, Mr. Jack Lafon and Miss Patsy Lafon, who returned on the R.M.S. Aorangi from Honolulu where they have been spending the summer months, has returned to her home on the mainland. While in Victoria, Mr. Lafon was the guest of Mrs. D. O. Cameron, the Gorge Road.

MARIGOLD GIRL WED SATURDAY

Miss Maisie Frost Becomes Bride of Stanley V. Shemilt

Wilkinson Road United Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Rev. J. C. Switzer united in marriage Annie Mary (Maisie), only daughter of Quartermaster-Sergeant Instructor W. Frost, P.P.C.L.I., and Mrs. Frost of Gladiola Avenue, Marigold, and Stanley Vernon, second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Shemilt of Seattle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked pretty in a dress of royal blue georgette with flared skirt and trimmed with ecru lace. She wore a hat to match, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, delphinium, sweet peas and fern.

Miss Blanche Shemilt, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a pretty dress of maroon chiffon and a black hat. She carried a bouquet of pale pink asters, pink dahlias and fern. Mr. William Frost, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, which had been prettily decorated with pink and mauve asters and fern. In the dining-room the bride cake had the place of honor on the table, which was decorated with pink sweet peas and tall pink candles.

Mrs. Frost, mother of the bride, becomingly attired in a gown of black crepe, and Mrs. Shemilt, mother of the groom, in a smart gown of green silk, assisted in receiving the guests. The bride cut the cake with her father's sword.

Mr. and Mrs. Shemilt left later for Portland, Oregon, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride traveling in a navy blue coat, with handsome fox furs and taking the wedding bouquets, which will be placed on the grave of the groom's brother in Seattle.

Among the gifts received was a beautiful chesterfield table from the order department of David Spencer Ltd., and a silver and pyrex dish from the grocery department, of which the bride had been a member, also a silver tea service and tray from the firm of Plimley & Ritchie Ltd., of whose staff the groom is a member. The groom's gift to the bride was a purse; to the bridesmaid a gray beaded bag, and to the best man gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the groom was a silver cigarette case.

The out-of-town guests included Miss B. Carter of Penrith, Cumberland, England, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. W. Shemilt Sr. of Seattle, and Miss B. Shemilt of Seattle.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

A good plain cake rule that can be varied in several ways is often wanted. The following rule makes a cake that is very satisfactory to serve with fresh fruit at this season of the year. It's economical too.

The variations are many. Two or three tablespoons of cocoa can be added to make an acceptable emergency chocolate cake to serve with vanilla ice cream.

Or a layer cake with a custard filling, using the yolks for the custard and putting the white in the cake, can be concocted to furnish the whole dessert.

Half the rule can be used to make a Washington cream pie, cup cakes or "upside-down" cake. In the case of the "pie," the egg white is saved for the top frosting and the "pie" is filled with jam or fresh fruit.

The spice or chocolate cake can be made with a combination of butter and lard in place of all butter. Extra salt must be added to take care of the lard, which is an unsalted fat. Keep in mind that the flavor of cake made with any unsalted fat is improved if extra salt is added to the cake batter.

PLAIN CAKE RECIPE

One cup granulated sugar, 1-2 cup shortening, 1 2-3 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 2 eggs, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Cream shortening and gradually beat in sugar. Stir in 4 tablespoons sifted flour. Mix and sift remaining flour with baking powder and salt. Add well beaten eggs to first mixture and beat hard with dover beater. Add milk and remaining flour mixture alternately to first mixture, stirring just enough to keep the batter smooth. Stir in vanilla and pour into oiled and floured cake pan. Bake forty minutes in a moderate oven. If baked in layers, bake twenty minutes.

Half the rule will make twelve cup cakes.

Daily Menu

Dinner—Pot roast of beef, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, new turnips in easy Hollandaise sauce, corn on the cob, chilled watermelon.

A gladiolii tea is to be the attractive opening social of the season, arranged by the Ladies' Aid of the Church of Our Lord, Reformed Episcopal, and to be held to-morrow afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock in the Bishop Cridge Memorial Hall. Many beautiful blooms are being donated by C. F. McTavish for the occasion, and will be auctioned off after tea. A delicious tea is being arranged and a table of homemade delicacies will also be in evidence to tempt the epicure.

I.O.D.E. Silver Tea.—Under the auspices of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E., a silver tea will be held on Wednesday at the Y.W.C.A., from 3 till 5.30 o'clock. Mrs. E. C. Hayward will give one of her Shakespearean interpretation on Lady Mcbeth. There will be an attractive table of articles of work for sale.

WHY WORKING WIVES IN JOBS

Cleveland Labor Dept. Investigates 550 Cases; Economic Necessity

So much controversy has been aroused in British Columbia lately over the question of whether married women should be allowed to hold jobs that it may be interesting to consider an analysis made recently in Cleveland, Ohio, by the Department of Labor. One of its findings was that while women workers often have been accused of taking jobs that could be filled by men who needed them, most wage-earning mothers work because their husbands do not make enough money to support their families decently.

550 CASES STUDIED

A study of 550 mothers engaged in wage-earning occupations in Cleveland disclosed that a large majority work because of economic necessity.

In 295 cases the husbands were living with their wives, 119 women were widows, sixty-two were divorced and forty-six had been deserted.

In thirteen cases the husbands were in institutions.

Of the 295 women whose husbands were living at home, 187 said that their reason for going to work was the insufficient income of the husbands.

LESS THAN $30

Personal preference was the reason of thirty-four, while the husbands of thirty-three were ill and the husbands of twenty-six were jobless.

In eighty per cent. of the cases where insufficient income was given as the reason, the husbands received less than $30 a week. The families studied averaged 2.3 children.

Most of the 550 women were doing full time work away from home, with 248 of them in domestic work or personal service.

FACTORIES LEAD

Factories gave employment to 224 others, fifty-one were saleswomen in stores, seventeen were office workers, six were in professional occupations and forty-five were employed at night.

More than half of all the women did all of the laundry work themselves. Fifty mothers sent the children to a nursery while they worked, ninety-nine had them cared for at home by relatives or friends and 183 said nobody took care of them.

Columbia W.A. — The Diocesan Board of Columbia W.A. will hold its September meeting on Friday at the St. Paul's Parish Hall, Esquimalt, commencing at 11 o'clock. At the afternoon session at 2 o'clock, Mrs. E. P. Laycock will speak on the subject of the Qualicum Beach Mission.

KING CAROL HAS MANY WORRIES

Alleged He Is Trying to Buy Off Mme. Lupescu

Vienna, Sept. 15.—A foreign diplomat stationed in the Roumanian capital, who arrived here yesterday en route to Paris, said King Carol's responsibilities growing out of his youthful escapes are now weighing like a ton of lead on his shoulders and are embittering his life.

The trouble arises, the diplomat says, out of the King's difficulties on one hand to shake off Mme. Magda Lupescu, his companion in exile, and on the other, by his inability to obtain recognition of her by his subjects.

One by one the king's intimate friends are turning from him, the envoy relates, in realization the enthronement of Mme. Lupescu in place of Queen Helen, the king's divorced wife who refuses to become reconciled despite Carol's proclamation she is queen, would be an affront to the nation.

In court circles it is asserted the king married Mme. Lupescu while he was living in Paris without royal rights and now is trying to buy her off, sending an intimate friend to conduct the negotiations.

Some even say Mme. Lupescu is in the royal summer palace at Sinaia. There is no confirmation of that, but it is known the guards of the palace were trebled Wednesday.

The diplomat who related these incidents said despite his many difficulties the king no longer was attempting a reconciliation with his divorced royal wife, who feels her position with the people is steadily growing stronger.

Victorian Order Of Nurses Busy During Summer

Summer brought little respite to the busy nurses of the Victorian Order, for during June, July and August they paid a total of 990 visits, according to reports presented at the September meeting held last week at 240 Cook Street.

These visits were made up as follows: June: Nursing beside visits, 546; educational, 444 (of these, 257 were for Metropolitan Insurance and 628 free); baby clinics attended, four; July—Visits, 965; bedside nursing visits, 497; educational, 468 (183 for Metropolitan 641 free); baby clinics attended, five; August—Visits, 1,102; bedside nursing visits, 641; educational, 641 (for Metropolitan Insurance Company, 148; 663 free); baby clinics attended, three.

BUSY DURING FAIR

The report also noted that during the Provincial Fair week certain of the nurses were on duty twelve hours daily, giving first aid, applying dressings to thirty-two patients in all, and measuring and weighing 2,200 people.

In addition to carrying on the T.B work of the city, which the Victorian Order of Nurses has done for some years, the order has recently undertaken more work in this direction and have since May detailed a nurse for follow-up work and special care. This nurse's services are paid for by the Kiwanis Club, which is generously devoting a certain sum, the result of the sale of Christmas seals, to this cause.

DONATIONS ACKNOWLEDGED

Donations for July and August gratefully acknowledged are: Cheque for $1,000 from E. D. and W. D. Todd; children's clothing and woollies from Mrs. Hutchison, Mrs. Gireaux, Mrs C. Johns, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Gardiner, and Mrs. Hunter; old linen, Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Morkill; comforts for the sick, Miss Duke, Mrs. Cameron, and Mrs. H. G. Wilson; bedsteads, A. G. YOUR BABY and MINE

by Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

All of us long for the impossible. If we could choose our facial characteristics we would all have short, tip-tilted noses, enormous eyes and dimples. My own round-faced daughter pines for a long face with high cheekbones. When mothers have ceased to sign for the moon for themselves, they want miracles for their children.

Imagine letting this be a worry when there are so many real ones in the world. A Worried Mother writes me: "I see where you help others and I would be obliged if you would help me. My baby daughter is two years old and built proportionately. Her hair will not grow. I have tried not washing it for several days and this hasn't helped. She has never had her hair cut, but I have trimmed it. I would just love to see her hair in curls. Her hair grows darker every day. Would you think it safe to use something on it?"

HAIR SHAFT HAS DEFINITE TYPE

When mothers ask me, "If I brush the baby's hair the wrong way when it is wet, will it curl in time?" and then again, "My baby's hair is curly. If I have it cut will the curl leave it?" I can only say that if curly hair could be encouraged by any such methods, there wouldn't be a straight-haired adult, and if curly hair would be lost because of cutting there wouldn't be a curly-haired man.

Of course, we know that nothing like this happens. If a child has straight hair it remains straight; if it is curly, ditto. The shape of the hair shaft itself is what makes curly or straight hair, for we know that even a thin flat sliver of wood will curl, while a round tube of any kind resists every effort to make it stay curled. When an adult has a permanent wave the change comes about because the hair shaft is temporarily pressed flat by heat. As soon as the new round-cylindered hair grows in it is just as straight as it ever was. In this case "permanent" means for one season.

KEEPING HAIR ATTRACTIVE

My suggestion is to make the best of whatever type of hair baby has inherited. Whether straight or curly, blonde, red or black, it is attractive if clean, healthy and well kept. Cut your child's hair so that it frames the face attractively, keep it well brushed, wash it twice weekly with good soap suds, rinse well and in the last rinse water squeeze the juice of a lemon. This will give it the bright glints you desire if you dry it in the sun.

The thickness and health of the hair is definitely affected by the child's diet. Any part of the body is only superficially improved by being treated directly; but the whole body is affected, and therefore each part of it, by good food, plenty of sunshine and fresh air, sleep and exercise. This is usually disappointing to mothers who would much rather rub on a tonic conscientiously. Write this department for the leaflet on "Care of Hair and Teeth (enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope, please), and also on "Week's Menu for the Child from Two to Four."

Heartbreaks Kills Bess

Poughkeepsie, Sept. 15.—She was still just a show girl at heart. And that's way, at the prospect of giving up trouping under the biggest top of them all to become a sort of freak attraction in an up-state amusement park, she just lay down and died. After all, to give up your career at the age of ninety-three—that's a wrench!

Her name was Bess, and probably to the crowds who visit performances of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus she was just one of the elephants. But 1,100 other wild animals of the circus and the 1,600 performers and employees—they all knew better. They knew Bess to be the first elephant John Ringling bought when he started his career as a circus man and as such to be entitled to all respect.

The circus arrived here early to-day from Stamford, Conn., to perform in Poughkeepsie to-morrow. The showing here is to be on the grounds of Woodcliffe Pleasure Park, which is owned by Fred H. Ponty, and as a gesture of friendship toward Mr. Ponty, Mr. Ringling had arranged Bess should be turned over to him as a surprise gift. The presentation was to have been made to-day on behalf of Mr. Ringling by Carl Hathaway, circus manager; George Smith, assistant manager, and Frank Cook, legal adjuster.

So when the other elephants were taken from the fourth section of the circus train here this morning Bess was left alone in the car. What black thoughts she had at that procedure, what dire premonitions, probably never will be known. She stood it for a little while. Then she gave three lusty trumpet calls, sank to her knees and expired. The first to reach her was George "Deafy" Denman, who had cared for her for thirty years.

Dr. William F. Shields, the circus veterinarian, pronounced death due to senility. Then he changed his mind. "Bess passed out from a trouper's broken heart."

She was born in India. Her body will go to the Peabody Museum at Yale University.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Since the advent of talking pictures, many of us have watched carefully their reaction on children.

The question, "Should children go to the movies?" answered unsatisfactorily heretofore by various qualifications, suddenly faced us again in a new form. Words explaining erstwhile glossed-over meanings no longer "go over the heads" of the small fry. They come home now entirely informed of what is going on.

Mothers have done the natural thing, nable to stem the tide of movie-going on the part of the children, too busy to investigate what type of picture their offspring are going to see, they are inclined to put the blame on the producers.

CENSORSHIP AT STUDIOS

It would take a volume, and a big one, to enumerate the cleansing processes that motion picture production has undergone during the last few years, and still is undergoing. The code of ethics strictly observed by the central board representing all the big producers would amaze the uninitiated. Censorship is the watchword of production now, right at the studios.

But the public at large can't get away from the idea that all pictures produced must be fit for children. Furthermore, what one section of the public considers wrong, another understands as right. Still further, we all have our preferences. The picture that entertains one, may bore another completely. The industry, understanding that, has attempted to please everyone.

The picture business was conceived not as entertainmetn for children, but for adults. There has been a steady effort, with promising results, to turn out pictures that primarily are children's pictures. Probably the talkies have speeded up that effort more than anything else could have done, for the producers themselves, always quick to see ahead and feel the public pulse, realized the weakness of the spoken show, particularly the worldly problem show, as far as the children are concerned.

MATURE MIND NOT INFLUENCED

I should not send children to just any talkie that happens to be in town. Parents who urge that children know "facts of life" forget that knowing biological facts does not prepare for or take the place of sociological problems sometimes offered in the brilliant society drama now rather ubiquitously present. An older mind is entertained, takes it for what it is worth, discards it and goes home to bed. His values are fixed. His mature mind is not influenced.

But a child is different. I heard an eleven-year-old girl recently go over almost word for word the erotic sentences of a quadrangular mixup. I've watched her reactions for several years. She chooses the sensational show invariably, and her ideas of the world are all upside down.

Let the children go to the talkies, by all means. eLt them go to see rip-roaring stories, comedies and love dramas, but first take a little trouble and look over reviews. Curtail the too-old, sophisticated show that never was produced for children.

Parents should take the responsibility of what shows we want the children to see, just as we look after the books they read or the company they keep.

Latest Models of Many Makes Shown And Demonstrated

New Features Incorporated in Most Recent Sets Included in Exhibition of Equipment at Department Store; Special H.B.C. Instrument Drawing Much Attention Among Machines of Higher Price; Splendid Models on View in Tastefully Decorated Room.

Displaying the latest models of many of the best radios, the Hudson's Bay Company drew scores of visitors to its show room to-day for the opening of their radio show, which will continue for the remainder of the week. Tastefully arranged in the furniture display space on the fourth floor, the management of the department has on view striking new models incorporating all the latest devices to make tuning in easy and to insure the tone beauty of the splendid sets.

Among the special features in the exhibition space is the Hudson's Bay Company's Dictator, an instrument made especially for the company and sold by all its departments in the west. This moderately priced machine gives the maximum tone performance in its class and embodies the most recent screen grid chassis and latest tone control devices.

Housed in a fine high lighted walnut, with the suggestion of cathedral design in the panel, the set itself stands as a fine piece of furniture that would add lustre to any room.

NEW "FLASHOGRAPH"

Of particular interest has been the demonstration of the flashograph, a new method of tuning which virtually eliminates whistles and howls when a new station is being sought. A specially designed light illuminates the dial for various stations and makes it particularly easy to bring them in clearly.

The new device is one of the features of the Fada models, four of which are on display. All are enclosed in beautiful cabinets artistically designed. Both combination and ordinary sets are shown in this make for those who wish gramophone attachments or the straight radio. All incorporate the usual brilliant and faithful Fada tone, the revolutionary automatic devices to insure reception unmarred by extraneous noises, easy operation and high performance.

DE FOREST CROSLEYS

Six splendid De Forest Crosley sets, two in the dominion and four in the harmonic, more expensive series, are on view. The Brock, a small model, suitable for library or small parlor use, along with the other in the dominion series, is a fine instrument of five tubes which gives an amazing performance. Its companion in the series is equipped with electrical record producing features as well as the straight radio and has also maintained a high standard of performance.

The Aria and Troubadour, the first two in the harmonic division, bring out the true depth and color of music. The former is set off distinctively with a perfectly matched burl walnut escutcheon panel with wing panels brilliant with cross fire and a lace wood base. The other reflects perfectly moulded lines of modern motif and includes the electro dynamic radio-phonograph features. The deep warmth of color and perfectly matched graining makes the cabinet itself a beautiful piece of work

On an even more de luxe scale are the Melody and Minstrel models, two types which intensify the features of other De Forest instruments and increase the standard and the beauty of the make's performance.

The other instrument on display, the Harmonic, is the triumph of the De Forest Crosley factories and combines a luxurious appearance with fine tonal quality and simplified tuning which place it in a niche by itself among radios.

MAJESTICS

Two excellent Majestics, models numbers 131 and 130, are shown to advantage in the display. Both of Lowboy design and neat construction, they have met with universal approval wherever they have been exhibited. Among the other makes, they hold a conspicuous place in the show.

Two types of Rogers, the Lowboy of distinctive Gothic design and the Highboy, model 650, a rich instrument of exceptional beauty are also included in the show. Both are extremely well colored and are sterling examples of cabinet work. In performance they are considered among the finest turned out by the Rogers factory.

Each has its distinctive features, but both are attractive instruments, both as furniture and as radios.

TASTEFULLY ARRANGED

The entire exhibition room has been arranged particularly attractively for the display. Chesterfields, fine carpets and Oriental rugs lend the room a homelike touch, while flowers and palms add to its charm. Lighting has been softened and made appropriate for a music salon.

In connection with the show the company has arranged a competition which will offer all those who purchase machines a chance to win one of a hundred beautiful table lamps.

Courteous attention is given all who visit the exhibition.

Log Books Given To Visitors At H.B.C. Radio Show

The Hudson's Bay Company announces that, on request, it will be glad to supply to radio show visitors complimentary copies of their new radio log book which has many new features of particular interest to radio owners. Neatly printed and attractively arranged this new book contains an up-to-date log using the latest channel system of station finding as well as a complete list of broadcasting stations throughout the world.

RADIO ALL-YEAR ENTERTAINMENT

While undoubtedly great progress has been made in the manufacture of radio receiving sets in the last few years the fact that enormous strides have also been made in the perfection of broadcasting apparatus must not be overlooked. This no doubt accounts in a great degree to the continuance of the fine network programmes throughout the summer. Radio can be enjoyed every day of the year and any hour of the day. Symphony concerts, sporting events, arrival of transatlantic fliers, races and practically happenings of every character are now put on the air and are there for the entertainment and education of the radio owner. Without a radio the average household is certainly out of touch with the outside world. Programmes are published weekly giving in detail the various programmes scheduled for the different stations.

Rogers-Majestic Is To Register All Radio Servicemen

The Rogers-Majestic Corporation, Toronto, announced at its recent dealer convention a plan for the examining and registering of service men throughout the country. The system is already under way and it is said that it is meeting with a good measure of success.

The Rogers-Majestic Corporation has made arrangements with the Radio College of Canada, Toronto, to take care of the examining and grading.

Television Studio Being Added to NBC System in Chicago

The NBC studios, taken as a group, are the largest and most elaborate in the world. There are eight in New York, three in Chicago, and three in San Francisco, making a total of fourteen in all for the system. There are at present under construction in Chicago, in the new Merchandise Mart Building, which is to be the largest building in the world, ten new studios. Studio A, in the new Chicago offices, will be forty-six by seventy feet, with a twenty-six-foot ceiling, giving a total of 3,220 square feet in floor space, or 83,720 cubic feet, which will make it without rival as the largest broadcasting studio in radio history. It will be especially adapted for television purposes, if that branch of the industry should develop on a large scale during the next few years.

GERMANS TO USE 2,000,000 VOLTS TO SPLIT ATOM

Attempt Will Be Made at Isolated Laboratory High Up in Alps

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, Sept. 15.—In an attempt to split the atom, two German scientists are preparing to harness the lightning at a laboratory on Monte Generoso, in the Italian Alps.

They hope to separate the hitherto undivided atom into electrons, and they admit that they do not know what will happen if they succeed. The world itself may disintegrate, or tremendous energy may be generated for human use; or nothing at all may occur.

YEARS OF PREPARATION

Aerial wires, capable of carrying the voltage generated by a flash of lightning, lead to a tube in which lies the atom to be divided. Only 2,000,000 volts—a quantity insufficient for the purpose—can be generated by the most powerful station in the world. The Germans hope that the aerial discharge will be sufficient to accomplish what all earthly means have so far failed to do. Years of experiment have preceded the present attempt to split the atom. One life has been lost—that of an associate of Dr. Lange and Professor Brasch. He fell into a ravine last year while the scientists were building their station.

Contrast Emphasizes Air Force Progress

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, Sept. 15.—The progress of the Royal Air Force in attaining the high efficiency of to-day has been so swift that it is difficult to realize how haphazard and full of danger were the conditions only fifteen years ago during the Zeppelin raids.

A cynical story told to a colleague during the "air war" the other day by a "Blue" Squadron-leader serves to recall this. He said that in 1915, when he was attached to a London anti-Zepp squadron, an ordinary landing in which neither the pilot nor the observer was killed was considered "good." A landing in which both were killed was "bad"; but if only the observer was killed then it was "fair."

Fine Radios Draw Crowds To Show At Hudson's Bay Store

Small Section Used Few Years Ago Now Splendid Department

Modest Showroom Gives Place To Excellent Display Section With Testing and Demonstrating Services As Industry Evolves From Novelty Stage; Capable Staff in Charge of Different Features; Used Sets Given Guarantees.

Paralleling the development or radio since its more or less uncertain beginning to its present stage of perfection, the Hudson's Bay Company have kept abreast of the times in this branch of their store and has now one of the finest radio departments in the city. From its modest inception a few years ago, this section of the store has grown to include many of the finest makes on the North American continent and carries with it a service system which not only looks after the installation of instruments, but also answers trouble calls when the voice of the air becomes mute in homes supplied with Hudson's Bay equipment

Simple crystal and one and two-tube sets have given way to fine large consoles and table models. And with the increase of the stock, the store has increased its department so than now it has an adequate space and sufficiently large staff to take care of all display and demonstration.

While radio was still more or less a novelty, the store opened this department in a small way in a corner of the lower main floor. Later as it grew, the equipment and sets were moved to the mezzanine floor where greater expansion was possible. Just twelve months ago the growing branch proved too large for those quarters and a new and up-to-date department, carrying all the facilities of the modern radio store, was opened on the third floor where the instruments and equipment are now housed.

FINE DISPLAY SECTION

Beside permitting a better display of different models, the new branch has included testing devices and demonstration schemes, which give the prospective buyer a chance to determine the merits of the machines before he selects one for his own home.

Under the managership of A. D. Coltman, who is ably assisted by Nelson Hicks, A. E. Hopkins, W. J. Eason, A. M. Beecroft and Frank W. Rose, the latter two being fully qualified radiotricians, the department has proved exceptionally successful.

Included in the stock are many of the well-known makes, all chosen because of their dependability and quality and proved by the various radio departments of the Hudson's Bay Company stores throughout the west.

TASTEFULLY DECORATED

Tasteful decorations, comfortable chairs and soft lighting have added tremendously to the attractiveness of the showroom itself. There, in the setting made comfortable and delightful by splendid interior decoration, visitors may go and enjoy the various programmes that come over the air.

Through a special deferred payment plan, the company has made it possible for many homes to enjoy the luxury and utility of the radio. For those wishing to secure less expensive machines, a special used radio section has been created and is stocked with many fine sets which have been accepted as part payment for new models. All sets included in this part of the department are carefully reconditioned by the staff experts before being offered for sale and are covered by the company's usual guarantee.

The show, which is being held in the store all this week has been made possible by the enthusiastic co-operation of the various manufacturers and distributors with the department heads themselves.

HANDSOMELY APPOINTED RADIO DEPARTMENT AT LOCAL STORE

The radio department of the Hudson's Bay Company is one of the most attractive of such departments in the city. It has grown from a humble start a few years ago on the ground floor to a large area on the third floor.

RADIO WORK IN CANADA SHOWS GREAT GROWTH

Production of complete radio sets, parts and batteries in Canada during 1929 reached a value of $20,966,137 or sixty-five per cent above the total of $12,768,024 reported for 1928, according to a preliminary statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa.

Data for this bulletin have been assembled from the annual returns to the industrial census; in 1929 an output of radio sets or parts was reported by forty-seven different firms of which forty were in the electrical supplies industry, five in the musical instruments industry, one in the chemical industry and one in the furniture industry. This survey, however, does not include the great number of small custom workers who assemble or build to order; only those who classed as manufacturers have been included.

MORE MANUFACTURED

The reports show that complete sets were made in eighteen different plants and the output numbered 143,098 sets worth $14,986,173 as compared with a corresponding total of 81,032 sets worth $7,486,127 in 1928. Vacuum tubes were manufactured in four factories; the number made was 2,924,270 and the value was $3,100,148. Batteries, storage and dry cell, said to be manufactured for radio purposes, were produced in fourteen establishments and the value totaled $1,791,639 as against $2,456,065 in 1928. Battery eliminators were reported by three concerns and the output amounted to 574 worth $9,722. Other lines of production included transmitters, transformers, loud speakers, panels, condensers and other miscellaneous parts.

As reported to the bureau by the United States trade commissioner at Ottawa, the exports to Canada of radio sets and parts from the United States during the calendar year 1929 had a value of $10,784,156 and included the following items: Radio transmitting sets and parts, $380,393; radio receiving sets, $5,406,233; radio tubes, $317,217; receiving set components, $2,213,762; loud speakers, $734,353; receiving set accessories, $1,732,195.

GREAT LICENSE INCREASE

Radio licenses are issued by the Department of Marine and Fisheries. During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1929, licenses were issued to 423,557 persons exclusive of 589 to the blind, as compared with 296,756 licenses issued in the preceding fiscal year. Ontario led all provinces with a total of 211,775 and Quebec was next with 71,757. Registrations in the other provinces in order were as follows: British Columbia, 35,998; Saskatchewan, 32,906; Manitoba, 26,370; Alberta, 21,456; Nova Scotia, 13,379; New Brunswick, 8,783; Prince Edward Island, 985; and the Northwest Territories, 148.

Transmitting licenses were issued to 1,289 stations during the fiscal year, the following classes being included: Private commercial broadcasting, amateur broadcasting, limited coast, public commercial, experimental, private commercial, training school, amateur experimental, aircraft and ship.

SCHUMANN HEINK SUNDAY RECITALS TO BE CONTINUED

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, operatic contralto, with a record of half a century of artistic achievement, will appear on the Enna Jettick Melodies programme for sixteen more consecutive weeks.

The first programme was presented over a coast-to-coast National Broadcasting Company network yesterday evening at 8 o'clock, eastern daylight time.

Heretofore, Mme. Schumann-Heink has confined her radio singing to three or four occasions a year. Twice previously has she appeared as guest artist on the Enna Jettick programmes, but this series is the longest radio engagement she has ever accepted.

Each week the famous contralto will sing one selection. This will usually be a request number.

For the last year Mme. Schumann-Heink has been associated with the National Broadcasting Company as operatic counsel.

This programme will be heard through the following stations associated with the National Broadcasting Company KOA, Denver; KPO, San Francisco; KOMO, Seattle; KFI, Los Angeles; KGW, Portland, Oregon; KSL, Salt Lake City; KHQ, Spokane, KFSD, San Diego, and many eastern stations.

KINGSFORD-SMITH FLIGHT ANOTHER RADIO TRIUMPH

Value of Direction Finding by Means of Wireless Connection Shown

Major Kingsford-Smith's success in flying across the Atlantic is another triumph for radio, as he has pointed out in every message he has written concerning his experience.

Radio direction finding justified itself long ago as a navigation instrument for ships at sea and commercial aeroplanes, and in Major Kingsford-Smith's flight has established itself as a vital necessity in any well-organized long-distance pioneer flight. As Major Kingsford-Smith said, "but for the wonderful wireless we should never have got out of the fog," and the lessons they brought with them out of that great ordeal would never have been, as they are now, at the service of every airman who may attempt an Atlantic flight in future, for in addition to his success, the thorough organization of Major Kingsford-Smith's flight has enabled him to put forward the definite theory that the unreliability of the compass in the neighborhood of Newfoundland, where visual sights are bad, is the cause of the tragic failure of other airmen who have attempted this perilous voyage insufficiently equipped. He has also supplied valuable knowledge as to the conditions to be expected of this particular air route.

When Major Kingsford-Smith arrived in England to prepare for his flight he was equipped with only short wave wireless apparatus. While this was extremely useful to him it was not adapted to the transmission of signals for the purpose of communication with ships and coast stations or for direction finding. His plane was therefore equipped with a Marconi transmitter working at wave lengths of 600 and 800 meters. Since the flight the Marconi Company has received a very enthusiastic telegram from Major Kingsford-Smith stating that he was delighted with the perfection of this instrument and the tremendous service it rendered him.

SIXTEEN NEW FEATURES IN FADA RADIOS

Many Automatic Devices and Fine Cabinets Give Distinction to Instruments

Fada Radio, whose Canadian headquarters are in Toronto, has every year given to the radio public improved features that have given them a large measure of public good-will—a fact that was reflected in the first six months of 1930 when sales of receivers were almost double those for the same period of 1929, which in turn was a banner year.

For 1930 it is claimed that Fada Receivers have more automatic features than any other set. They list altogether, in their literature, sixteen modern features, though not all of them, of course, are automatic. But they represent what is probably the most convincing array of improvements and features since broadcasting began.

Some of the many features are the flashograph, by which a flash of light reveals any desired station perfectly tuned; an automatic volume control which practically eliminates fading; a noise filter which prevents noise caused by local or atmospheric disturbance; one-dial tuning; local distance switch; humless operation; two-element detector, over all static shielding and remote control shaft. It is noted also that they have retained last year's great feature—Vibra-Control, which so successfully eliminated vibration and cabinet noises, bringing about a perfect co-ordination of chassis, cabinet and speaker.

Some exquisite examples of cabinet work are seen in the new Fada cabinets and the graceful lines and rich carvings evident in the 40C, 42, 44, 46, 36C and 47 models serve admirably to illustrate the position the radio receiver has achieved a distinctive furniture.

All those characteristics of the new Fada receiver point to its being up amongst the leaders in 1930. The reputation of the makers and the fact that they have concentrated solely on high quality radio receivers have done much to instill confidence into the public. Based on the beauty and all-round performance of the new receivers, this confidence is amply justified and Fada Radio expects the greatest and most successful year in their history.

A new card table has been given a hinged top, the under-side of which, when lifted, forms a screen for a home motion picture projector.

INWARD REPLIES TO CRITICISM ON HIS LEADERSHIP

Actions Endorsed by Unemployed Meeting at Central Park

Criticism against his leadership of the Vancouver Island Unemployed Association was answered by Walter Inward, chairman, at a mass meeting in Central Park yesterday.

Mr. Inward regretted that none of his critics were in attendance to place their suggested programmes before the gathering. It did not matter to him who was the chairman. He added that if anyone had a more progressive policy to attain the desired objective, he would be willing to conform to it.

A unanimous motion was passed endorsing Mr. Inward's policy.

TO FORM COMMITTEE

It was decided to form a committee from Victoria and the surrounding municipalities to act as a mouthpiece for the unemployed. Mr. Inward explained that he had interviewed Mayor Anscomb with reference to having an office in the business section of the city where the unemployed committee could hold its meetings. Since such a body would represent the jobless here he thought it was necessary that it should have a central point at which its members could meet.

He further noted that the Mayor had approved of the unemployed securing a hall in which to conduct their meetings.

Mr. Inward also stated that the Mayor had been in favor of the committee placing its views before the council at its regular meeting this evening.

J. Berry also outlined several projects that would be placed before the council.

During the meeting Mr. Inward urged the registration of all unemployed in Victoria and the surrounding districts in order to give those seeking government aid definite statistics upon which to work.

It was also noted that the employment of white labor for coal "swamping" would give 100 men steady employment throughout the year.

LIFE EXPECTANCY OF AGED FALLS

Fifty Per Cent Cut in Death Rate Through Infant Mortality Reduction

BY RUTH HOWE

The fifty per cent reduction since 1900 in the nation's death rate and the adding of twenty years to the expectancy of life in less than a century, announced last week as the high point in the health survey made by the joint committee of the American Medical Association and the National Educational Association, is no matter of self-congratulation on the part of the middle-aged and elderly citizens of the country.

The death rate for these groups is steadily mounting, says Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute, despite the accomplishments of modern science in vanquishing the diseases which prey on the middle-aged. The decline in the general death rate, he pointed out, has been accomplished through the reduction of infant mortality. Every baby born to-day may confidently expect to live until fifty; in 1850 his promised span was only thirty. Right up to thirty years old his chances of life have been increasing moderately since 1921.

The death rate, however, for fifty-two-year-old citizens had risen from 12.99 per 1,000 in 1921 to 14.68 in 1927, according to statistics issued last year by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Deaths of fifty-seven-year-old citizens increased from 18.26 to 21.49 in those years, of those aged sixty-two from 26.78 to 2944, and those aged seventy-two from 65.12 to 69.74.

The toll of life among the middle-aged is heavier in the United States than in other progressive countries, said Dr. Fisk. Deaths from chronic diseases, disorders of the heart, blood vessels and kidneys have increased considerably in recent years, and far exceed those in England and Wales.

"Nobody, of course, knows the cause," he said. "I personally consider that Americans are paying for the great concentration of industrialism in their country, for the greater strain of earning and the strain of spending—the sharper pace of life. Perhaps it is a penalty of prosperity. In the higher death rate it would appear that the United States is paying a greater penalty for prosperity than England is for adversity."

It has been estimated, Dr. Fisk mentioned, that there are more than 200,000,000 pounds of excess flesh on the American people. That surely was a condition of prosperity, he said. The biggest death toll among the middle-aged is among the more prosperous, hence, apparently, more indulgent groups of the nation.

Some years ago, he continued, Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician, published a hypothetical life table giving conservative mortality rates attainable with the present knowledge of medicine. He showed an infant mortality rate of only 38.21 per 1,000 births and an infant life expectation of almost sixty-five years.

Age	Mortality rate per 1,000	Expectation of life
0	38.21	64.75
1	18.00	66.30
5	1.85	63.57
10	1.14	59.02
20	2.34	49.82
30	3.26	41.06
40	4.70	32.49
50	7.19	24.08
60	14.29	16.01
70	56.45	9.17
80	130.28	5.29

To carry this further to the possibility of people living for centuries meant taking into account all the factors which cause a shortened life, Dr. Fisk said. These were heredity, infection, poisons, food deficiencies and defects, mental and physical strain and accident.

To produce a long-lived people through heredity would mean the organization of human life as to mating and breeding. It would also mean the elimination of war, homicide and accidents, perhaps the least difficult achievement in his opinion.

The final hurdle, was, he continued, the at present insuperable obstacle of senile decay, attributable to-day to the loss of some hormone which failed to stabilize the body, all the ductless glands being implicated.

"If we could learn the secret of maintaining a perfectly nourished body," said Dr. Fish, "no doubt real extension of life would come about. With the strides which science makes people are inclined to predict anything. Dr. Haldare of Cambridge, England, has said that man will live to be 3,000 years old. The French astronomer Jeans has said that the time may come when we will never die.

"It is found that among conservative, well educated groups, such as the teaching profession, the length of life is at its greatest. In Great Britain while considerable length of life is attained by the farming and agricultural type of worker the death rate among the clerks and city workers is extremely high."

There is a scientific school which argues that if life is lengthened with the present increasing tide of population the world will become an intolerable place in which to live. Already among progressive nations there is a decided check in the birth rate to meet the falling death rate cause by the salvage work accomplish by medical science. The days is probably not far distant when the United States will have a population balanced as to births and deaths, he said, as is the case in England, France and the Scandinavian countries.

"If science is clever enough to solve the problem of longevity you may depend it will also solve the problem of population. It could not extend life to even 100 years without meeting the situation which it would create. We have examples of this happening in other ways."

As we were threatened with the exhaustion of the supply of coal for fuel, he pointed out, oil began to take its place. We had been told that the world's supply of oil would soon come to an end, but nobody doubts but that electricity or some other such agent will take its place.

Dr. Fisk added that centuries ago the ancients believed the world to be overpopulated. Owing to the increased means of supporting populations through scientific progress the enormous increases since men had made little difference. The balance is adjusted automatically.

He emphasized the fact that for the middle-aged person the life span increase has been almost negligible. Neither did he see any prospect of real increase at present, but he believed that by education and proper physical care that the kind of life which the elderly person lived could greatly improved.

Ganges

A successful sale of work and social afternoon took place on Saturday afternoon in McBrides Hall, Fulford Harbor, organized by a ladies' committee of the United Church of South Salt Spring Island. Those in charge of the arrangements were Mrs. R. Daykin, Mrs. D. Maxwell, Mrs. F. Pyatt, Mrs. P. C. Mollett, Mrs. J. Cairns and Mrs. Wm. Coopsie, who took charge of the stalls for plain and fancy needlework, home-made candles and cooking, and superintended teas, etc. Those contributing to the musical programme included Mrs. Wm. Allan, Mrs. F. Pyatt, Miss Bea Hamilton and Miss Annie Allan, Mrs. E. Parsons, Mrs. R. Toynbee, Mrs. W. M. Mouat, Mrs. S. Wagg, Mrs. J. Mouat and others. The sum of $33 was realized.

Mrs. V. Friis, who has been a patient in the Royal Jubilee Hospital for the past eighteen days, returned on Tuesday to Ganges, where she will be the guest of Mrs. D. Hamilton for a week or two.

Mrs. Douglas Hamilton returned to Ganges on Tuesday after spending the week-end with relatives at Keatings.

Dr. Morgan returned to Ganges on Monday after several days' visit to Vancouver. It is understood that Dr. Morgan and his family will be moving shortly from Ganges Hill to the property at Ganges recently owned by the late J. C. Scovell.

Cecil Ley, who has been spending a week with relatives on Salt Spring has returned to Victoria.

Miss Camsusa of Victoria was a visitor to Salt Spring recently, when she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Evans of Ganges.

Mrs. Easton of Nanaimo arrived at Salt Spring on Sunday, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. Tweedhope, Rainbow Road, Ganges Harbor.

The Ganges athletic football team journeyed to Galiano Island on Sunday to play a return match with the Galiano team, the game resulting: Galiano 7, Ganges 2.

Mrs. and Miss Oxenham returned to Ganges on Monday, after several days' visit to Vancouver.

Mrs. Evans of Ganges was a passenger on Monday to Victoria, where she will visit friends for a few days.

The following guests have been registered at Harbor House recently: R. F. Davey, Miss Bruce, R. Bloomfield, the Misse L. and F. Lewin and Mrs. B. D. Robinson of Victoria, Miss A. Nowikon of Princeton, Mr., Mrs. and Miss Orchardson and Miss M. Alexander of Vancouver.

The Misses Claire Wilson, Doreen and Denise Crofton, Lois, Shirley and Bride Wilson, Theodora Farquhar, Betty Kingsbury and Nancy Elliott, have returned home from a camping holiday at Wellborough Bay.

Miss Betty Halley of North Salt Spring left on Tuesday for Vancouver, where she will be the guest of her uncle, Capt. K. G. Halley during her attendance at the University of British Columbia.

Miss Monica Bryant, who has been spending a month or two with her relatives, Colonel and Mrs. Bryant at Beaver Point, left on Friday for Victoria en route for her home in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Davies, who arrived recently in Vancouver from England, flew over to Ganges on a few days' visit to their uncle, W. E. Scott of "Rockridge," leaving to join the Empress of Japan for their home in Shanghai.

Miss Bertha Jessup of Yorkshire, England, who for the last two years has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. D. Halley of North Salt Spring, left on Tuesday on a visit to friends in Ottawa, and will sail on September 30 for Southampton.

The ladies' competition for the monthly medal took place last week on the Salt Spring Island golf course with the following result: Mrs. T. F. Speed, first, gross 116, handicap thirty, net score 86; Mrs. C. W. Baker, second, gross 129, handicap forty, net score 89. The winner of the men's bogey competition was: C. W. Bawer, 4 up. Second, W. M. Mouat 2 up.

Mrs. Moorehouse of Ganges left on Monday for Victoria, where she will be the guest of her son, H. W. Moorehouse.

Mrs. W. M. Mouat accompanied by her daughter, Miss Grace Mouat, and her small son, Gilbert, left Ganges on Tuesday for several days' visit to Vancouver.

Miss Viola Hamilton of Keating is spending a week or two on Salt Spring Island, the guest of Mrs. H. Johnson of Ganges.

Mrs. S. P. Beech of Ganges Harbor returned on Tuesday after a few days' visit to friends in Victoria.

Miss Dorothy Elliott of Victoria is spending a holiday on the island, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Elliott, Ganges.

HOW FRENCH FLIERS KEPT WARM

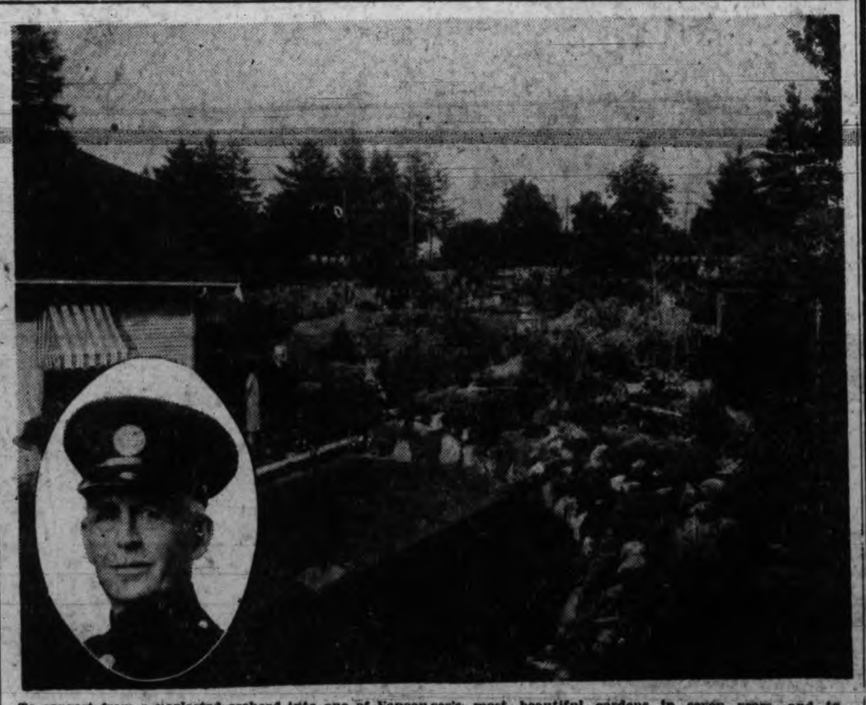
Keeping warm in a 4,100-mile flight over the North Atlantic is not the easiest task in the world, especially when you are riding in an open cockpit plane. Here is how the latest ocean fliers solved the problem. Dieudonne Coste (right) and Maurice Bellonte wore these heavy lined leather suits when they made their record-breaking hop from Paris to New York.

E. C. THOMAS OF VANCOUVER, DIES

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—Ernest E. C. Thomas, 2070 Cornwall Street, a veteran member of the Vancouver Fire Department, died in the General Hospital early Sunday morning. He had been suffering from pneumonia and his sudden death from complications came as a surprise.

Born in Bristol, England, September 23, 1872, Mr. Thomas came to Vancouver in 1901 and until 1906 was trainer for the famous Maple Leaf lacrosse team. He joined No. 2 Fire Hall on Seymour Street on October 8, 1906 and in October, 1913, was promoted to captain, which rank he held until his death. A widow survives him.

Beautiful Garden Developed On Site of Neglected Orchard



To convert from a neglected orchard into one of Vancouver's most beautiful gardens in seven years, and to capture the Horticultural Association trophy three years in succession, is the happy lot of Constable W. W. Lacey of the Canadian Pacific Railway investigation department. Mr. Lacey won the amateur garden contest this year by 260 points out of 300, eleven points over that of last year, and forty over second place. A few years ago the property contained broken-down fruit trees, underbrush and bracken. To-day it boasts of 200 different Alpine plants, eighty-four feet boxwood hedge, six rhododendrons, twenty-three standard roses, twenty-two bush roses, twenty peonies, thirty-five dahlias and 126 hardy perennials, with over 800 different flowers and plants. There are also two lily and fish pools, while a feature of the garden are several bird baths for Mrs. Lacey's feathered friends.

Births, Marriages, Deaths

BORN

TAYLOR—To Mr. and Mrs. Newman Taylor, 134 Moss Street, a son, on September 15, at Beachcroft Nursing Home.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. M. G. McLeod and family wish to express their appreciation to Dr. Baillie and the nurses of the Jubilee Hospital for the many kindnesses shown; also the friends in Happy Valley and Victoria for the beautiful flowers sent in memory of a loving wife and mother.

IN MEMORIAM

VILLERS—Who fell asleep September 15, 1929, Arthur Villers, veteran of the Great War, 8th C.A.M.C., beloved husband of Gertrude Villers.

I will not say that he is dead.
He is just away;
To live in the heart of the living is not to die.
The living are the only dead.
The dead live—nevermore to die;
And often, when we mourn them fled,
They never were so nigh.

The joys we lose are but forecast,
And we shall find them all once more;
We look behind us for the past,

Cooper Preferred to Play With Indians

James Fenimore Cooper was saying goodby to his little Indian friend. James's father had a beautiful home right on the edge of the great woods and they had many friends among the Indians. The little Indian boys were James's favorite playmates.

"But why must you go?" the Indian boy repeated.

"Because there is no school of the kind my father wants me to attend. So I have to go away to study."

"You can learn many things in the woods that you never learn in schools," said the Indian lad.

"I know," sighed James, choking back his tears. "But father wants me to go."

"Perhaps you will like the city and never come back."

"Oh, no," cried James excitedly. "I'd rather be in the woods than anywhere else in the world, and I'll think every day in the city about coming back again."

James Fenimore Cooper wrote wonderful stories about Indians because he lived with them and understood them. He was born September 15, 1789.

Moore blanked the Senators after the second inning, when a walk, a scratch hit and two sacrifices scored their only run.

	R.	H.	E.
Washington	1	6	0
Chicago	2	8	0

COAST LEAGUE

Sacramento, Sept. 15.—Sacramento took a doubleheader from Seattle yesterday, winning the morning game at Stockton 3-0 and taking the nightcap here 7-4. Flynn blanked the tribe in the morning. A rookie, Frank Demaree, batted in six of the seven runs off Lamanski in the afternoon with a homer and double.

First game—At Stockton—

	R.	H.	E.
Seattle	0	5	1
Sacramento	3	9	1

Batteries—House and Borreani; Flynn and Wirte.

Second game—At Sacramento—

	R.	H.	E.
Seattle	4	9	0
Sacramento	7	12	2

Batteries—Lamanski and Borreani; Freitas, Vinci and Koehler.

Los Angeles, Sept. 15.—Hollywood and Los Angeles broken even in yesterday's doubleheader, the Angels taking the first game 8-4 and dropping the second 7-5.

As a result the local clubs, now standing one-two in the Pacific League, withdrew from the civil war series battlefield without victory. Each won four of the week's eight games.

Jim Turner, Hollywood pitcher, was the star of the second game, his eighteenth victory since he joined the Stars from the Piedmont League.

The first game was a free-hitting affair in which six pitchers participated. Augie Johns, who started for the Stars, was charged with the defeat, and Art Delaney, who finished for the Angels, was credited with the victory. Ed. Baecht, the Angels' leading pitcher, was sent to the showers in the third when Hollywood rallied to score three runs.

Frank Sigafoos for the Angels, and Hank Severeid of the Stars hit homers in the first tussle. Barbee of the Stars hit for the bases in the nightcap.

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
Hollywood	4	12	1
Los Angeles	8	15	1

Batteries—Johns, Hulvey, Yds, Hallerson and Severeid, Bassler; Baecht, Delaney and Hannah.

Second game—

	R.	H.	E.
Hollywood	7	10	1
Los Angeles	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Seven innings by agreement. Batteries—Turner and Bassler; Peters, Barfoot and Warren.

Oakland, Sept. 15.—Portland won the first game 9-4 and Oakland took the second contest 7-0 here yesterday.

The visitors pounded Edwards for four runs in the first inning of the opener, while Keating, although touched for ten hits in the seven innings he pitched, kept them scattered.

Henderson blanked Portland with only five hits in the seven-innings night cap. Oakland jumped on Fullerton in the fourth and hit his successor, Mails, for five runs, and two in the fifth frame.

Oakland won the series five to two.

	R.	H.	E.
Portland	9	12	2
Oakland	4	12	2

Batteries — Keating and Walters, Woodall; Edwards, McQuaid, Kasich and Lombardi.

	R.	H.	E.
Portland	0	5	2
Oakland	7	7	0

Batteries—Fullerton, Mails, Beck and Palmisano; Henderson and Lombardi.

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—The Seals turned with a vengeance on the Missions yesterday, winning both games of a doubleheader 11-3 and 6-2. The Missions previously had beaten the Seals six straight times.

Base hits were plentiful in the first game, the Seals getting twenty-three and the Missions sixteen. Huffit of the Missions and Douglass, Seal pitcher, hit home runs.

Perry gave eight hits in the seven-inning nightcap, but the Missions scored only two runs, while the Seals staged a four-run rally off Knott in the fourth inning.

First game—

	R.	H.	E.
San Francisco	11	23	1
Missions	3	16	3

Batteries—Douglas and Penebsky; Lieber, Barrough, Pillette and [illegible].

Second game—

And Now—The Quebec Festival!

Habitant artists, born and bred on the soil of the Province of Quebec, and celebrated artists from cosmopolitan centres of culture will rival one another in recovering the spirit of old France and old New France at the Quebec Festival of French-Canadian Folk-Songs and Handicrafts, which, the Canadian Pacific Railway announce, will be held on October 16, 17 and 18 this year, with headquarters at the Chateau Frontenac.

Among the many delicacies which will be served at this annual banquet of French and French-Canadian culture, will be two ballad operas, "A French-Canadian Wedding," and "The Order of Good Cheer," the first depicting a joyous country ceremony of a hundred years ago, and the second being a page from the history of Champlain's first settlement at Port Royal in Acadia, in the early years of the seventeenth century.

The charming folk-songs of old Quebec, of the "voyageurs" and the "coureurs du bois" of the backwoods, will be sung by the famous Bytown Troubadours; groups of Quebec and Montreal children will perform traditional country dances of old French provinces and of Quebec; and a hundred other entertainments of a varied and delightful nature will be provided by noted artists of the Gallic race from Canada and other countries as well during the three days of the Festival; while there will be constant exhibitions of handicraft work with spinning-wheel and loom by Quebec women, whose tapestries and clothes are famous and sought for all the world over.

Marshall Seth Wins Feature At Winnipeg Track

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Marshall Seth of the Tarn Stable, won Saturday's sprint feature at Whittier Park. Swift Shot finished second and Kop the Coin third. The winner was the favorite.

Duchess of York, trying to win three days in succession, was beaten in the mile and one-sixteenth race for western Canada breds by Charlie Whittier, three-year-old gelding from the Eaton Stable, which also had a winner in Pandion Queen in the fourth race.

The track was again sticky with mud. Racing concludes for the season to-day.

Siegfried Wagner Inspired Immortal "Siegfried Idyll"

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, Sept. 15.—If the late Seigfried Wagner had never written a single opera of his own, or once lifted the conductor's baton as so many in the provincees saw him do last year, he would still be sure of immortality as the inspirer of the "Seigfried Idyll," without which few Wagner programmes are considered complete in London or elsewhere.

He was to have been the hero of his father's dreams realized in the flesh, and so he was before he died, but in the unexpected role of producer, for these last revivals of "Tannhauser" at Bayreuth, under Toscanini's magical beat, have given that early work a fresh lien among the poets of posterity.

Before the War, when he was Prince to Cosima's Queen in the Wahnfried Court, he did not cut much of an heroic figure, as he seemed too self-conscious that a man could shine in reflected glory. Since then, however, he has stood the fire of criticism by throwing fresh light on the Bayreuth Idea and bringing it up to date.

British String Of Polo Ponies Brings $183,400

New York, Sept. 15.—Forty-eight British polo ponies, ridden in the recently concluded international series with the United States, brought $183,400 at auction here. White Slave, which carried Captain Pat Roark in two periods of each game, brought top price, $13,000.

Woment in Philadelphia, Pa., are arranging plans for the formation of an international opera company, to be composed of German, French, and Russian units. The proposed plan is to send the companies to principal cities of the nation.

SCHOOL GALA PROGRAMME ANNOUNCED

Splendid List of Events Arranged for Water Sports on October 11

Eliminations to Be Staged October 4; Large Entry List Is Assured

A greater school children's gala than ever held before in Victoria is the ambition of the officials of the Crystal Garden Swimming Club, according to plans released here to-day for the sixth annual gala to be held on October 4 and 11 at the Crystal Garden. It has been decided to stage the eliminations one week ahead of the finals this year in order to cut down the number of competitors for the latter.

Several changes have been made in the programme, including the elimination of the life saving competitions, as the officials feel this event took up too much time on the programme. The eliminations will take place at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, October 4, at 7.30 o'clock.

Gardiner White Wins Handicap At Jasper Course

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., Sept. 15.—Gardiner White, well-known sportsman of New York and present holder of the famous Totem trophy, yesterday won the opening event of the fifth annual Totem pole championship, a handicap against par. White finished one up. Last year White won the same event with card of two up. He was paired with Ted Blackwell, an outstanding figure in British golf history. Blackwell is a former captain of the Royal and Ancient and a recognized authority on the rules of the game. He was a member of the British senior team which recently played in Canada and the United States. White played from a club handicap of four. He went out in thirty-six and returned in the same for a card of seventy-two.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A meeting of the Physical Department Committee of the Y.M.C.A., under the chairmanship of H. B. Witter, will be held at 7 o'clock to-night at the Y.M.C.A.

To-night at 7.45 o'clock there will be a meeting of the directors of the Y.M.C.A. This will be the first fall meeting and business connected with the winter programme will be discussed.

Dr. and Mrs. Hermann Robertson have returned to Victoria from Winnipeg, where Dr. Robertson attended the recent conferences of the British Medical Society. Prior to returning to Victoria he visited eastern cities.

The concert of classical and popular numbers given yesterday afternoon at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, by the Gizeh Temple Shrine Band was very much enjoyed by the crippled children and by visitors to the Solarium.

Saturday's street collection in aid of the Children's Aid Society netted the sum of $360.88, of which sum $120.43 was collected by Joseph North. The Society wishes to thank all who assisted in any way, and the public for its generous response.

A small fire at the C.P.S. Lumber mill required attention of the fire department yesterday morning. Several other calls were answered yesterday, including grass fires on Quadra Street and Railway Street, and a chimney fire at 919 View Street.

After attending the World Poultry Congress in England, J. R. Terry, of the Department of Agriculture, returned to the city last week. The British Columbia exhibit, featuring resources of the provinces, was visited by thousands of people and was the subject of many inquiries, he said.

Tudor Manor, a four-suite apartment building recently built by John Moxam on Fairfield Road, has been sold to local parties at a figure said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. This is one of the most recent of a number of ultra-modern apartment houses built by Mr. Moxam in the city.

Sir Charles Gordon-Watson, K.B.E., C.M.G., F.R.C.S., noted British army surgeon, addressed a meeting of the Victoria Medical Society in the Empress Hotel Saturday night. Sir Charles is holidaying on the Coast, having recently been fishing at Campbell River. He left for Seattle on his return to the Old Country last night.

Leave to examine A. Gerald Bolton and Miss M. Severs on affidavits filed in connection with the dispute over shares of the University School was granted by Chief Justice Morrison in Supreme Court Chambers this morning. C. H. O'Halloran appeared for Dr. A. O. McRae and Alexis Martin for Mr. Bolton.

Leave to presume the death of John George Morton, formerly of Victoria and Vancouver, was granted by Chief Justice Morrison in Supreme Court Chambers this morning. The application was made by R. C. Lowe on behalf of the wife, Helen Eva Morton of Notch Hill, who had not heard from her husband for ten years.

An echo of a tragedy in Sooke Harbor last November was heard in Supreme Court Chambers this morning when Chief Justice Morrison granted an order presuming the death of Lum Sha Hong, alias W. H. Lum. The Chinaman was last seen by Mrs. Mary M. Warren struggling by the side of an upturned canoe. The application was made by O. J. Boulton.

CFCT this morning presented a continuous programme from 8 o'clock until noon. A most gratifying response was received from listeners, and the management of Victoria's radio station is satisfied that this new addition to the local broadcaster's daily schedule will continue to receive a warm welcome. CFCT will be on the air all morning in future.

The Victoria Cornish Society held its semi-monthly meeting on Saturday night at Temple Hall, North Park Street. The meeting was attended by a good crowd and after the business was transacted an entertaining programme was given by the following: Mrs. Todd, Mrs. G. Smith, Mr. Honeychurch and Miss Berman. A very clever exhibition of conjuring was also given by F. Merryfield, "The Cornish Wizard," assisted by Miss Violet and Frances Merryfield. The next meeting takes place on September 27 at the same hall. All Cornish people are invited to attend.

At the final public hearing of the Royal Commission on state health insurance and maternity benefits, to be held in the Court House at 7.30 o'clock on Thursday evening, a number of organizations have filed notice of their intention of making representations. They are the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Ancient Order of Odd Fellows, Christian Science Church, Canadian Anti-vivisection League, Graduate Nurses of British Columbia, British Columbia Pharmaceutical Association, British Columbia Drugless Healers' Association and the British Columbia Chiropractors' Association.

Military officers of the Medical Services of Canada entertained Colonel P. J. Clark, C.D.C., director general of the organization at dinner on the occasion of his recent tour of inspection. The chairman for the evening was Major J. A. Stewart, medical officer of the First Battalion, Sixteenth Canadian Scottish. Those who attended the meeting were: Colonel Drum, Colonel Donald, Colonel Hart, Major Thomas, Major Miller, Major McPherson, Major McCallum, Major Murray, Major Hall, Captain Hunter, Captain Fowler, Captain Carr, Lieutenant Fraser, and Lieutenant Davenport. Colonel Clark in his very interesting speech dealt with the present and future activities of the organization.

Malkin Looks For Regular Mail Service

"I trust that in the near future regular airmail service will be established between Vancouver and the Island cities, which will prove a further bond of unity and friendship."

This was the message conveyed to Mayor Anscomb from Mayor W. H. Malkin of Vancouver, by the test airmail service operated by the Alaska-Washington Airways of B.C. on Saturday.

Greetings from the Terminal City were sent by Mayor Malkin in his letter, in which he drew attention to the test as the first occasion on which airmail had been carried between the two leading cities of the Province.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH CRASH JURY DECIDES

Careful Inquiry Made Into Location Near Macaulay Street

After hearing evidence and visiting the scene of the accident a coroner's jury this morning brought in a verdict of accidental death in the case of Peter Araneda who died following a collision between his automobile and a street car on Esquimalt Road, just east of Macaulay Street, last Friday night.

Careful inquiry by jurors as to the exact nature of the location was made, as at the point of collision the street car tracks are on the north side of the road, all vehicular traffic being on the south side. The accident took place on the extreme south rail.

Six witnesses were called to testify, including two passengers on the street car involved in the accident.

Araneda died from a one-inch gash in the neck, bleeding to death, Doctor John McCallum said. He passed away in hospital shortly after the accident.

Alexander McKeachie of the Empire Stevedoring Company Ltd., where Araneda was employed, identified the body.

CAR DOORS TORN OFF

Constable Delmar Hodnett, who arrived at the scene soon after the accident, said the automobile in which Araneda was driving alone, was covered with blood on the inside. The street car, proceeding eastward round the curve, protruded eighteen inches over the tracks into the driveway and had been struck on the right front end, the doors being torn off, the constable said. The automobile was badly crushed on the right front end, the windshield was shattered and the steering wheel broken.

After the crash the automobile came to rest about fifteen feet from the front of the street car, the constable said.

Explaining the location of the accident to the jurors, the witness said the street car tracks were on the north side of the road at this point and it was not customary for automobiles to drive between the tracks.

SECOND ACCIDENT

There had been an accident near the same place a month ago and since that time the road had been rebuilt, he said in reply to questions.

David Cuthbert, a passenger on the street car, said he was going to the front of the car preparatory to alighting at Head Street, when he saw the lights of the automobile approaching. The auto had its right wheels inside the street car tracks and apparently made no effort to swerve out of the path of the street car.

The operator of the street car applied his brakes and sounded his gong just before the crash, Mr. Cuthbert said, and came to a standstill in about four yards. Witness said he thought Araneda might have been forced to stay on the tracks because of two or three cars passing on the driveway at the time.

Albert Pick, also a passenger on the car, corroborated his testimony.

MOTORMAN TESTIFIES

Henry Hall, the motorman, testified that after stopping to pick up passengers west of Macaulay Street he was proceeding slowly when he saw the headlights of the automobile. Sounding the gong, he applied the emergency brakes just before the crash and the car traveled twelve or fifteen feet after the impact, he said.

The motorman did not notice any other automobiles passing at the time.

Coming around the curve, witness said, he thought the street car would protrude about six inches over the tracks.

After the jury had been out ten minutes they returned and announced they would be unable to bring in a verdict until after seeing the scene of the accident.

OBITUARY

The funeral of George W. Russell, who passed away in this city on Saturday, will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from McCall Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon over the remains of Alexander Selkirk Robertson, who passed away in Calgary on September 10. Many beautiful flowers covered the casket and many old-time friends and members of the A.O.F. attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. Dr. Clem Davies. The hymn sung was "Abide With Me." The pallbearers were: Bros. J. R. Clemence, H. Callow, S. F. McIntosh, E. Bleetham, W. F. Fullerton and James Tagg. Interment was made in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The remains of Thomas Bestwick were laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park Saturday afternoon, the funeral taking place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, K. Barrett officiating in the presence of a large gathering of friends. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "How Vain Is All Beneath the Sky." Many beautiful floral offerings were placed on the casket and hearse. The pallbearers were: H. Malone, E. Webster, F. Harrison, H. Rutherford, D. Stevens and J. Meyers

PIPE BY-LAW APPROVED AT PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, Sept. 15.—By a vote of 198 to 50 the ratepayers of Port Alberni Saturday approved a $60,000 by-law for replacing the existing pipe line with Toncan cast iron pipe, building a new dam of concreate and improving the waterworks generally. Because of the urgency for early completion of the work, it is expected that the city council will give the by-law its final reading and official assent at their regular meeting this evening, and that immediate construction will take place.

Trade Increase With Salt Spring Foretold In New Ferry Service

J. S. H. Matson Highly Praised for Work in Making Possible Swartz Bay-Fulford Harbor Run; Col. C. W. Peck Addresses Special Luncheon of Chamber of Commerce To-day; Extension of Service Intimated By Speaker.

A great increase in trade between Victoria and the Islands, particularly Salt Spring, was predicted by Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., M.P.P., in addressing the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a special luncheon held in honor of the opening of the new ferry service between Schwartz Bay and Salt Spring Island next month. The new ferry Cy Peck might possibly be used to serve other islands in the Gulf and thereby increase its value, Col. Peck stated.

"It is a more intricate question than you might think," stated Col. Peck. "Many routes for auto ferries were discussed for the proposed service, but as far as I can see Schwartz Bay is the only logical terminal on the Island. The disadvantage of former routes lay in the excess mileage in the routes.

"The first thing to do to secure the service was to convince the government that it was necessary and to secure from it a grant. The other need was to find a man with sufficient confidence to furnish the capital. The first question received the favorable consideration of the government, while the latter was solved by Mr. Matson."

PROGRESSIVE CITIZEN

In speaking of Mr. Matson, Col. Peck noted that Victoria was most fortunate in having such a progressive citizen. He said that Mr. Matson had purchased a boat in Seattle but it was condemned by the government, causing considerable expense to Mr. Matson.

Col. Peck outlined the renovation carried on, saying that the ferry was one of the best, for its size, on the Pacific Coast.

This new ferry will divert much of the business which has gone from Salt Spring to Vancouver to this city in the future, Col. Peck said.

Col. Peck also noted that fares had been reduced and predicted a reduction of from one to one and a half dollars a ton in freight rates.

WILL HELP IN END

While some opposition had been shown by certain Salt Spring merchants to the proposal, on the grounds that Victoria companies would encroach on their territory, Col. Peck felt that the system would be of great value to them eventually.

An ambitious programme of road making was being undertaken on the Island for the benefit of tourists. He considered the Island resorts equal to any tourist resort on the coast.

He hoped to see an increase in the morning and night runs of the ferry by the interjection of a route to the outer islands in the Gulf.

Ports for the loading of cars were not confined to the bow and stern on the Cy Peck, but were built in at the sides as well, the speaker stated. These would permit the use of an adjustable landing stages at the larger wharves, which might be included in the possible ferry route.

He would like to see the unemployed working on such projects this winter, he said.

Although not able to give figures, Col. Peck voiced the opinion that the cheapness of the ferry service would make it unprofitable for the islanders to use their own launches.

Capt. W. E. Gardiner, who is in charge of the remodeling of the ferry, spoke highly of Salt Spring Island and paid tribute to W. T. Norrie, who "did the work," as far as the remodling was concerned. He also added his praise to that of Col. Peck in speaking of Mr. Matson.

"Fix her up and make her a credit," Mr. Matson had told him. He had found the first boat entirely unsuitable, and suggested that Mr. Matson buy the Island Princess.

"There has not been a scratch of a pen between us during the transaction. It was entirely a gentlman's agreement. I hope Mr. Matson will be as satisfied with our work as we are of his treatment during its renovation, Capt. Gardiner said.

In closing, he invited the gathering to see the boat.

W. L. Scott, speaking on behalf of the Salt Spring Island delegation, noted that in the old days, business was done entirely with Victoria. Lately Vancouver had absorbed eighty per cent of it.

"It is up to you to see that the Capital regains its trade," he concluded.

James Beatty, M.P.P., foretold a great increase in trade between Victoria and Salt Spring. He moved the vote of thanks to the speaker, which was seconded by ex-mayor C. J. Pendray. The latter also expressed his appreciation of the work of Col. Peck and the Chamber of Commerce in the matter.

Liberal Women Hear Of Imperial Conference Plans

At the Liberal Women's Forum Friday afternoon, Miss McQuarrie gave an interesting address on the reason for and the possible outcome of the Imperial Conference to be held shortly in Great Britain. The ideas underlying the need for such a conference were explained in detail, and all tending toward stimulating trade within the Empire. Miss McQuarrie also brought to the attention of the meeting H. J. Moore's proposal for an international peace garden, a garden on the border line between Canada and the United States. The plan is making a strong appeal and is being supported most enthusiastically in sentiment, and financially by both countries.

Miss Mulligan rendered very beautifully two pianoforte selections, a Sonata and Nocturne by Greig. Two solos by Mrs. S. Morton were very much enjoyed, as were also the two delightful and charmingly recited numbers by Miss Annabell Hayne.

Plans for a card party were arranged and committees selected, the details to be announced later.

KIWANIS HEAR TOLMIE'S VIEWS

International Relations Discussed in Paper Read at Convention Luncheon

An address upon "International Relations," written in Ottawa by Premier S. F. Tolmie and read on his behalf by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education featured the luncheon of the Kiwanis Convention this afternoon at the Empress Hotel. Past District Governor Charles F. Riddell of Seattle, occupied the chair.

Mr. Hinchliffe prefaced his task by remarking that Premier Tolmie had been detained in the east on business, very much to the advantage of the Province of British Columbia.

HIGH IDEALS

The Premier's address opened with expressions of high regard for the importance of the influence of Kiwanis as a factor in international unity. He pointed out that the ideals of Kiwanis were high, the objectives comprehensive and well defined, and the manner with which the ideals of the organization were sustained, together with the very evident sincerity and purity of motive, had earned the respect and confidence of those charged with administration of public affairs.

COMMON DESTINY

Dealing with international relations in general terms, and explicitly stating his comments were personal and not official, Dr. Tolmie's statement expressed the hope that the cordial relations between the peoples of the United States and Canada would never be disturbed. Sharing a common tongue and history, both would share a common destiny. It was now generally recognized that national aloofness was now impossible. Between the two peoples there were no racial animosities, no room for jealousies, and the two peoples assimilated satisfactorily.

The Premier announced belief in a league of nations, not necessarily that now constituted, and considered the world would benefit from a league strong enough to bring unity among the nations. Such a league would go a long way towards humanizing humanity, by example as a rule and by force when necessary, as a mother reaches for the slipper when the occasion warranted drastic measures with children.

TRIBUTE TO LEAGUE

Discussing foreign trade and relations, the Premier pointed out that treaties now took into account more than trade exchanges, and included such matters as industry and finance. He praised the work of the League of Nations, designed to establish the rights of foreign enterprise and improve labor conditions.

"What we need to-day is a mutually advantageous scheme of co-operation." Dr. Tolmie wrote, declaring that all nations to a greater or lesser extent were dependent upon other nations. Even the United States, the most nearly able to be self-sufficient, now needed large supplies of foreign goods for her manufactures.

He touched upon the widespread British Empire, refuted charges of Empire land-grabbing and pointed out that there were many lands within the Empire occupied by backward peoples which, if left to themselves, would not contribute their share towards world progress.

He closed with a tribute to the work of Kiwanis International in promotion of amity among the nations.

Hon. Mr. Hinchliffe added a personal tribute to citizens of the United States as individuals, and expressed the hope that the convention would prove pleasant and profitable.

During the luncheon the Victoria Kiwanis orchestra played a number of selections. Vocal items were contributed by members of Lewiston Club, by a quartette from Seattle and by Mrs. Robin Welts of Mount Vernon. R. R. Webb led the community singing.

KIWANIANS' WIVES GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., Speaks Amusingly on the Golden Age of Women

Mrs. G. H. Stevens Welcomes Visitors to Which Mrs. R. M. Crossman Replies

Inaugurating the rounds of entertainment arranged in honor of the visitors, over 200 wives of Kiwanians were guests at a luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day. Mrs. G. H. Stevens, wife of the president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, acted as chairman.

The affair was held in the main dining-room, the head table being charmingly arranged with pink dahlias, asters and zinnias and mauve scabious in Indian baskets, the Indian note being further symbolized in the small totem pole erected in front of the table and in the quaint hand-painted place cards in the shape of a totem pole, replica of a famous Indian totem in Tongass Island, Alaska. Seated with Mrs. Stevens at the head table were: Mrs. R. M. Crossman, wife of the international president of Omaha; Mrs. T. Harry Gowman of Seattle; Mrs. H. Portland; Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. C. Jones of Portland; Mrs. C. F. Walker, Kenneth Ferguson, Mrs. Syverson, Mrs. Riddell, Mrs. H. M. Diggon, Mrs. Costello, Mrs. Nott, Mrs. Ernest Eve, Mrs. S. J. Willis, Mrs. D. S. McAdie and Mrs. W. N. Gunning, and Rev. H. G. Wilson, D.D., the speaker.

Mrs. Stevens tendered a graceful welcome to the visitors, and introduced Mrs. Crossman, who in a happy little address thanked the Victoria ladies for their hospitality, particularly for the flowers presented to each delegate, and recited a little poem, "The True Kiwanis Wife," which elicited much amusement.

GOLDEN AGE OF WOMEN

Dr. Wilson with characteristic humor and brevity recorded his impressions of the gathering and touched briefly upon the dawning of the golden age for women. He paid tribute to such women as Amy Johnson, the intrepid aviatrix, to Marjorie Foster, for her prowess in winning the King's Prize at Bisley, and observed that at a recent scientific congress held in Bristol, England, thirty women speakers had been on the programme—all indications of the rapid progress made by women in many spheres hitherto considered the prerogative of men.

Community singing and four very harmonious numbers by a Seattle Kiwanis quartette, rounded out a very successful function.

The executive of the Victoria Model Aircraft League will meet in th Y.M.C.A. Saturday to discuss plans and arrange a programme for the coming year. The league plans to have two of three indoor meets this year so as to give the members a chance to prepare for the city championships next summer. All persons who are interetsed in joining are asked to get in touch with Viv. Shoemaker at th eY.M.C.A. or Bill Findlay, 1266 Oscar Street, phone 3274R.

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

Of the Directors of

British Columbia Power Corporation Limited

To be submitted at the Second Annual Meeting of the Shareholders held on Monday, 29th September, 1930

To the Shareholders:

Your Directors beg to submit the following Report and Financial Statements covering the operations of your Company and its Subsidiaries for the year ended 30th June, 1930.

INCOME AND EXPENSE STATEMENT

Gross Revenue		$15,434,341.06
Expenses:
Operating Expenses	$7,491,558.59
Power purchased and expenses due to water shortage	810,676.41
Taxes	965,169.46
Depreciation and Renewals Reserve	1,877,029.92
		11,144,434.38
Net Revenue		$ 4,289,906.68
Deduct—
Bond Interest and Preference Dividends		2,101,712.64
		$ 2,188,194.04
Dividends on Class A Shares for the year		2,000,000.00
Surplus for the year		$ 188,194.04

REVENUE

As compared with the previous year the revenue from all sources shows an increase of $753,077.79, mainly due to increased sales of electricity and gas as a result of the industrial growth which has taken place during the year, the additional services installed, and to the activities of our Merchandise Department in placing over $900,000.00 of electric and gas-consuming appliances in the homes of our customers.

The revenue from our passenger transportation system shows a slight increase over last year.

Owing to the industrial depression existing throughout the country, we have, in common with all other railways, suffered a reduction in freight revenue, due to the reduced quantity of transcontinental freight moving in and out of our territory. This depression has particularly affected the lumber industry, from which a large part of our freight revenue is derived.

EXPENSES

The phenomenal absence of rainfall which prevailed on the Pacific Coast during the fall of 1929 and early winter resulted in large expenditures which are reflected in the heavy increase in our expenses over the previous year. The shortage of water at our power generating plants created a very trying situation, but through the friendly co-operation of our consumers and the City of Vancouver and other municipal authorities, together with the arrangements which the Company was able to make for the generation and supply of power from private industrial plants, a serious curtailment in the power supply was avoided. The total extraordinary expenses resulting from the power shortage were $810,676.41, all of which have been charged to revenue in this year's accounts.

PLANT ADDITIONS AND BETTERMENTS

The expenditures made during the year in increasing the capacity of our plants and providing extensions and improvements to meet the growing demand amounted to $9,379,050.00, 80% of which was devoted to the construction of the Ruskin and Bridge River plants and to the extension of our Light and Power system.

RUSKIN DEVELOPMENT—The hydro-electric development on the Lower Stave River at Ruskin has made excellent progress and the first stage of this development is now approaching completion. The time schedules and cost estimates have been very closely adhered to and the first unit of 47,000 h.p. should be in operation during October. The present construction programme has made provision for the penstock tunnel, and foundations for a second unit of the same size, which can be installed at short notice to meet the demand of any large power-consuming industry which may be established in our territory. The ultimate capacity of this plant will be 188,000 h.p. involving an expenditure of approximately $20,000,000.00.

In view of its proximity to Vancouver, the Ruskin plant is particularly suited as an emergency plant, and to this end the plans provide for four separate transmission lines following two independent routes, so that the possibility of breakdown may be reduced to a minimum. This plant will have all the advantages of a steam standby, together with the reduced operating expenses attaching to a hydro-electric plant.

BRIDGE RIVER DEVELOPMENT—The boring of the tunnel sixteen feet in diameter, 13,215 feet long, through which the water of Bridge River will be diverted at an elevation of 1,200 feet into Seton Lake, which will be the site of the power house, was successfully completed in July, 1930. The work of lining the tunnel with concrete will be proceeded with immediately.

DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM—Important improvements in our distribution system and substations have been made during the year, including the change over in distribution voltage from 2,300 to 4,000 volts in the suburban districts of Vancouver and Victoria, thereby adding to the capacity of these systems in line with the additions being made to the capacity of our generating plants and improving the voltage regulation.

EXTENSION OF GAS SYSTEM—Following the granting of franchises in the North Vancouver area, the laying of a high-pressure gas main across the Second Narrows Bridge to serve the North Vancouver district has been proceeded with, together with the erection of a Hortonsphere Holder on the North Vancouver side. During the year forty-eight miles of mains were laid, and plans for further additions to our gas manufacturing plants in Vancouver were prepared.

NEW PROPERTIES ACQUIRED

Since the date of the last report we have acquired by purchase the power plant and distribution system serving the growing City of Kamloops, and also the small plant serving the Agassiz district. In addition to the purchase of the power plant and distribution system serving the Cities of Alberni and Port Alberni, which were taken over towards the end of the financial year, we have made substantial extensions to our distribution system in the Parksville and Qualicum areas on Vancouver Island, which extensions will ultimately be part of the greater scheme of development in connection with Campbell River Falls.

GENERAL OPERATIONS

RAILWAY SYSTEM—The general depression in business, which has been continent-wide in its effect, has to some extent been felt in Vancouver and is reflected in our railway returns. This and the growth of the automobile have been responsible for the decline in passenger travel shown.

Our Freight business, however, shows the greatest decrease. Much of our revenue from this branch of our business results from the interchange with various transcontinental systems, and in this regard our earnings reflect the crop shown in the freight traffic of every transcontinental railway. The Lumber Mills also, which are our heaviest freight customers, are suffering from a temporary lack of business.

The number of passengers carried and freight hauled for the past year in comparison with previous years is as follows:

	Passengers	Freight Tonnage
1930	76,113,550	454,111
1929	77,694,731	533,391
1928	77,063,656	487,896
1927	75,113,022	481,690
1926	72,944,517	409,313

POWER AND LIGHT SYSTEM—Notwithstanding the power shortage, which brought about some curtailment in the consumption and demand of our customers, this very important branch of our business continues to show a very encouraging growth. The steady increase in sales of current, and the number of customers served, is reflected in the statistics hereunder relating to this Department:

	K.W.H.	Consumers
1930	351,047,572	110,436
1929	342,627,810	105,908
1928	290,405,805	100,337
1927	263,720,953	94,611
1926	228,947,652	89,270

GAS DEPARTMENT—The same satisfactory growth and progress is shown by our Gas Department as a result of the new avenues continually being opened up for the use of gas, and of our policy of steadily extending our area of supply. These facts are brought out by the following figures:

	Gas Sold Cubic Feet	Gas Consumers	Miles of Mains
1929	1,192,433,000	45,163	491.33
1928	1,070,810,000	41,144	441.92
1927	977,902,000	36,484	372.82
1926	833,170,000	32,321	300.60

LIGHT AND POWER RATES

The rates charged by the Company for its light and power services in the various districts bear very favorable comparison with any city on the Pacific Coast or any city in the United States and Canada with which it may reasonably be compared. Previous to the amalgamation of the Municipalities of Point Grey and South Vancouver with the City of Vancouver, separate agreements had been made with these Municipalities for the supply of electric current at rates higher than in Vancouver. During the year our lighting rates in Point Grey and South Vancouver were voluntarily reduced to the level of the rates charged in the central district, so that the enlarged area of the City of Vancouver now has a uniform scale of rates.

REDUCTION IN GAS RATES

A reduction in rates for gas used for domestic water heating and refrigeration was put into effect on June 1, 1930, and it is hoped will bring about a greater demand for gas for these purposes.

FURTHER FINANCING

In March, 1930, an issue of $10,000,000.00 5½% First Refunding and Collateral Trust Bonds was made to provide for the carrying on of the Ruskin and Bridge River developments and for other plant extensions rendered necessary by the growth of our business and the increasing scope of our activities, and in spite of the fact that the market for securities was not particularly active, our issue was well received.

TAXATION

During the last five years the payments made under this heading have been as follows:

	Dominion	Provincial	Municipal	Total
1930	$249,473.00	$168,562.00	$547,134.00	$965,169.00
1929	269,102.00	163,039.00	502,794.00	934,935.00
1928	246,133.00	151,766.00	493,244.00	891,143.00
1927	217,711.00	145,120.00	468,719.00	831,550.00
1926	189,258.00	135,235.00	438,477.00	762,970.00

The above are only the direct taxes paid and do not include indirect taxes, such as sales tax on materials purchased and other war revenue taxes, which amount to a considerable sum.

While there can be no possible objection to contributing a fair and just amount towards the cost of administering the affairs of the country, it must be recognized that any amount in excess of this is an unfair burden on the industry and can only be collected by the Company through the medium of rates and charges for the services performed.

INDUSTRIAL BUREAU

Reference was made in our last Report to the establishment of an Industrial Bureau for the purpose of assisting and facilitating the establishment of further industries in our territory. The work of this Bureau has proceeded in a very satisfactory manner and has already been instrumental in the establishment of a number of valuable industries in our territory, and several very large projects are at the present time under discussion with reasonably good prospects of early consummation.

EMPLOYEES

The number of employees on the payroll, together with the workmen employed by contractors on construction works, totalled approximately 4,500, which is the largest number employed in the history of the Company.

The Directors desire to refer to the harmonious relationship existing in all branches of the service, and to express their appreciation to all employees for their loyal and efficient services.

MAINTENANCE OF PROPERTY AND PLANT

The properties and plants of the various operating Companies have been maintained in the same high state of efficiency as heretofore, due regard being given to the comfort and needs of the Public whom we serve.

GENERAL

Our relations during the year with the Provincial Government and the various Civic and Municipal Authorities have been friendly and harmonious.

The growth of the Company's business is inevitably linked up with the growth and prosperity of the territory we serve, and in this regard the prospects for future growth and development are as bright as those of any district on this continent. We are contributing substantially to this development by the assistance being given to industries through our Industrial Department and the expenditure of large sums of money in the operation of our various utilities and the construction work on which we have been engaged. At a time when unemployment is one of the biggest problems facing the whole country the number of men employed has been the greatest in the Company's history and the outlay of money in the districts served in the maintenance and operation of our various utilities, and in our programme of construction, totalling approximately $20,000,000.00, is a most important factor in the industrial life and prosperity of British Columbia.

LOOKING FORWARD

Having regard to the great difficulty and expense resulting from the serious water shortage during the year and to the fact that a period of depression is being experienced generally, the Accounts submitted herewith indicate that the Company is in an exceptionally sound position. The additions and improvements to our property which have been carried out, and which have very substantially increased our capacity for doing business, have been made with due regard to economy and are the result of a carefully considered analysis of the business prospects and future demands.

AUDIT OF ACCOUNTS

The Balance Sheet and Accounts have been certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, Chartered Accountants, whose report is attached.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board,

W. G. MURRIN,
President.

AUDITORS' REPORT

Vancouver, B.C., August 21, 1930.

To the Shareholders of the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited:

We have examined the Books and Accounts of the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited, and its Subsidiary Companies, for the year ended June 30, 1930, and have obtained all the information and explanations which we have required.

The charges to the Plant and Equipment Accounts during the year are in respect of actual additions, extensions or permanent improvements. Adequate provision has been made for Depreciation and Accruing Renewals.

The valuations of the stocks of Stores, Materials and Supplies on hand, as shown by inventories certified by the responsible officials, have been verified as made at average cost.

Full provision has been made for Bad and Doubtful Accounts Receivable and for all ascertainable liabilities.

We have verified the cash and securities by actual count, or by certificates from the depositaries, and have satisfied ourselves that the securities are valued not above market.

And we certify that, in our opinion, the attached Consolidated Balance Sheet at June 30, 1930, is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the affairs of the Corporation and its Subsidiary Companies, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the several Companies.

CYRIL MAUDE IS HEADLINER AT DOMINION

Celebrated English Actor Performs Famous Role of "Grumpy" on Screen

What George Arliss was to "Disraeli" and "The Green Goddess," Cyril Maude is to "Grumpy."

The famous old play, built around the character of a cantankerous but inwardly soft-hearted old man, has become the success that it has been for seventeen years because Cyril Maude made it so.

Maude is one of England's greatest actors. He spent forty-six years of his life in the theatre as producer, owner and actor. He retired four years ago from active stage work, but Paramount persuaded him to appear once more in the renowned role of "Grumpy"—this time, of course, on the talking screen.

And so "Grumpy" has come to the Dominion Theatre to-day for a three day run, the same "Grumpy" who has delighted young and old in all the English-speaking countries of the world.

The story deals with a robbery which is committed in Grumpy's home, and the subsequent detective work of the old man in tracking down the culprit. After a series of amusing and exciting adventures, the cranky but crafty and kindly Grumpy catches the robber and regains the lost diamond.

Metchosin

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mary's Church was held on Thursday afternoon at the vicarage, with the president, Miss Blythe, in the chair and an average attendance. Reports of the secretary and of the Dorcas and E.C.D. secretaries were presented, also the treasurer's report showing that the sale of bulbs, plants and seeds and silver tea had been very successful and that there was a satisfactory balance on hand. The members voted a sum of $40 towards general expenses of the church, also a donation towards the stained-glass window fund for the Cathedral. Other donations during the year included a sum paid to the churchwardens of St. Mary's for paying insurance and taxes on the church and a donation towards the building fund of the new Columbia Coast Mission Hospital at Pender Island. The members hope to help with the furnishing later on.

Arrangements were made for decorating the church for Harvest Thanksgiving service to be held on Sunday, October 5, and for the Harvest Home supper to be held at the hall on Tuesday, October 7. Miss Blythe, Mrs. Bolton and Miss K. Chegwin will convene the supper.

Mrs. H. M. Bolton read an interesting and instructive report by Miss Cornwall Leigh of England on the work of a mission hospital for lepers in Japan.

WOMAN KILLS HER SISTER WHO SEEKS DEATH

Domestic Tragedy in Los Angeles Follows Break-up of Marriage

Los Angeles, Sept. 15.—With a plea for death on her lips, Mrs. Mabel Agnes Steele, forty-one, mother of three children, was shot and killed yesterday by her sister, Mrs. Ruth B. Weimer.

Mrs. Weimer told police she shot because death was all that could cure her sister of a broken heart.

The story of desolation behind the slaying then was told. Mrs. Steele's estranged husband, Glen Steele, kidnapped two of the children, Fred, seven, and Maeotta, four, eighteen months ago. Mrs. Steel's efforts to locate the children or learn their fate failed, and she spent all her time either weeping over her loss or seeking solace from soothsayers of religious cult leaders.

Sinking to depths of despondency, Mrs. Steele attempted suicide several times. Finally Mrs. Weimer caused her to be placed in the psychopathic ward, and sent the third child, Nadine, two years' old, to a third sister in Sparks, Nevada. Recently Mrs. Steele was released from the institution, and apparently was recovering, but yesterday she fell to weeping and crying for the children.

Fire Situation Much Improved

Statistics on B.C. forest fires for last week show a big drop in the number of new outbreaks as a result of cool and showery weather in many parts of the province. Approximately half as many fires were reported last week as compared with the six weeks previous.

To date there have been 2,064 fires during the season, against 1,851 to this time last year and 1,463 in 1928

Ends Piles Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantees money-back if it does not end all Pile misery. (Advt.)

Stupendous Story Of Shipwrecks Is Coming Next Week

For the first time in film history, a P. & O. liner was placed at the disposal of British International Pictures at Tilbury Docks, during the production of their "talkie" "Atlantic," directed by E. A. Dupont, coming to the Coliseum Theatre September 20.

Crowds of panic-stricken women are herded into the life-boats, which were duly lowered from the davits while the men, held back by the crew, peered down from the deck of the sinking ship at the boats as they were swamped by the outrush of water. The boat-crowds are beautifully done, the details being as close as Dupont teaches his public to expect from him. One old woman clung desperately to her kitten as the only thing in the world that mattered in those last moments, and the atmosphere of desperation and hardship is wonderfully conveyed. Several barges were moored around the liner, for the accommodation of a series of cameras, and Charles Rosher obtained a most fascinating shot from a motor-launch, in which he took from below a boat that was being lowered right on to the camera, just gliding out of the way as the boat struck the water.

Sparkling Comedy Of Cabaret Life Next Week's Show

Playhouse Attraction Will Be "Ladies of Leisure" With Splendid Cast

"Ladies of Leisure," the Columbia all-talking drama of New York night life which is to be shown at the Playhouse next week with Barbara Stanwyck, Lowell Sherman and Ralph Graves in the leading roles, is said to be the liveliest motion picture of the year. It is scintillating with the spirit of youth and gaiety.

It is simple story but in its simplicity lies its charm. An idealist—an artist—becomes interested in a girl of the street and asks her to pose for him. She falls in love with him. Without being aware of it she becomes identical with his ideal of womanhood.

Glenn Tryon And Marna Kennedy On Playhouse Screen

Popular Pair of Stars Have Leading Roles in "Skinner Steps Out"

Tryon has never done better work than in this picture. He has a role ideally suited to his exceptional fun-making talents. Opposite him is beautiful titian-haired Merna Kennedy, who also is exceedingly happily cast. In the role of "Honey," the young wife, Miss Kennedy is a most winsome and appealing heroine.

The plot of the story concerns itself with business and social career of young "William Henry Skinner," who is a great man to his adoring young wife and a very small potato at the office.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday.

One of the Scriptural texts contained in the lesson-sermon was, "But as it is written, eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him" (I. Corinthians ii 9).

Following the reading of the Bible texts, passages were also read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy one passage being the following from page 458: "Christianity causes men to turn naturally from matter to spirit, as the flower turns from darkness to light. Man than appropriates those things which 'eye hath not seen nor ear heard.'"

THREE LOSE LIVES

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 15.—An automobile accident claimed three lives on the highway near here yesterday. Angus Arpin, sixty, of East Angus, and A. Leesy and his wife, Sherbrooke, were killed. Two other occupants, Mrs. A. Duhanel, thirty-five, and Florian Arpin, both of Montreal, suffered severe injuries. The automobile left the highway when Arpin swerved to avoid a collision and crashed into a tree.

LON CHANEY IS CAPITOL STAR IN LAST STORY

Famous Character Actor, Who Died Recently, Is Seen in Weird Talkie This Week

Audiences will flock this week to the Capitol Theatre to hear Lon Chaney talk for the first and last time on the screen.

And thy are thrilling at a new Lon Chaney, a Chaney more articulate, more convincing, and more gripping than he ever was even with his clever pantomime. "The Unholy Three," with Chaney speaking in five separate voices, and even singing, gives the fans something really new under the sun.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture shows Chaney in the role of the sinister ventriloquist, who with strange voices and a still stranger plot works havoc in many lives. His impersonation of the old woman is one of the most startling things he had ever done, not only in regard to facial disguise, but to the uncanny voice disguise. Chaney, in his years on the stage, played many characters in many voices, and this training enabled him to become literally "a man of a thousand voices."

Aside from the voices—a great story, a splendid cast, and a gripping mystery make the picture one of the most vivid of entertainments. Lila Lee plays the heroine, as a hardboiled child of the side shows, who discovers that she can love as ardently as her sisters on the higher strata of humanity, and Elliot Nugent has the role of the clerk she loves, with deft artistry. Jack Conway's clever direction is apparent in many splendidly done scenes.

One of the real surprises is Harry Earls, the midget, who is the only one in the cast who appeared in the original silent version. Earle injects whimsical comedy into his dialogue with the deft facility of a seasoned stage actor, and gives an amazing interpretation of the role. Ivan Linow, as the giant, offers a vivid and accurate characterization, and his scenes with the giant ape will be long remembered.

Famous Quartette Of Stars Appear In Columbia Film

"Shows of Shows" Has Brilliant Cast of Screen Celebrities and Stage Stars

Four of the worl's famous laughmakers combine their respective comedy talents to make a unique quartette in "Show of Shows," Warner Brothers' Vitaphone super-revue in which scores upon scores of outstanding stage and screen stars appear at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

This comedy quartette is composed of Beartice Lillie, Louise Fazenda, Frank Fay and Lloyd Hamilton, Miss Lillie is internationally known and Miss Fazenda and Hamilton are celebrated for their screen comics, while Fay and Miss Lillie are both widely know stage stars. Fay recently played the featured role in "Under a Texas Moon," the Vitaphone all-color, all-talking epic of the borderland. Miss Lillie appeared in "Charlot's Revue" with overwhelming success.

Elsie Janis Was Director of Film At The Coliseum

"Paramount on Parade" Is Glorious Revue of Stars and Magnificent Gowns

All-talking all-musical motion picture-making is the most interesting phase of the show business. Its limitless opportunities combined with almost limitless resources at the command of Hollywood studios make it so. And this, in spite of the fact that it is the most trying, exacting and nerve-shattering work in the world.

So believes Elsie Janis, noted comedienne and impersonator. She has just finished supervising the talking, dancing, singing festival of Paramount's stars, "Paramount on Parade," which is showing at the Coliseum Theatre to-day.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Wheat: In the face of the strength in Liverpool with the general news somewhat bullish, the local wheat market gave a very poor exhibition of strength to-day. Opening prices were higher, prices scoring gains of 1⅝ over the close yesterday, the upturn being largely due to short covering which was based on the strong cables, Liverpool being 1⅛ to 1⅜ higher when due ⅝ to 1¼ lower. However, the bulge was short lived as the buying did not follow, offerings being liberal which filled up the rather small demand existing. Prices gradually fell away until the October future was 1⅛ cents under the previous close; there being little or no support in the market, and few had any resting orders to buy even on the break. Export business over the week-end was again very small, somewhere between 200,000 and 300,000 bushels, all practically Manitobas. The demand for cash wheat was only fair, but offerings were not pressing and spreads were about unchanged. Millers reported a little improvement in export sales of flour. The weather in western Canada was unsettled with rains or showers fairly general and probably accounted for the smaller country marketings on Saturday which were only 2,809,000 of wheat against 3,715,000 a year ago. The Canadian visible increased 4,941,000, and U.S. visible increase 7,585,000, the latter being much larger than expected. There was moderate hedging pressure seen in the local pit while the pool sold a little October early. Complaints are coming from Argentine, and evidently the big wheat-growing provinces are in need of moisture. Wheat reacted slightly at the close on short covering, but Winnipeg futures closed ⅜ to ⅝ lower.

Coarse grains: These markets were very weak during the first part of the day, all making new lows, October oats sinking to 32⅛, barley to 29⅞ and rye 44 cents. However, the market firmed up in the late trade with some fairly good support, but this was largely local. Demand for cash grains quiet.

Flax: Dull and featurless. Nearby months closed from 1 to 2¼ lower with May 1½ higher. Liverpool due ⅝ to ⅞ lower on Winnipeg.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Wheat: The market showed a strong tone early, but steady selling i na smal way, credited to hedging by the northwest, along with scattered liquidation, caused a later setback, new low prices for the crop being established. September selling under 80. The prospects for another large increase in the visible supply was another bear factor offsetting the stronger cables. Liverpool closed ⅞ to 1¼ higher on short covering due to reports of continued dry weather in the Argentine. However, Buenos Aires was only ¼ higher. The cash demand was fair for domestic account, but there was not much doing for export. The primary movement continues heavy, 3,169,000 vs. 2,786,000 a year ago. Weather in Canada was showery and also in parts of the southwest. The situation in the main is unchanged, speculative trade still adverse to carrying the load of hedges.

Corn: Easy at start, but for a time later showed considerable strength. However, the pronounced weakness in wheat later caused rather free selling and a later decline. Crop news shows no general change and reports indicate an unusual variation in yields in the same localities. Cash demand was moderate with the basis half off and receipts 218 cars estimated and shipments 182,000 bushels. Country offerings light. The weather is seasonable. The market is still handicapped by the prevailing low prices for wheat. On its merits think corn on recessions from around this level will have good support.

Oats were affected largely by other grains. Cash basis steady and the movement is moderate. Primary arrivals, 583,000 vs. 825,000 a year ago.

Rye opened higher only to react decidedly following the setback in wheat. Fair demand for new arrivals of rye. Russia reported offering rye abroad at extremely low prices.

BEARS CRACK STOCKS DOWN AGAIN ON NEW YORK MARKET

Number of Leading Stocks Lose From Two to Four Points To-day

Result of German Elections May Have Been Partly to Blame

New York, Sept. 15.—The bears took another fling at the stock market today, but ran into the same obstacle their professional opponents have encountered—dullness.

Failure of the Saturday rally to do much more than eliminate that day's early declines, leaving the market lower on the week, encouraged renewed operations by the shorts, who hammered with especial vigor at the utility, steel and merchandising shares. The result of the German elections, reflected in selling on the Berlin Bourse, also may have contributed to the weakening of speculative sentiment.

LOSES FROM TWO TO THREE POINTS

Prices drifted lower throughout the day and losses of 2 to 4 points developed in leading stocks. However, offerings became much lighter as quotations scaled off, and the market was extremely dull in the late dealings. U.S. Steel, Amrican Telephone, American Can, American Power and Light, R. H. Macy, Woolworth, General Electric and numerous other favorites lost 2 to 3. Westinghouse Electric lost 4 and Allied Chemical 8. Only a handful of issues moved against the trend. Notably Auto Strop up 5, and Gillette up 1 on revival of merger rumors. American Waterworks was firm.

UTILITIES AND RAILS FIRM ON BOND MARKET

New York, Sept. 15.—Changes in the bond market at the commencement of the new week were mixed to-day. Trading was nominal and buying interest centred in a select list of railroad and utility issues which ruled steady to firm. The foreign list was slightly lower.

Two fair-sized pieces of financing were placed on the market. Illinois Pacific Glass Corporation offered $2,500,000 six per cent. convertible gold bonds and the Chicago Great Western Railroad Company is borrowing $2,350,000 through issuance of $2,350,000 four and a half per cent. trust certificates. In financial circles it is expected the coming weeks may bring out a fair amount of foreign loans. Bond houses report foreign nations having short term loans contemplate refinancing on a long-term basis in the American market.

CALL MONEY SAME

Call money renewed at 2 and a half per cent. In view of the extraordinary large volume of funds, estimated between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000, to be placed in the market this week as a result of third quarter tax payments, it is anticipated that the Federal Reserve will act to forestall any extreme easing of money rates, such as occurred last March under similar conditions. Call Money and bankers' acceptances may be temporarily affected, bankers say, but it was believed that the Federal Reserve would invite member banks to participate in the treasury overdraft to offset the large volume of funds thrown into the market.

Legal rails held firm.

STOCK PRIVILEGE ISSUES NEGLECTED

Stock privilege issues were neglected with the exception of several railroad convertibles, which sold around Saturday's final prices.

A feature of the foreign list was the weakness of German issues coincident with the results of the German elections. German 5½s sagged more than a point on heavy selling, and German 7s reacted in sympathy. South Americans were slightly lower.

Treasury 4¼ and 3¾s were very firm spots in the government list. Others were steady.

IMPROVEMENT IS EXPECTED IN COPPER STOCK

Despite an increase of more than 25,000 tons in stocks of refined copper in North and South America in August, many copper producers feel that the industry has touched bottom and that a slow improvement in the statistical position of the metal may become noticeable in the reports for September and October. The situation, many experts say, is susceptible to much improvement and is not likely to get much worse. Many large orders for copper were placed in May and June, it is pointed out, which have not yet been delivered to purchasers. Although the metal has been paid for in some instances this copper is included in the stocks of refined metal. As soon as it is shipped the statistics are expected to show improvement.

GRAIN SUPPORT IN LIVERPOOL STARTS BUYING

Thirty Million Secured for Refinancing Present Grain Holdings, Report States

By Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.

Chicago, Sept. 15. — Unexpected strength in Liverpool with reports of dry weather in the Argentine, set a fairly large buying scale in wheat. Some hedging pressure was in evidence on the advance.

Credit of $30,000,000 secured by the Grain Stabilization Corporation from a syndicate of bankers is to be used solely for the purpose of refinancing present grain holdings, and is not for additional funds. Executions of credit agreements with leading banks of the country, under which liberal commercial financing for the movement and storage of grain is provided, is announcel by George S. Milner. A syndicate of important banks, headed by the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, the National City Bank of New York and the Chase National Bank of New York will handle $30,000,000 of the paper of the Grain Stabilization Corporation in the form of bankers' acceptances.

Private Argentine cable, dated Saturday, says: The weather is cloudy and a few showers have fallen in the north. The west and south are dry, and wheat farmers are complaining.

SELLING DISAPPOINTING

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—Scattered selling in wheat export sales of Canadian wheat is disappointing. Hedging sales are checking the advance somewhat. Shorts were disturbed at the opening by strength in Liverpool.

Weather conditions were unsettled in Western Canada and rains and showers have been fairly general. World shipments last week totaled 12,753,000 bushels, of which North America shipped 7,667,000. Wheat and flour on passage decreased 4,384,000.

Liverpool spot wheat was unchanged. Corn was unchanged to one point lower. Futures opened steady with the continent getting a very large proportion of the week's world's shipments, and consequently only little destined to the United Kingdom. Less offerings of Russian wheat were noted to-day, and this caused considerable short covering. A large Argentine shipper is buying futures here, and a better feeling exists generally.

Total world shipments of wheat this week are 12,755,000, against 13,479,000 last year.

Chicago is selling the wheat in this market. Support is poor and trade mostly local. Very poor support is given to wheat with outside demand slow.

Marketings of wheat in Western Canada from August 1 to September 13 stood at 98,500,000 bushels, against 53,000,000 in same period a year ago.

The visible Canadian wheat increase is 4,941,000 bushels, while the oats increase is 121,000, and the barley increase 1,023,000. The rye increase is 328,000 bushels.

EUROPE WHEAT YIELD REPORTED POOR THIS YEAR

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The wheat situation in Europe shows decreases in quantity or value in most countries, according to reports received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from its various trade commissioners. In Germany, the last wheat crop estimate is placed at 128,500,000 bushels, which, while slightly larger than last year is of inferior quality. German imports or wheat are expected to remain the same as last year, 52,532,340 bushels.

In Greece, the wheat crop prospects are reported as poor with a possibility of increased imports. Wheat imports of last year amounted to 21,809,000 bushels. In Italy, due to a smaller yield, imports of wheat are likely to be heavier than during the year, when 40,311,000 bushels were imported.

TO-DAY'S REPORTS ON CALGARY OILS

By Special Service of Miller, Court & Co., Victoria Office

Calgary, Sept. 15.—Shareholders of Calmont Oils Limited will consider reduction of capitalization from 10,000,000 shares to 3,000,000 shares of $1 par value, at a special morning meeting on September 29. The meeting will be held in the company's head offices, Toronto General Trust Building at 11 o'clock. Calling of the shareholders follows a meeting of directors here on Saturday. Special notice states the reduction would involve cancellation of 7,000,000 unissued shares and also rescinding of a by-law which authorizes payment of stock dividends.

Acid will be applied to iron in McLeod No. 1 in an attempt to remove the obstruction to the producer's gas flow, according to George H. Cloakey, managing director. Mr. Cloakey stated the experiment would be made by contrators who considered prospects good for overcoming the obstacle. Operations, he said, would be under way in a week or so.

McLeod No. 5 was drilling in the lower Fernies at 4,840 feet.

Some of the difficulties have been overcome at Okalta No. 1 where repairs are under way to the collapsed casing which interferes with production, according to officials. At present operators are recementing the cellar to prevent water seepage between the casings from the top of the well. This has been found to be the chief cause of the trouble, the water running down between casing, freezing and resulting in casing collapse. The well originally produced about 500 barrels daily.

Okalta No. 2 is preparing for diamond drill with which to complete the well from 100 feet in the limestone. Okalta No. 3 over the week-end was drilling about 300 feet in the limestone.

GRAIN MARKET IN WINNIPEG REMAINS WEAK

Export Business Over Week-end Totaled Only 300,000 Bushels

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 15.—Another day of weakening values occurred on the Grain market here to-day. Advances of 1 to 1⅞ secured near the opening were washed away despite strong Liverpool cables and October slipped to 77¼ cents, November 80⅝ cents, December 81¾ and May eighty cents. The net decline was ¼ cent to ⅝ cents below Saturday.

The strength at Liverpool, due mostly to dry weather in the Argentine and small arrivals of wheat, had no effect on the fast sliding market here. Export business over the week-end totaled only 300,000 bushels and this had a depressing effect on this exchange.

Trading in the pit was light with most of the selling coming from elevator interests in the shape of hedging. Coarse grains also failed to display any activity and prices were generally unchanged from the previous close. Barley, however, caused a surprise during the morning when an amount of the grain was sold for export for the first time in months. It is probable that more barley will also be sold for export shortly.

New Copper Strike Made West of Claim Of Sherritt-Gordon

Canadian Press

The Pas, Man., Sept. 15.—A new copper strike has been made on Yaksavitch Island, west of the Sherritt-Gordon mine, according to reports from Gold Lake. A number of prospectors from Gold Lake are already on their way to the locality. Names of Jack Owens and Pete Alberta, well-known prospectors, are linked with the find, but details are lacking.

SOFTNESS MARKS MINING MARKET

Bulk of Attention at Toronto Directed to One or Two Stocks

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 15.—Softness marked price action on the mining market in the afternoon with bulk of attention still directed to one or two stocks.

Acme Gas touched a high of 38½, but reacted shortly before the close to around 36, six up from last Saturday. Nordon dropped 10 to 93, and Ajax, after reaching a high for the day of $2.22, was off a couple at $2.13. Home Oil finished with a gain of five.

Noranda and Nickel were down fractionally, and Waite-Ackerman and Abana displayed minor recessions.

STOCKS DRIFT LOWER IN DULL TORONTO MART

City Dairy Only Stock to Experience an Active Session

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 15.—Stocks drifted lower in uneventful trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day.

The oils gave way fractionally in lighter trading. International Nickel sold under 25 before the close, losing nearly a point. Noranda also was lower.

TRADING LULLS BUT DIPS SMALL IN VANCOUVER

Home Oil Continues to Lead Interest, But Lost Ten Points

Premier Is Surprise of Mining Group, Dropping to 99 Cents

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Sept. 15. — New York weakness, communicated to eastern Canadian markets, was the principal cause of a lull in trading during the forenoon session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange to-day. The dip was not pronounced.

Home Oil continues to lead trading interest. The leader opened at 3.50 today and slipped to 3.50, in line with Toronto.

Mayland, selling at 75, continues to be an interesting operation. The news to-day is that No. 2, on first separator test Saturday, flowed 196 barrels, with gas pressure 13,800,000, and increased production expected.

There was little action in Amalgamated and Crow's Nest, which sold at about the same levels as on Saturday.

In the mining list one of the features was the drop of Premier to 99, depite the recent news that dividends will be paid as usual.

George Copper was firm at 1.40 and Woodbine sold at 2⅜. The big mining play of the moment is in Big Missouri, which opened this morning at 66 and sold off to 64, with a fair volume of trading.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Sept. 15.—Witney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says:

MARKET BOTTOM ESTABLISHED

"Saturday proved to be a rather valuable day in that it served to show rather definitely where stocks would be supported and how much decline would be tolerated before those committed to a business recovery, and its correlary market programme were willing to step in with some real buying orders. As the market stood at its close on the previous day, "Friday night," it had been brought down to levels where support should be encountered; but had, nevertheless, closed without yet showing evidences of it.

"Saturday's session, in turn, brought on the required evidence, and while it took about two points more of decline to crystallize it into buying orders, the quick recovery of all this decline in the latter part of the session revealed that Friday's closings approximately constituted the levels to which the minor interruptive movement, following the bull signal just over a week ago, would go before the market resumed the advance thus indicated.

"In other words, what we have seen is a purely normal sequence of market movement which is, first, the giving of a signal, then a second and contrary movement thereto, with what has been signalled coming through after the interruptive central-movement.

"Just so long as this type of secondary movement does "take back" the territory from which the initial signalling movement emanated, we have a purely normal bottom in Saturday's low fulfilling this requirement by stopping at the point of emergence just under the 240 level in the Dow Jones industrials. Moreover, think that in its completion we have had what reaction was pointed out to you around the first of the month as scheduled for the second week of September. It will be recalled that in looking forward into the month, it was predicted that in so far as the weekly units would permit of describing its outlook, the first week could be expected as one of advance, the second one of decline, but that the third and fourth week would quickly reinstated the pre-decline prices and before the close of the month bring on sufficient advance to place the final prices for September a whole lot higher than those at which the month opened.

"At a later date, last Tuesday, the possibilities were drawn down a little finer in the statement that the then prevailing at around 241 in the Dow Jones index could be expected to drop sufficiently to bring this index back to about 240. The market has actually run about a point higher on the first figure and a point and a half to two points lower than the 240 figure. The essence of the expectation, however, is unimpaired by these over-running points, and now believe we are about to enter the final phase of the month, which is one of steady advance to much higher prices."

CATTLE SHIPPED FROM CANADA TO NORTH ENGLAND

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—A very satisfactory Canadian cattle trade will develop with the north of England when the stock exported is of a high-class standard, according to a report received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from Harry A. Scott, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Liverpool. The recent increase in the United States tariff, together with a drop in cattle values in that country has to some extent resulted in Canadian prices coming more into line with those in this market.

Arrival of a shipment of 127 head of live cattle at Manchester from Montreal marked the first to enter that market since the summer of 1928. One of the chief difficulties in the trade is the scarcity of cargo boats suitable for the carrying of livestock, but it is expected that in view of the fact that several consignments have been booked for the fall and that the trade will become more established, this problem will be solved.

POWER COMPANY EXPANSION IN B. C. IS NOTED

Over $9,000,000 Spent in Developments in Province During Year

Power Corporation Now Has 4,500 Workers on Its Payrolls

Gross revenue of the British Columbia Power Corporation Limited for the year ended June 30, 1930, amounted to $15,434,341.06 and expenses to $11,144,434.38, showing a net revenue of $4,289,906.68, the annual report of the directors prepared for the shareholders' meeting to be held Monday, September 29, shows.

Operating expenses amounted to $7,491,558.59, power purchases and expenses due to water shortage amounted to $810,676.41, taxes to $965,169.46, depreciation and renewals reserve $1,877,029.92. Against the revenue account is set $2,101,712.64 for bond interest and preference dividends and $2,000,000 dividends on Class A shares for the year, leaving a surplus for the year of $188,194.04.

The British Columbia Power Corporation Limited owns and controls the following companies: British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, British Columbia Electric Power and Gas Company Limited, Vancouver Power Company Limited, Western Power Company of Canada Limited, Bridge River Power Company Limited, Burrard Power Company Limited, Vancouver Island Power Company Limited, National Utilities Corporation Limited, Vancouver, Fraser Valley and Southern Railway Company; Columbia Estate Company Limited, British Columbia Rapid Transit Company Limited, Victoria Electric Company Limited, Victoria Gas Company Limited.

REVENUE

As compared with the previous year, the revenue from all sources shows an increase of $753,077.79, mainly due to increased sales of electricity and gas as a result of the industrial growth which has taken place during the year, the additional services installed, and to the activities of the merchandise department in placing over $900,000.00 of electric and gas-consuming appliances in the homes of our customers.

The revenue from the passenger transportation system shows a slight increase over last year.

Owing to the industrial depression existing throughout the country, the corporation, in common with all other railways, suffered a reduction in freight revenue, due to the reduced quantity of transcontinental freight moving in and out of its territory. This depression has particularly affected the lumber industry, from which a large part of the freight revenue is derived.

EXPENSES

The phenomenal absence of rainfall which prevailed on the Pacific Coast during the fall of 1929 and early winter resulted in large expenditures which are reflected in the heavy increase in expenses over the previous year. The total extraordinary expenses resulting from the power shortage were $810,676.41.

PLANT ADDITIONS AND BETTERMENTS

The expenditures made during the year in increasing the capacity of plants and providing extensions and improvements to meet the growing demand amounted to $9,379,050.00, eighty per cent of which was devoted to the construction of the Ruskin and Bridge River plants and to the extension of the light and power system.

LIGHT AND POWER RATES

The rates charged by the company for its light and power services in the various districts bear very favorable comparison with any city on the Pacific Coast or any city in the United States and Canada with which it may reasonably be compared. Previous to the amalgamation of the Municipalities of Point Grey and South Vancouver with the City of Vancouver, separate agreements had been made with these municipalities for the supply of electric current at rates higher than in Vancouver. During the year the lighting rates in Point Grey and South Vancouver were voluntarily reduced to the level of the rates charged in the central district, so that the enlarged area of the City of Vancouver now has a uniform scale of rates.

A reduction in rates for gas used for domestic water heating and refrigeration was put into effect on June 1, 1930, and it is hoped will bring about a greater demand for gas for these purposes.

FINANCING

In March, 1930, an issue of $10,000,000.00 5½ per cent first refunding and collateral trust bonds was made to provide for the carrying on of the Ruskin and Bridge River developments and for otheer plant extensions rendered necessary by the growth of business and the increasing scope of activities, and in spite of the fact that the market for securities was not particularly active, the issue was well received.

EMPLOYEES

The number of employees on the payroll, together with the workmen employed by contractors on construction works, totalled approximately 4,500, which is the largest number employed in the history of the company.

The following interesting facts about the corporation and its subsidiaries are given: It serves a territory of over 1,500 square miles; it renders service to a population of over 375,000, embracing twenty-six different communities; it has eight hydro-electric plants and three steam plants; it is building two additional hydro-electric plants; it has sixty-three substations and transformer stations; it has 502 miles of high-tension transmission lines; it has 1,921 miles of distribution pole lines; it has thirty-five city street car routes; it has four interurban lines; it employs 4,500 people; it paid out in wages and salaries during the year more than $7,000,000; it operates 192 miles of street car lines; it operates 159 miles of interurban car lines, a total of 351 miles; it operates 421 city and interurban passenger cars; it operates twelve electric locomotives; it operates 443 express, freight and service cars; it operates twenty-six motor coaches and twenty-two motor freight trucks; it operates 144 miles of motor coach and 210 miles of motor freight service; it operated 15,959,829 passenger car miles during the year; the power generated by its power plants during the year totaled 458,972,894 k.w.h.; it operates eleven stores for the sale of electric and gas appliances; it has two gas plants, with a total daily capacity of 9,100,000 cubic feet.

DEBT TOTAL OF CANADA SHOWS CUT

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—The total net debt of Canada on August 31 was $2,144,860,443.93, a reduction of about $4,000,000 from the figure of $2,148,702,415.93 a year ago.

These figures, made available in the current issue of The Canadian Gazette, do not take credit for non-active assets.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Taxes collected by the Federal Government up to the end of August amounted to $165,371,428.34, a pronounced decrease as compared with $192,645,454.62, the figure for the same period in 1929.

After adding post office and other revenues, including special receipts and credits on the consolidated fund, the total receipts for the period under review amounted to $187,980,267.11.

The total of ordinary expenditure was $142,386,755.18, as compared with $135,639,792.23. Besides ordinary expenditures, the grand total includes payments for adjustments of war claims, public works, railways and canals and various non-active loans and advances to the Canadian National Railways, the Canadian Government Merchant Marine and the Quebec Harbor Commission.

BUSINESS FAIR CREDIT MEN OF CANADA STATE

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 15.—The weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust ssociation Limited for the week ending September 13 is as follows:

Halifax—Conditions in Cape Breton unchanged. In Nova Scotia conditions are normal. Collections fair.

Montreal—Fair volume in sales of wholesale boots and shoes; clothing, gents' furnishings and ladies' wear normal. Improvement in wholesale hardware. Dry goods busy. Retail trade good. Collections generally fair.

Toronto — Business generally fair with optimism expressed. Automobile industry is quiet. Retailers feel that a turn for the better is indicated.

Winnipeg—Improvement reported in manufacturing. Wholesale groceries, dry goods and boots and shoes good. Hardware fair. Men's furnishings improving. Retail trade reports improvement. Collections slightly improved.

Regina — Wholesale groceries very good; dry goods fair; boots and shoes fair; hardware fair. Retail trade improving generally. Collections generally slow.

Moose Jaw—Slight improvement in wholesale boots and shoes. Hardware rather quiet; groceries fair. Retail trade fair. Collections improving.

Saskatoon—Wholesale groceries reported satisfactory with considerable improvement shown over previous week. Hardware satisfactory. Boots and shoes good; dry goods holding up very well. Retail trade rather quiet in the city; country fair. Collections: city, fair; country slow.

Calgary — Retail business still very disappointing. General feeling regarding retail and wholesale trade would seem to be much better than for some months past. Collections showing little improvement.

Edmonton—Wholesale trade continues to show slight improvement with collections also somewhat improved. City retail trade very quiet.

Vancouver—All lines of trade, including manufacturing, reported fair, with collections fair and slow. Retail trade fair. Dry goods, boots and shoes and gents' furnishings better. Lumber industry very unsatisfactory; fishing industry is just fair.

NOTES ON WATERWAY PLAN IN NOVEMBER

appoint commissioners for further discussion of the project and to formulate a treaty.

Mr. Bennett replied that parliament was sitting and the Imperial Conference was coming on, but that he would be ready to look into the matter on his return.

PUBLISHED AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Sept. 15.—Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, informed the United States in a note made public at the State Department to-day that Canada could not deal with the St. Lawrence waterway project as proposed by the United States until next November at least, when a study would be made and further notes exchanged.

The note was a reply to the United States note carried to Ottawa by Hanford MacNider, new United States Minister to Canada, informing that government the United States was ready to proceed with the project at any time and suggesting the appointment of commissioners to formulate a treaty for this purpose.

SUGAR

New York, Sept. 15.—Raw sugar was steady early to-day and prices were unchanged at 3.15 for spots, duty paid, with sales reported of 32,000 bags of Cuban for prompt shipment.

Refined sugar was unchanged at 4.35 to 4.45 for fine granulated, with only one refiner listing at the inside. The withdrawal demand was quite satisfactory, but no new business of importance was reported.

ENTERPRISE EASILY WINS SECOND RACE FOR AMERICA'S CUP

TEN-MILE BREEZE

A sailing breeze of ten miles an hour was blowing as the two yachts started over the thirty-mile triangular course. Both craft were wearing mainsails, staysails, jibs and large jib topsails.

POINTS HIGHER

Enterprise, sailing closer to the wind, drew away from Shamrock in the first few minutes of the race. The defender was so far ahead that sailing men estimated Vanderbilt might cross the bow of Shamrock to the weather berth if he so desired.

Shamrock, unless Skipper Ernest Heard could shake her up, appeared doomed to take the wake of Enterprise as she did throughout the first race Saturday, which Enterprise won with a margin of two minutes and fifty-two seconds.

CROSSES BOW

As soon as the United States skipper had his boat well to weather of Shamrock he went back on the starboard tack.

Vanderbilt's new position was of great strategic advantage. Being to weather, his boat would be first to feel the breeze and also act as an obstruction to the wind reaching the Shamrock's sails at its full velocity.

BONES IN THEIR TEETH

Although Shamrock appeared to be footing it along in good shape, it was impossible to see how the challenger could work through Enterprise's lee.

All Skipper Vanderbilt had to do to check Shamrock was to bear down on her and blanket her with his own towering spread of sail. Such a manoeuvre undoubtedly would almost empty the wind from the British boat's sails.

Both boats went over on the port tack at 11.05.

SHORT TACKS

Skipper Heard, using every means to gain the advantage, stayed on the port tack but a moment and then went over to the starboard tack.

Enterprise quickly followed. Vanderbilt was playing the game for all there was in it and taking no chance of the challenger slipping away from him and regaining that precious advantage Enterprise had won at the start.

With the turning marker almost in striking distance at 11.45, an hour and five minutes after the start, Shamrock went over the starboard tack.

SAIL HANDLING DIFFERS

Again Shamrock appeared to have gained nothing by the shifts—in fact, the advantage was with Enterprise, due to her crew's faster sail handling.

Shortly after noon Shamrock tacked again, but Skipper Vanderbilt held on the starboard tack, heading for the marker that showed a third of the race was run, apparently satisfied he had the situation well in hand.

Rounding the ten mile mark at 12.21.30, an hour and forty minutes from the start, Enterprise boomed away on the long reach for the next marker. She was sliding easily through the gentle swell.

The two boats then had a ten mile reach to the southeast to the twenty mile mark, and then run home ahead of the wind for ten miles more.

Barring an accident, Enterprise seemed to have victory assured.

TWO MILE LEAD

Enterprise had increased her lead over Shamrock to approximately two miles at one o'clock and was footing along at a good pace.

In addition to the ballooners both boats were carrying stay sails in the reach for the second marker.

AT TWENTY MILES

When Enterprise rounded the twenty-mile mark she was two miles or more ahead of the British boat.

Shamrock rounded the marker at 1.31.35, nine minutes and ten seconds behind the United States boat.

The white hulled defender made the second leg of the thirty-mile course in an hour and one minute as compared with the hour and forty minutes she had required to complete the first leg. The second ten miles was a reach as compared with a windward beat on the first leg.

Enterprise had the wind off her port quarter and almost directly astern as she turned for home.

Enterprise came down to the twenty-mile mark with a bone in her teeth, and swung around for home with little lost motion. Shamrock was so far behind she could not be easily distinguished among the fleet that was accompanying her.

LIKE A GHOST

A fog began to settle down over the course shortly after the sloops had turned the twenty-mile mark.

From a mile distant the top of Enterprise's mast and sails were obscured and she slipped along through the thickening haze like a slim white ghost.

The fog, if it should continue to thicken, would make a real hazard of the finish, with the myriad of accompanying craft jockeying for a position close enough to see the boats cross the line.

SPINNAKER'S SET

Commodore Vanderbilt set his spinnaker shortly before 3 o'clock, apparently taking no chances with the race so near the end. It appeared the move was not necessary to win the race as Shamrock continued to coast along with only her mainsail and balooner drawing.

However, fifteen minutes after the United States boat had set her big wing Shamrock also hoisted her spinnaker. Skipper Heard was making as much of a race as he could with his boat, although Shamrock's cause seemed quite hopeless.

IMPORT BOARD FOR BRITAIN IS DISCUSSED

Minister of Agriculture Is to Bring Proposal Before Imperial Conference Delegates

Canadian Press

Leicester, Eng., Sept. 15.—"With two million persons out of work in this country it is about time we all got together to see if we can make better use of our native land," declared Rt. Hon. Christopher Addison, Minister of Agriculture, in an address to agriculturists delivered here yesterday.

"We shall have to decide to adopt new methods," said Dr. Addison, as he told of proposals which would be submitted to parliament at its coming session with a view to getting more men on the land and to provide extra credit facilities. These proposals would also cover the marketing of products," said the minister.

BILL PROPOSED

Dr. Addison expected a bill known as the agricultural marketing bill would become law at the forthcoming parliamentary session. While the bill would not deal with the importation of goods, that matter would be included in other proposals of the government. But he was unable to say the cereal board, under the bill, would not deal with the importation of wheat.

The minister stated he had always been an apostle of an import board policy. He promised to discuss the question with representatives of the Dominions at the Imperial Conference. Dr. Addison thought the board would have to control the importation of several commodities.

BODIES OF MINE DISASTER VICTIMS ARE LAID TO REST

Princeton, B.C., Sept. 15.—Funerals were held from Princeton Sunday of the last six victims of the Blakeburn mine disaster, breaking a long tension which has existed since forty-five men were trapped in the Blakeburn coal mine just over a month ago. The funerals, five from the Roman Catholic Church and one from the United Church, were marked by pathetic scenes.

Though all bodies have been recovered, work is still being done in the mine, as all possible evidence is desired for the inquiry. Government officials are unable to give any definite statement as to when this will take place. The inquest will be held September 25, and the chief inspector of mines intimated the department would be represented.

WEEK-END GIFTS INCREASE SIZE OF RELIEF FUND

Princeton, B.C., Sept. 15.—Relief for the widows, orphans and dependents of the forty-five miners killed in the terrible halocaust at Blakeburn, August 13, had climbed to $15,032.59 when the weekly official tally was rung up at headquarters, Princeton, Thursday evening.

This represents only amounts actually reported and checked, and there is no doubt there will be a considerable sum in addition, as some of the reports to hand are a week old, and several known amounts have not been reported.

VALUATION FOR DUTIES IS EXPLAINED

ket value for duty of goods imported and subject to Ad Valorem duty, and goods imported, the prices of which are published or listed by the manufacturers, producers or persons acting on their behalf, the allowance of discounts, and the valuation of imports prejudicially or injuriously effecting Canadian producers."

The government now proposed to extend this provision to all products

FRUIT CHANGES

The recent revision in the values for duty purposes applying to fruits and vegetables had resulted in a great deal of commendation and praise throughout the country, the minister said. The only objection which had come to the notice of the government, he said, had been from "canners who have been buying American fruit."

"They will be required," he said, "so long as they can get Canadian products at reasonable prices to avail themselves of them."

QUESTIONS BY EULER

Before the House resolved itself into committee, Hon. W. D. Euler, former Liberal Minister of National Revenue, asked Mr. Ryckman for an explanation of certain remarks he had made last Friday evening.

The Smith family went for a sail on the river. Mrs. Smith, gazing down at the waves, said to her husband: "If the ship went down, which would you rather save, the children or me?"

Smith: Me!

BENNETT MINISTRY CHOOSES INDUSTRIES FOR HIGHER TARIFF

tain government officials, the whole situation has been under study.

It is said the government hopes to permit no exploitation of the consumers or any one else behind the Canadian tariff wall.

It is stated the arguments the government will advance in support of its tariff changes will be the manufacturing of such goods as can and should be made in Canada, and equal opportunity and fair competition for Canadians, with a view to increasing employment among the workmen of the country.

DEBATE AWAITED

The big debate of this week will doubtless be on the tariff changes. The Liberals will probably hold a caucus and decide on their attitude after the proposals have been announced. So will the other groups sitting on the left of the Speaker. Many members of these groups, particularly representatives from low tariff constituencies of the prairies, are already giving this much thought and may attack the increases very vigorously.

With night meetings until 11 o'clock every night and Saturday sittings, it is thought the session may be concluded by the end of this week and the Prime Minister be able to catch his ship sailing for England September 23. That would bring him to London in time for the opening of the Imperial Conference.

Principles of Safety

In the investment field certain well-defined principles must be followed, though these may be adapted to individual needs as to income, maturity, etc.

It is advisable that the average investor lay his case frankly before experienced investment counsel and be guided by his judgment. This is the safe course.

The facilities of our Bond Department are placed freely at the disposal of anyone who requires such counsel.

HIGH FLIGHT

© 1928 By NEA Service, Inc. BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR of "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" "LOVE FOR TWO" etc.

It was only after she had come to the end of her narrative that she remembered Alester's answer to Leontine's question about her residence. She wondered if she had said too much. And Leontine could get no more information from her.

Leontine had been sitting by her. "Well," she said, getting up. "I hope nothing will keep you from coming to my party. It's my birthday."

Suddenly she lifted an arm and drew Jerry's attention to an inch-wide bracelet that she had put on since coming upstairs. "Alester gave me this last year," she said boastfully. And then, looking curiously at Jerry, "He's very generous, but I suppose you know that."

Jerry flushed.

"He's been very generous in settling for the damage his plane did," she said coldly.

She more than suspected now that Leontine was a first class gold digger. "If she thinks she can put me in that class she's mistaken," Jerry told herself.

Leontine smiled secretly over Jerry's obvious resentment. She had wanted to make it difficult for Alester to see that Jerry was properly gowned for the party. If Jerry came, looking like a frump. . .

Leontine believed she had scored a trick.

CHAPTER VIII

On the drive back to camp from the Rolling Stone Inn Alester asked Jerry to go with him to Leontine's party.

Jerry scarcely knew what to say. She wanted to go . . . she'd never been to a real party where the men wore evening clothes and the women had on low cut dresses. Moreover she thought it would be ungracious on her part to refuse unless she had a real reason for not wishing to go.

Alester had surprised her with his unexpected solicitude when she came down from Leontine's room. Jerry had begun to suspect him of being self-centred. But he showed such concern all through dinner, which was served quickly when Jerry expressed a desire to get back and see if Myrtle and George were waiting for her, that she reversed her opinion.

"I'm thoroughly ashamed of my thoughtlessness," he told her when they were in the car. Jerry wondered for a moment if Dan Harvey had said anything to him about her condition while she was upstairs with Leontine. Dan was not there when she and Leontine came down and no one spoke of him.

"Well, will you come?" Alester pressed, referring to Leotine's party.

"Why . . . I . . . I don't know," Jerry stammered. Inwardly she was asking herself why she was being such a fool. Of course she'd go. Wasn't it just what she's been planning for? Better, even.

Alester read an entirely erroneous interpretation into her reluctance to answer. Her costume! He believed that was troubling her.

"Of course I know you must have lost most of your wardrobe when your tent was torn to pieces," he said, to afford her a pretext for accepting an evening outfit from him.

He doubted if she'd ever owned an evening dress—Myrtle had gratuitously informed him of their connection with Pane's department store—but he could not crudely offer to buy her one, he understood.

"You must let me replace everything you lost," he went on. "It's bad enough to have made you suffer without putting you to any financial loss."

Jerry searched his face before replying, as well as she could without betraying her doubt of his sincerity. He must surely know that she hadn't lost much, she thought. And what he already had paid Myrtle was too much. She had not set out to be a petty grafter. She must put him right about that.

"My clothes are in New York," she said simply; "but I don't think Miss Lebaudy really wants me at her party."

"Nonsense!" Alester exclaimed impatiently. "But it's only semi-private anyhow and I want you there."

There was conviction in his voice and he dropped his right hand from the wheel to reach for one of hers. Jerry let him hold it.

Before they reached the camp he stopped the car in a dark spot at the side of the road and put an arm along the seat at Jerry's back. She stiffened nervously.

"What's the matter, afraid?" he teased. Jerry regretted having let him hold her hand. It always led to greater familiarity. She had discovered that long ago. She wasn't surprised at what he did, but she hadn't expected Alester Carstairs to cover his acts with the same sort of banter and chaff that boys of her class employed.

"No," she said coolly; "I'm not afraid, because you are going to stop right now or I'll get out and walk the rest of the way."

"But you know," he said in an injured tone, "I'd love to kiss you . . . Jerry."

Her name slipped softly from his lips and Jerry thought for an instant that it might be nice to let him kiss her. It was only for an instant, however. The temptation disappeared almost as soon as it had come.

But the brief instant startled her. She wasn't in love with him. What had made her think that kissing would be nice? It had always been wholly repugnant to her before when one of the boys had tried to paw her or possess her lips.

"Take me home," she said, so sharply that Alester obeyed her in silence.

It was a new experience to him to have his caresses refused. Why in thunder did he want to waste his time on a little prude like this girl!

Jerry was sorry for her temper before they reached camp. As far as she knew there was no reason why they shouldn't kiss each other if they wanted to. She needn't have acted as if he'd insulted her.

She smiled up at his glowing countenance so beseechingly that Alester glimpsing her expression from the corner of his eye, was somewhat mollified.

"Sorry?" he asked.

"Not exactly," Jerry returned demurely. "I don't want you to be angry, but I don't pet and I don't like to be kissed."

Alester ground on the brakes and the car came to a stand-still before the house she was camping in.

"You're either an awful little fraud or you're a girl in a million," he said, turning to face her.

"I don't think I'm either," she returned, flushing. "There are lots of girls who wouldn't pet if they didn't think they had to or not have any boy friends at all."

Alester smiled.

"Well, how about you? Have you found the exception among us?"

"I haven't any boy friends," Jerry said directly.

"Because you wouldn't pet?" Alester quizzed her

"Because I . . . had other things to think about," Jerry evaded.

"A career, perhaps?"

Jerry hesitated over her answer.

"Yes," she said slowly, "a career to be successful."

Alester, too, paused a while.

"Well, it's lucky for you, Jerry my girl," he said, "that you're so confoundedly attractive. People won't climb for the highest fruit unless it's tempting. Some of the little ladies have to make a play for their happiness if they're to get it."

Jerry sighed.

"Happiness," she repeated. "Is there such a thing?"

"Stop it," Alester begged. "You're getting me groggy. I thought that no one but our burned-out modern youth ever got bored with life."

"I'm not bored," Jerry denied. "I dream of thrills, but I don't believe in happiness the way most people think of it."

"Well," Alester said, "I do. I'm happy to see that your friends have departed for the wicked city if the absence of all signs of life hereabouts means anything. Shall we follow or could I entice you to sit on yonder porch and delve deeper into this fascinating subject?"

Jerry laughed.

"I must go to town," she said.

"Can't you 'phone a message to Miss Crane to bring what you want? Then we could go for a moonlight sail—there's just wind enough," Alester coaxed.

"Gee, that would be great," Jerry cried, forgetting how tired she'd been and that she was trying not to say, "Gee."

She knew it wasn't an elegant expression but force of habit was strong and she had grown up with the word.

"Get in," Alester said, motioning toward the roadster. "We'll go some place and telephone. Then I'll drive you back here to wait and I'll go over to the boathouse for the Sprite. I'll send a man ashore for you in the dingey."

Less than half an hour later they were back. Myrtle, engaged in packing her own things when Jerry telephoned, had promised to bring out what she wanted.

"Have you a warm sweater?" Alester asked before he left her. "You know I believe you're being uppish with me. It's only fair to let me replace what my plane destroyed."

"You can lend me a sweater tonight," Jerry appeased him.

"Wait for the dingey down by the water," he called from the roadster as he tore down the old driveway.

It was only after he was gone that Jerry realized he might have taken her with him if—if he had wanted to take her to his home! The boathouse was at Carmoor, of course.

Suddenly, waiting for him at the water's edge seemed questionable to her. Why, it was just like waiting for a man on a street corner. Some boys didn't know better than to ask a girl to do that, she told herself. But Alester Carstairs did.

Myrtle had warned her, she remembered. Well, if he had an idea that she was cheap. . . .

Jerry's unpleasant reflections were interrupted by a sound on the highway. It was not a familiar sound, in a sense, but when Jerry looked in the direction whence it came she couldn't have told whether she was pleased at what was revealed to her, or whether she was vexed about it.

BUSINESS MAN IS OPTIMISTIC

M. P. Tuteur of Premier Vacuum Co. Thinks B.C. Is in Fine Shape

On Saturday evening M. P. Tuteur, managing director of the Premier Vacuum Cleaner Company Limited, entertained the British Columbia executives and the Vancouver sales force at dinner at the Georgia Hotel. Among those present were W. P. Thornhill, provincial manager, and other executives from Vancouver and Victoria.

Mr. Tuteur, in the course of a short speech, said: "We are passing through troublous times, and during such a period we hear rumors—mostly, be it said, unfounded—of terrible distress and worse to come. Just what is the actual situation? During the last few months I have visited the Maritime Provinces, the Province of Quebec, and most of the principal towns in Ontario. I found the Maritime Provinces much more prosperous than they were last year; Quebec, it is true, not so prosperous as in 1929, but with few unemployed and a steadily rising standard of living; Ontario, grousing, of course, that 1930 was not proving as satisfactory as 1929, but taken as a whole, more prosperous than in 1928. As a matter of fact, our sales at the Canadian National Exhibition at the time I left, were in excess of last year's sales, which were a record.

CANADA WELL OFF

"I have also visited in the last few months a number of centres in the United States, and what I have seen has convinced me more and more how fortunate we are to be living in this great Dominion. The distress in the United States is unquestionably serious, and compared to it we are well off. Further, it must be remembered that there is a general world depression, and from my correspondence in Europe and elsewhere, it would seem to me that perhaps with the exception of France, we are in a more satisfactory condition regarding employment and the situation generally than any other country in the world.

"I am very glad to find that British Columbia is going ahead faster than ever, with a wonderful building programme, and its Oriental trade increasing almost weekly. You have what is fast becoming the greatest seaport on the Pacific Coast, and I can tell you from my own observation that British Columbia is, industrially, in a better condition than any other place I have visited since my last visit here.

"It is a real delight for me to congratulate you, gentlemen, on having actually bettered 1929 in your sales in British Columbia to date, which in itself is an indication of the situation of the province, and I know that you will be as interested to hear it as I am proud to tell you, that our factory in Toronto has not laid off a single man, that on the contrary we expect to add to our staff in the fall months."

Removing a Label

When the piece of material has a paper label on it do not wet the cloth to remove it, but draw the cloth in a bias direction, first one way and then the other. This will soon loosen the label so that it can be removed without injury to the fabric.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Tangled Toad

(Copyright, 1930).

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Come on, Buster, let's go have a swim!" cried Custer.

"Oh, Tingle!" shouted her twin sister Tangle. "Let's go gather some seaweed and make a bed for our dolls!"

"I'm going to see if any big lobster is waiting to pinch Uncle Wiggily," said Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit.

Then, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily came hopping around the corner of his hollow stump bungalow and called to the rabbit children:

"What's this about going swimming and gathering seaweed and looking for lobsters? You forget that this is Monday morning and you must go visit the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School. Hurry now!"

"Oh, dear!" sighed Buster, Custer, Tingle, Tangle and Baby Bunty.

They had hopped out of bed early and, for a moment, they imagined they were still at the seashore, where they had spent such a jolly vacation. But, instead, they were back home in Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains. Vacation was over; school had started and they must go to the Lady Mouse.

"Well, anyhow, we'll have some fun!" said Baby Bunty as they ate the breakfast which Nurse Jane Fuzzy set out for them.

She gave the geranium a drink.

Mrs. Longears looked at the big seashell which Uncle Wiggily had brought back from the shore to ornament the bungalow front porch and she was glad they were back home for the fall and winter, though she liked the seashore very much. The rabbit girls looked at their pretty red coral beads and the rabbit boys clinked their red coral marbles which Uncle Wiggily had found for them on the beach. Soon all the rabbit children were hurrying to school.

"Where are you going, Wiggy?" asked Mrs. Longears of her husband as she gave the red geranium plant a drink of water, for it was thirsty. The rabbit gentleman had started to hop down the path after the many rabbit children. Surely you aren't going to school?"

"Well, I thought I would sort of hop along and make certain none of our bunny boys and girls forgot to go see the Lady House Teacher," said Mr. Longears with a twinkle of his sunburned nose, which was quite red instead of pink. "You see it has been so long since Baby Bunty and the others said any lessons that they might forget to keep on going to school and they might, accidentally, wander off."

"Yes, perhaps it will be just as well for you to make sure they get to school," said Mrs. Longears with a laugh. "And give Miss Mouse my love if you see her."

"I will," promised Uncle Wiggily, and then he hopped away up hill and down hill, watching, from afar, his bunny boys and girls hurrying to school. Once they were started they did not wander away. Uncle Wiggily was almost at the school when, all of a sudden, down in a little green hollow, he heard a voice crying:

"Help! Help! Help!"

"Dear me! I wonder what's the matter?" thought the rabbit. "If some one needs help I must go to them."

"Better be careful, Uncle Wiggily," warned a little red ant lady.

"Why so?" asked the rabbit.

"That might be one of the Bad Chaps crying for help just to fool you," said the little red ant lady.

"Help! Help! Help!" again called the voice.

"That isn't a Bad Chap!" said Uncle Wiggily quickly. "It sounds like some little fellow. I'll go see!" he hopped farther down in the green hollow and then, all at once, he saw a little tangled toad boy. The toad was caught in the loops, twists and snarls of a honeysuckle vine. Strands of the vine were so tangled round the toad's legs that he couldn't hop, and the more he jumped the worse he was tangled.

"How did it happen?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh," said the toad boy, "I was taking a short cut to school, so I wouldn't be late, and I hopped this way, and I slipped and fell in the vine and then I got all tangled up and I couldn't get loose."

"I'll help you," offered the rabbit gentleman. "It would be too bad to be late for school the first day." Then, with his sharp teeth, Uncle Wiggily gnawed the vine here and he gnawed the vine there until he had broken it loose from the toad boy's legs and the little chap could hop on to school. He got there just as the first bell was ringing so he wasn't late. And all the bunny children were there so they weren't late. Then they all said: "Good morning, dear teacher!" and school had begun. Uncle Wiggily was glad he had helped untangle the toad. And if the gas stove doesn't try to creep upstairs and get the wallpaper all black, I'll tell you a story about Uncle Wiggily and the jumping Fox.

Modernistic Manner

You can get original design and very unusual color combinations of color if, instead of painting a hanging book shelf one tone you pour on five or six colors, letting them blend and run together. It is entirely up to chance what kind of a design you get but it is apt to be a fascinating picture, whatever it is.

Horoscope

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1930

Good and evil planetary influences seem to be in the balance to-day, according to astrology.

The day is not auspicious for financial deals or for negotiations with banks. It is wise to delay important initiative.

Under this planetary government the newspapers are likely to offer startling rumors of international importance.

The sway is supposed to stimulate the imagination and the perceptive faculties. Foresight should be keener than usual.

Writers should be careful in offering their work while this configuration lasts. Editors and publishers are likely to be hypercritical and exacting.

The rule of the stars is read as encouraging envy and jealousy, also a love of pleasure and a desire for luxuries.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year that may bring perplexities, and both young and old persons may be troublesome.

Children born on this day probably will be sensitive and high strung. The subjects of this sign are unusually interested in their fellow men; they are intensely active, as a rule.

James J. Hill, railroad president, was born on this day, 1838; also Charles Croker, 1822, capitalist; and Francis Parkman, 1823, historian.

THE Mrs. Jones we're talking about is the sort of woman who, in spite of only moderate means, is always well dressed . . . whose home is furnished with exquisite, though not extravagant, taste . . . whose table is frequently graced with some appetizing new food product . . . whose housekeeping equipment, kitchen requisites, toilet accessories, all seem to have been chosen with rare good judgment.

Mrs. Jones is an observant woman. A well-informed woman. A keen judge of values. A careful buyer . . . She reads the advertisements in her favorite newspaper.

Whatever is new or improved in the realm of merchandise, Mrs. Jones most likely knows all about it . . . She reads the advertisements. Whatever store is putting on an unusual sale, Mrs. Jones has probably heard about it. . . . She reads the advertisements.

Middle-aged Women Grouches Unwanted

Why Happy Young Women Win

Employment and Love Problems of Women over 40 Would Be Solved by Disposition of Good Sportsmanship—Happiness Effort of Youngsters Is Always Rewarded

WHAT'S the matter with the middle-aged woman? Everywhere you meet her, whether in the home or in business, she is rending the air with her wails of despair. Everything is wrong in this worst of all possible worlds, where, to hear her tell it, everybody and everything is waiting to hand a dirty dig to a woman as soon as she gets in her forties.

Therefore, she beats upon her breast and cries out that she is discriminated against in business and that employers won't hire any but young and pretty girls and that a man would rather have a flapper who can't spell c-a-t if she has a peaches-and-cream complexion than a middle-aged woman who is an unabridged edition of the Century Dictionary. Or she moans out that she has been a perfect slave for her children, and look how they treated her, going off and getting married just when they had begun to be companions to her. Or her husband doesn't seem to take any interest in her any more. Or some vamp has taken him away from her and, anyway, nobody wants to bother with a woman after she loses her youth and good looks. Hence these tears. Boo-hoo! Boo-hoo!

It is not vanity that makes middle-aged women keep the road to the beauty shop hot nor that causes them to starve themselves into anemia trying to preserve a girlish figure nor that makes them lie about their ages and remain a stationary thirty-eight for years and years. It is the conviction that once they get into the forties they are sunk and there is no hope for them.

Now, in reality, what ails the middle-aged woman is neither her age nor her looks. It is her disposition. After all, a woman's birthdays are a purely personal matter and one in which the balance of the world has little interest. Nor are we exacting in the matter of beauty. If she is neat and well-groomed and knows how to buy her clothes and is sufficiently pulchritudinous not to make us cross-eyed when we look at her, it is all that we ask.

But we do require pleasantness of those with whom we are daily associated. We want jolly people about us. We want smiles and gaiety and high spirits. We want those who can take life as it comes and shrug away its little vexations and disappointments and meet its vicissitudes with a smile. We want those who can laugh it off, not those who sit down and howl to heaven over every pin prick. And this the middle-aged woman can seldom do. Taking her by and large, she is the champion complainer of the universe.

It is because she is weighted down with woe and not because she has lost her complexion that handicaps her in business. For if a census of office Lotharios could be compiled it would be negligible. Making money and making love cannot be done at one and the same time and the great majority of employers are too much occupied in business hours with pursuing the elusive dollar to give even a thought to chasing skirts. Probably not one man in fifty could give an accurate enough description of his secretary to identify her in case she was lost.

But what he does notice about her and the thing that makes a hit with him is her spirit, whether she takes things in a sportsmanlike way and makes the best of them, whether she is bright and happy and keen about her work or whether she is sour and depressed-looking and apparently regards herself as a persecuted martyr for having to work at all.

And only too often this is the difference in attitude between the young girl and the middle-aged woman. And it goes a long way toward explaining why inefficient youth gets the job instead of experienced age. Men have a constitutional aversion to melancholy ladies and would rather put up with the mistakes of a giggler than listen to the grumbling of an efficiency expert. A man who employs many women who was asked not long ago why he gave the preference to young girls replied at once:

"It is because middle-aged women complain too much. Nothing ever quite suits them. They complain because out office isn't run just like some office was that they worked in. They complain about their desks and about their typewriters. They complain about the light and about somebody having a window open or somebody having it shut. They complain that the young girls get all the breaks. They complain that some man whom they are under hasn't got Chesterfieldian manners and that he keeps his hat on when he dictates to them or he smokes and they cannot abide tobacco. And if they have a woman superior, God help us all, they complain of everything she does and doesn't do.

"A middle-aged woman complains of a thousand things and has a thousand grievances that a girl just takes as part of the day's work and never even notices. That is why I employ girls. I have troubles enough of my own without being bothered with my employees."

Nor is this tendency to complain over her lot confined to the middle-aged business woman. The domestic woman is just as bad. It is the rarest thing in the world to find a woman in the forties who hasn't a secret sorrow that she tells to everyone she meets.

And here again is where youth scores, for the young women are getting a kick out of their homes and their babies and are kidding their husbands about their faults and shortcomings, while the middle-aged women are grouching about how hard they have to work and how much they have sacrificed to their children and are weeping over their husbands not being the fairy princes they thought they were marrying.

And it is this peevish, complaining attitude of the middle-aged wife that goes a long way toward explaining why a husband leaves home in search of livelier companionship.

So, ladies, if you want to keep your husbands and your jobs snap out of your grouching. It is just as easy to laugh as it is to cry and there is more percentage in it.

Up-to-date Safeguards Make It Improbable That Hospitals Ever Get Babies Mixed

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

At least once in every three or four years the public is startled by publicity relative to the charge that the infants born under hospital conditions have been confused through some error in hospital technic and that the parents have been presented at their departure from the institution with the offspring of some other family.

It is doubtful that this accident ever occurs in any modern hospital, since the methods that have been devised for controlling the situation are as sound as any human achievement. The method most frequently used involves the writing of the mother's name on a piece of adhesive tape, which is then fastened to the back of the baby. This tape is put on the child as soon as it is born.

One of the difficulties with the use of the tape is the fact that it may become soiled or detached in washing. At the same time that the tape is put on the baby a second piece of tape similar to the first is attached to the wrist of the mother.

Another method involves the use of a necklace of beads made up of the letters of the child's name, this being put around the child's neck and clamped immediately after birth. In some institutions footprints of the child are made immediately after birth, and these footprints are part of the record of the child's birth and of its weight. Of course, the record of the weight of the child constitutes a method of identification, since the weight curves of the individual are usually distinctive.

A Boston physician has recently suggested the use of army aluminum identification disks which are punched on opposite ends and are stamped in between the serial numbers. At the time of birth the name of the mother is put on the back of each disk. When the child is born one of the disks is fastened to the infant and the other to the mother. The disks bear duplicate serial numbers. Any time the baby is brought to the mother she can compare her serial number with that of the baby and make sure she has the right infant.

Unfortunately, scientific medicine has not discovered any means of study of the blood which is quite certainly an identification of paternity. It is possible in some cases to prove that a certain man could not possibly be the father of the child, but this is dependent on a determination of blood groups and in some instances all of the persons involved seem to belong to the same group, rendering the test impractical.

LEATHER EXPORTS

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—A demand for leather in China within the near future which should open a market for Canadian manufacturers has been reported to the Department of Trade and Commerce by L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Shanghai. The disorderly condition of China and the continued decrease in the price of silver have resulted in the denuding of the stocks in leather throughout the country and heavy replacements will soon be required.

Around the Docks

The Blue Funnel liner Protesilaus from ports in China and Japan is expected at Race Rocks at daybreak to-morrow. After passing the William Head quarantine station, the Protesilaus will dock at Rithet piers about 7 o'clock. There are Chinese steerage passengers and a general cargo for Victoria.

AT OGDEN POINT

After lying idle at the Ogden Point piers since Saturday at noon, work commenced this morning on the loading of 1,000,000 feet of lumber aboard the freighter San Simeon for Atlantic Coast ports. King Brothers, who are handling the ship, expect to clear her late to-morrow night for Vancouver to complete her cargo.

FROM ALASKA

Returning from her first trip of the fall season, the C.P.R. coast steamer Princess Louise, will reach Victoria to-morrow from northern British Columbia and Alaska ports. She will take a special sailing from Victoria to Seattle to-morrow night with members of the Kiwanis Club of the Sound port and on Wednesday night will sail from Vancouver for another trip to the north.

RETURNED TO-DAY

After spending Sunday sightseeing in Victoria, 150 members of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association returned to Vancouver this morning aboard the Canadian National steamer Prince Henry, which left the harbor at 8.30 o'clock. Local officials of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National greeted the visitors yesterday and showed them around Victoria.

OUT WEDNESDAY

With a large list of passengers, the Canadian-Australian motorliner Aorangi will be in Victoria for a few hours on Wednesday evening on her way from Vancouver to Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney. She will sail from Vancouver at noon, and arriving here at 5.30 o'clock will put to sea from the Rithet piers about 8 o'clock in the evening.

FROM MONTREAL

The Canadian National steamer Canadian Planter is now approaching this port from Montreal, Quebec and Three Rivers. The local freight office expects her at the Ogden Point piers late Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning with 150 tons of general cargo.

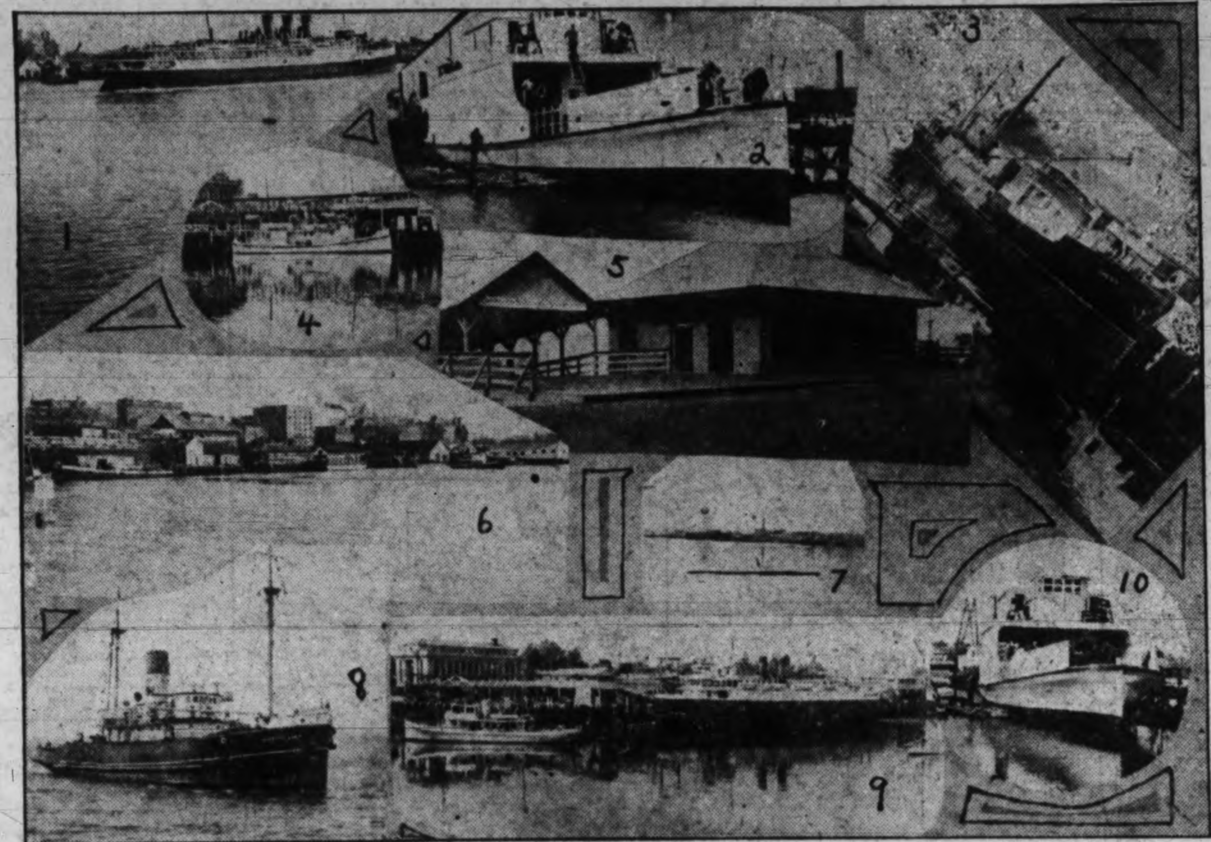
LEAVING TO-NIGHT

King Brothers, local shipping agents, expect to clear the Japanese motorship Yahiko Maru from Rithet piers to-night after workers complete loading 635,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber aboard for Japanese ports. The Yahiko Maru, with her white-painted masts, and tiny funnel, has attracted a good deal of attention over the week-end.

ALASKA-BOUND

With a capacity cargo of freight, including coal, explosives and general, the C.P.R. coast freighter Princess Ena is now bound for Skagway. The other coast freighter, the Nootka, is still plying in the fish trade between West Coast ports and Vancouver. Both ships will shortly return to Victoria to tie up for the winter months.

Around the Inner Harbor Docks With a Camera



The inner harbor of Victoria provides a lot of interest for those who like browsing along its shores and visiting the old wharves and docks that stretch from the Causeway up to the lumber mills beyond the Point Ellice Bridge. Numerous little tugs and small freight boats steam around from dock to dock, barges and scows of lumber and coal are continually being moved from place to place while at the lower end trim pleasure yachts and big passenger ships steam in and out. The other day a member of The Times staff took a camera and went along the waterfront. The results of his efforts are seen in the above lay-out. (1) The Princess Marguerite steaming out of the inner harbor on her daily afternoon run to Seattle. (2) A view of the new ferry motorship Cy Peck, formerly the Island Princess, which is being rebuilt at the Point Hope shipyards for J. S. H. Matson. (3) The Shean, B.C. Cement Company's boat unloading cargo at the Evans, Coleman and Evans pier. (4) Capt. J. W. Troup's trim pleasure craft, Cruiser. (5) The new Canadian National waiting-room and gangway entrance behind the Post Office building. (6) A View of the waterfront from the Johnson Street bridge. (7) The Industrial Reserve. (8) The Pacific Salvage Company's steamer Salvage King returning to the harbor after a deep-sea job. (9) The habor basin, showing John Graham's magnificent yacht, Blue Peter, of Seattle, and the ferry steamer Iroquois of the Pugt Sound Navigation Company. (10) Another view of the Cy Peck, which, when completed, will be commissioned on a new run between Saanichton and Salt Spring Island.

President Cleveland To Dock Here Friday

With 254 passengers, 2,640 bags of mail and Oriental cargo, the American Mail liner President Cleveland is due in Victoria Friday evening from Japan, China and the Philippines.

The passengers include Mrs. H. G. Anderson, wife of the vice-president of the Manila Hotel Company; A. A. Bryan of the Lawyers' Co-operative Publishing Company of Manila and Mrs. Bryan; Albert B. Roosa of H. E. Heacock & Co., Manila jewelers; Mrs. Charlotte E. Heilbronn, wife of the president of Heilbronn & Co., paper dealers of Manila; Capt. C. C. Gill, United States Marine Corps, and Mrs. Gill; Norman F. Xaquier, district manager for the Texaco Company at Shanghai; Dr. Hugh M. Smith, adviser to the Siamese government; Lieut. Mark H. Crouter, U.S.N.; Hwa Lei Fong, delegate from Kweichow province to the Good Roads Congress; the Rev. Robert Hammon, Catholic missionary from Hunan province, and Capt. F. R. Armstead, United States Marine Corps, and family.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Sept. 15.—The Matson liner Wilhelmina, which for some time has been on the direct run between Honolulu and Seattle and Portland, is in this harbor being reconditioned to replace the Malolo on the San Francisco-Honolulu run while the Matson flagship is making her annual cruise around the Pacific.

The Wilhelmina underwent a thorough overhauling last week in drydock. She will sail for the islands Wednesday.

The ship Star of Alaska, last of the old sailing fleet of the Alaska Packers' Association, arrived from the salmon fisheries today, and, after unloading, will join her sisters of the gallant old fleet and be laid up. In the future the packers' business will be handled only by steam vessels.

With canned goods, beans, dried fruits and nuts beginning to move from California, intercoastal cargo offerings are beginning to tax the capacity of the lines in the trade, shipping operators reported here Saturday.

Up to ten days ago, the eastbound movement had been far below normal. The period of heavy offerings will continue for ninety days, operators predicted. The westbound movement, while still at a low level, is showing a tendency toward improvement, shipping executives said.

Effective with her present trip, the Shinyo entered the "intermediate liner" classification. The vessel is a cabin liner, but rates are lower than those on the newer Japanese liners such as the Asama Maru, Tatsuta Maru and Chichibu Maru.

Princess Louise To Make Special Trip To Seattle

To accommodate delegates of the Kiwanis Club of Seattle who wish to return home in time for business Wednesday morning, the steamer Princess Louise will make a special trip from Victoria to Seattle, leaving the Belleville Street piers after the convention ball at the Empress Hotel to-morrow evening.

The Louise will sail from Seattle direct to Vancouver on Wednesday to take her scheduled trip to Alaska from the mainland port at 9 o'clock Wednesday night. The Louise is now southbound from Alaska and will arrive here to-morrow afternoon.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Sept. 15.—Under charter for the Canadian-American Shipping Company, the Malmo, a refrigerator ship, will arrive in Seattle about October 20 to load apples, wheat and general cargo for the European trade.

Her insulated space, capable of storing 150,000 boxes of apples, is already entirely booked, agents for the operators said. General cargo and 5,000 tons of wheat will complete her loadings on the Sound.

Capt. A. P. Jochimsen, dangerously ill, was being rushed to Nome, Alaska, from the Siberian Arctic aboard his motorship Karise to-day, local headquarters of the Swenson Fur Trading Company were informed. The Karise, one of the Swenson fleet, now is under command of Captain Thomas Nielson, first mate, who will bring the ship to Seattle after leaving Captain Jochimsen at a Nome hospital.

The new 9,000-ton liner Roseville, built in Odense, Denmark, arrived here on her maiden voyage to carry cargo between this coast and South China, the Dutch East Indies and the Straits Settlements on regular schedule with other units of the Klaveness Line.

She was piloted to Anacortes, north of here on Puget Sound, late Saturday by Captain Thomas Moore, where she will load.

Peril Of Sea Caused Loss To The Tahiti

Wellington, N.Z., Sept. 15.—A court of inquiry into sinking of the liner Tahiti recently off the Cook Islands to-day found that her loss was due to the peril of the sea, which no reasonable human care or foresight could have avoided. In the court's opinion the vessel was staunch and well founded, and the sinking was caused by the broken tail shaft puncturing the hull. Conduct of officers and crew was praised highly.

RACE FLEET SMALLER THAN ON SATURDAY

Fewer Craft Follow Shamrock and Enterprise To-day Than at First Contest

Strength of Breezes and Comparison of Yachts' Canvas Much Discussed

By Associated Press Staff Writer

Newport, R.I., Sept. 15.—Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's green-hulled challenger for the America's Cup, and Enterprise, Harold S. Vanderbilt's defender, joined to-day in the second of the series of races for the historic trophy.

Shamrock V this morning remained essentially an unknown quantity. Saturday's race won by Enterprise, was sailed in a flukey breeze and it was impossible to state which reaped the greater advantage from the wind's fickleness.

British yachtsmen, too, are known to be very agreeable to sailing in a good stout breeze, and what they regard as a light air may be considered a very fair sailing breeze by United States skippers.

FLEET SMALLER

Enterprise's victory in the initial race Saturday did much to lessen interest in the international yachting classic. To-day the spectator fleet had noticeably dwindled from the armada which followed the racing yachts on Saturday. Many of Saturday's spectators were those who were not fortunate enough to be able to ignore the claims of trade and industry to-day and were forced to return to shop and office.

CANVAS COMPARED

Many who watched Shamrock's performance on Saturday were forced to revise estimates of her formed on reports that had filtered over ahead of her from British waters that she was a virtual water sprite in light airs. Her canvas seemed too heavy as compared with the gossamer wings of the United States defender. Often during the race Shamrock's head sails fluttered emptily while those of Enterprise billowed out smoothly.

Conditions Saturday were supposed to have represented Shamrock's own choice in weather. She had ghosted around local waters in the faintest of zephyrs before the series opened.

TRIANGULAR COURSE

Saturday the boats ran fifteen miles to leeward and returned. To-day they had to race around a thirty-mile triangular course, beginning at 10.40 a.m., E.S.T., (7.40 a.m. Victoria time)

INCREASE IN BRITISH COAL EXPORTS SOUGHT

London, Sept. 15.—For the first time in its history the British coal trade has, during the last few months, been associated with the government in evolving new marketing schemes and reconstructing the industry to obtain a greater share of the world's coal business. Now the mine owners have reported the practical completion of all schemes arranged under this year's Coal Mines Act.

An important mission, headed by Emmanuel Shinwell, secretary of mines, and consisting of representatives of mine owners and coal exporters, left over the week-end for Scandinavia, there to investigate the reasons for the decline in Britain's coal exports to Norway, Sweden and Denmark and to formulate plans for recovering the trade.

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.
